PERIOD OF DIVERSION STATEMENT

The Period of Diversion is the period in the calendar year when water is diverted, impounded, or withdrawn from the source. It is distinct from the Period of Use which is the period in the calendar year when water is put to a beneficial use. The two time periods may be the same, they may overlap, or they may be completely different. The Period of Diversion claimed must be the historical use of this water right claim. Historical use is the use made before July 1, 1973.

The historical period of diversion for claim _____ is:

Tell the Court how you know that is the historical period of diversion:

Under penalty of perjury, I/we declare that the period of diversion stated above is the historical period of diversion for the listed water right claim.
