GOVERNOR'S HERITAGE PROJECT

The Society proposes to develop four projects which will serve to enhance a statewide awareness of Montana's heritage through art and history. The Society's enabling legislation empowers it "to promote the study of Montana history by lectures and publications; to generally foster and encourage the fine arts and cultural activities in Montana; to receive for and on behalf of the State by donation or otherwise, art objects of any kind and description and to exhibit and circulate such objects in Montana and elsewhere". To accomplish this objective, the Society proposes the following program:

1. A traveling exhibition of mixed media art which will consist of the work of living Montana artists. All working artists will be invited to submit work. Pieces to be included in the exhibition will be selected by jurors. The exhibition will travel statewide to any institution able to provide adequate public space and security. One exhibition will be produced each year of the biennium. These exhibitions will be the only instances of "all Montana art exhibitions" and they will give Montana's artists badly needed public exposure and will give citizens an opportunity to appreciate the finest Montana can offer. Each year one piece from the exhibition will be given a "Governor's Purchase Award" and will be added to the State art collection.
2. The Society proposes to prepare "Jack Daw" packets on topics such as exploration, the fur trade, homesteading, ranching, mining, lumbering and transportation for use as a curriculum supplement in junior high schools. These packets will contain facsimilies of documents, photographs, drawings and explanatory material pertinent to each topic. These materials will satisfy a need for teaching materials on Montana social studies and will make the Society's resources, which are unique, substantial and available no where else, available to schools. These resources have been collected and preserved so that they can be used in such an educational manner.

3. Roadside History Booklet - This booklet will satisfy a need identified by both the Montana Historical Society and the Travel Promotion Unit. History, for many, happened in school or in books. Seldom do we really relate events to places which we see. We propose to develop a booklet which will relate the history of our state to places which we see. The Roadside History will contain notes on historical events and historic sites encountered along major and secondary Montana highways. Where possible, the booklet will also contain photographs or illustrations of significant events which occurred in the area described. The Travel Promotion Unit has surprising statistics gathered in a recent survey which suggest that potential tourists do not think of Montana as having significant historical or cultural attractions. This booklet will enhance our own appreciation of our state and will encourage exploration of it and it also will serve as a powerful tool for attracting outside visitors and encouraging them to stay and explore.
4. Oral history complements the written records which the Society has long collected and preserved. The Society, and many other organizations across the state, have begun projects to record memories on tape. The Society and the Montana Oral History Association conducted a survey one year ago to identify oral history projects in Montana. We propose to use the Society oral history collections, and those from other areas, as the basis for a series of radio public service spots and a booklet. The booklet and the broadcasts, which the Inter-Mountain Network will carry, will use the personal memories of Montanans to provide information on the lives and experiences of people which have contributed to the making of Montana. The booklet and broadcasts will also stimulate an interest in, and an awareness for, the need to preserve memories as a personal and integral part of our heritage.

Representative Chuck Cozzens
Montana House of Representatives
State Capitol
Helena, Mt. 59620

Dear Representative Cozzens:

The revised version of the Montana Heritage program consists of

1. traveling mixed media art exhibitions,
2. educational materials for use in schools
3. Roadside History Booklet, and
4. oral history project.

The heritage program will add 1.5 FTE to the historical society at a cost of $127,973 for the biennium.

The budget passed out of subcommittee includes an additional 5.75 FTE and $414,493 to finance modification that the subcommittee felt were of a higher priority than the Governor's heritage project.

The purpose of the heritage program is to enhance a statewide awareness of Montana's heritage through art and history. The state currently funds a number of activities that serve this purpose.

1. The historical society's present budget contains $150,000 over the biennium to support an educational outreach program. The outreach program consists of a traveling "foot locker" exhibit of artifacts from the historical society for use in curriculum development.

2. The arts council budget contains approximately $40,000 to finance touring professional artists (musicians, theater arts, and poetry).

3. The arts council budget contains $26,100 general fund and approximately $220,000 federal and local funds to finance the artists in the schools program.

4. The long-range building committee approved the expenditure of approximately $641,000 from the coal severance tax for cultural and aesthetic projects. These projects include $51,000 for the Montana folklife project, $21,600 for the University of Montana Repertory Company, $90,000 for a project entitled Montanans at work.
