Please Note: These are summary minutes. Testimony and discussion are paraphrased and condensed.

Committee Business Summary:

Hearing: SB 76, HB 313
Executive Action: SB 76 DO PASS
HB 329 DO PASS AS AMENDED

HEARING ON SB 76Opening Statement by Sponsor:

SEN. SWYSGOOD said that SB 76 was a written request for the extension of the post-secondary education committee on policy and budget. Every session they ask for a continuance of the committee. The total cost of the bill is around $15,000 per biennium.

Proponents' Testimony:

SEN. JUDY JACOBSON said that it is time for the university system to undergo some changes.

Jeff Baker, Commissioner of Higher Education, said that the kinds of things that are discussed in the meetings are of major substance for higher education, such as enrollment management, the funding model, the changes to the funding model, and the restructuring of the system.

Opponents' Testimony: None.

Informational Testimony: None.

Questions From Committee Members and Responses:

REP. NORM MILLS asked Jeff Baker if the last post-secondary study committee put out any reports. Jeff Baker answered yes, there is a report that addresses the issues that were discussed and the recommendations that the committee made.

Closing by Sponsor:

SEN. SWYSGOOD said that the legislature requires a report of the committee. It is available from the legislative fiscal analyst.

HEARING ON HB 313Opening Statement by Sponsor:

REP. MATT BRAINARD said that the bill was an act changing the regular election day to the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of each year and requiring the school district trustees to be elected that day; requiring the election for approval of financing for a school district general fund budget to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June of each year, and limiting a school district to one general fund budget financing election each calendar year; requiring any annual election for a political subdivision, other than a municipality, to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of each year. The bill is an attempt to streamline the school election process and coordinate it with the primary and general elections. The bill sets the mill levy election to coincide with the regular primary day in June. As things now stand, the school budgets still cannot be decided on until after the last election which is sometimes in July. The other part of the bill deals with the trustee election. He proposed that the trustees be elected in the fall at the general election so they have more time on the job before having to jump into budgeting and contract negotiations. The additional sections are related to various elections normally scheduled on the regular school election day.

Proponents' Testimony:

Dick Motta, Missoula, said that the present law requires the school boards to prepare a resolution in February for their elections in April and at that time they can also plan three additional contingent elections in May, June and July. Normally those requests for elections are prepared on the basis of a dollar amount. In effect, the local taxpayer does not have any control over the amount of spending that is being incurred for schools. If the elections get changed for the school board officials they have sufficient time to learn the job and become aware of all the issues to be faced in the upcoming year. Another concern is that the school trustees will not be able to offer teaching contracts to the staff in May. There is no reason that they cannot offer a contract to the teacher or renew the contract.

Jay Sage, Missoula, handed in a letter from Wilma Sage, Informational Testimony. EXHIBIT 1 As a voter, he resents the fact that he has to go in four times to vote on the exact same issue. He feels that if he votes once, they should take the vote into consideration. He urged a do pass on the bill.

Elaina Ingraham, Missoula, said that the committee looks as if they are tired of hearing the same type of testimony day after day. She said she knows how they feel, but they should think about how the voters feel when they are given all the information, they go to all the committee meetings and all the hearings, they make their decision, and go to the ballot box and vote. If they vote "no", its not like the school tries to change things. They give them the exact same package that they gave the first time. After awhile it gets old and tiresome. One election will save money.

James Lofftus, President, Montana Fire District Association said that he is in favor of the bill as far as the two election dates, but is confused about the election of fire district trustees. He is also confused about the effective date when a school district trustee takes office. He feels that the law should be amended to make it all uniform.

Robert Throssell, Montana Association of Clerks and Recorders, said that the group is in favor of any legislation that will streamline the election process and save money. The Clerk and Recorders Association has some concerns about HB 313. One of the problems that is going to be raised by combining the school elections is that school district boundaries cannot necessarily coincide with the other election boundaries and there will be some confusion about where people go to vote. Because of the number of bills about elections, he feels that it is the part of the legislature to do something about elections. He thinks that a joint committee needs to be put together to work through the various bills to address the issues of timing and consolidation. The Montana Clerk and Recorders Association stands for the consolidation, but HB 313 will not do that.

Opponents' Testimony:

Don Waldron, Montana Rural Education Association, said that he represents schools that have only one election per year. They elect the trustees, they pass the levies and they go on with their business. Forcing them to two elections is wrong. In general, school elections are put out for a reason.

Linda Brannon, Montana Association for School Business Officials, said that the bill could lead to a lot more problems. If the levy goes down, then where are the cuts going to come from. Since 1989, schools have been in a turmoil with funding. There have been three separate funding changes since 1989. On page four the language on the ballot says the district taxpayer has two choices, they can vote for the budget authority in any levy or against it. If the school levy goes down, the taxpayer, with this language, would be able to say "whoa, you don't have any budget authority, I voted it down." With this bill the district may not be able to function. She urged a table motion until the bill was straightened out.

Michael Keedy, Montana School Board Association, said that they are a group of people that have the greatest respect for the rights and interests of taxpayers as well as other citizens, but they oppose the bill. The date change will create havoc for school trustees who are already faced with the legislative requirement that they give notice to all the school teachers by May 1st, whether their contracts are going to be renewed for the next fiscal year. This will be impossible for the school district if the levy election does not occur until June. He does not understand how a change in the levy date will increase the taxpayers' opportunity to participate in the school budgeting process.

Loran Frazier, School Administrators of Montana, said that if one mill levy is run and it fails then, there should be the responsibility to say no and then go back and make the cuts that need to be made. In the past they have been able to make those cuts in time so the present staff has enough time to look for another job.

Eric Feaver, Montana Education Association, said that bills just like HB 313 have been before the legislature for years and he hopes that it is understood how confusing it would be to try to ratchet school elections on to the elections of other regularly elected entities. He also wanted to emphasize that the 8,500 teachers would wonder what their disposition would be from one year to the next, if they were to not have a mill levy election until June when all of them must be notified by May 1st of either their renewal or non-renewal. He thinks that the bill if passed as it is written would cause serious dysfunction in the relationships of school teachers within the state. He passed out EXHIBIT 2. He brought to the attention of the committee all the school districts that were spending above 100% as defined by HB 667. Every one of the school districts must vote this spring for the first time, the difference between where they are this year and the requested 100%. They will have to do that every spring. He said that, by itself, is reason enough for allowing more than one election.

Larry Fasbender, Great Falls Public Schools, said that school board members spend a great deal of time working on school issues trying to do what is best for the students of the schools. This is something that should not be put in place if legislation is going to prevent them from doing their job. That is what HB 313 will do. A representative form of government works because they have the chance to vote on those people again at some later time. He hopes that they are allowed to exercise their responsibility under the current law.

{Tape: 2; Side: A; Approx. Counter: 000; Comments: .}

Terry Minow, Montana Federation of Teachers, spoke in opposition of HB 313. She emphasized the potential for harm contained in the section limiting school levy elections to one per year. In Anaconda and Butte they have both had a great deal of troubles passing mill levies. Both cities have seen hard times. Both cities have seen their tax base erode and both school systems have seen major cutbacks. School levy elections are one place taxpayers can vote directly on their taxes. When the state cuts its share of educational funding and shifts that responsibility onto the local property taxpayers, it is only natural that passing mill levies becomes extremely difficult. HB 313 removes school board control or removes local control over mill levy elections. She strongly urged a Do Not Pass recommendation.

Greg Burrington, taxpayer, said that the school vote is the only one that he gets to vote on. He cannot vote on the city, county or state budgets. He is fearful that if they only get to vote once, they have all their "eggs" in one basket. He would rather send the message to cut back in increments rather than lose the whole thing.

Informational Testimony:

Wilma Sage, Missoula, Written testimony. EXHIBIT 1

Joe Kerwin, from the Secretary of State's Office, said there were some ramifications of the bill that should be considered before amending the bill. There is talk of other districts that will be affected by the bill, not only school elections but the local court authority commissioner, fire district trustees, and hospital districts. There are no elections in June on odd-numbered years, so if the district took the option of having their elections in June there would still be the need to have a special election in June on odd-numbered years. The Secretary of State has jurisdiction over Title 13, but Title 20, school election laws, are handled by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. On the county level they are handled by school district clerks. Another consideration is the absentee ballots, for elections that are held in April or odd-numbered years in November absentee ballots have to be printed 20 days before the election. For state and county elections they have to be printed 45 days before the election to insure that members of the military will have the time to send the ballot in. The problem is the confusion of having two absentee ballots sent out to some voters.

Handouts passed out by REP. BRAINARD. EXHIBIT 3 & 4.

Questions From Committee Members and Responses:

REP. ALVIN ELLIS JR. asked Joe Kerwin if he knew the status of the other four bills, and do they resemble HB 313 at all. Joe Kerwin said that there are two that change the election date that are fairly similar to HB 313.

REP. DICK SIMPKINS asked Don Waldron if there are any other bodies that are authorized to run more than one election. Don Waldron said there are not. REP. SIMPKINS said that there was a statement made that schools over 100% need more than one election to explain the reason why they need more money. If there was only one election, wouldn't it be important for the schools to get their reasons together to explain what is needed, rather than vote for it three times. Don Waldron agreed with him, and thinks that it is the duty of the district to get out and sell what the trustees and administration do.

REP. SIMPKINS asked Linda Brannon what is wrong with having one election in April. She said that they would not be opposed to it, but she said that it would be a good idea to look at the history of why it is run like it is. She told the committee to keep in mind that this is the only governmental entity that goes to the taxpayers for its budget. The state, city or county does not have to.

REP. SIMPKINS asked Michael Keedy if the schools want local control or not. Mr. Keedy said that Montana School Board Association has been consistent about wanting local control.

REP. ELLIS asked Michael Keedy about the statement being made several times that the school elections are the only elections that we have, but do we have mill elections where schools don't ask for more money. It is only when they ask for additional money that elections are needed. Michael Keedy said yes. REP. ELLIS asked what happens in the case of a city or county that wants more money. Mr. Keedy said that in his understanding, in those budgeting processes, a board of county commissioners or a city council has to establish a proposed budget and have a hearing on their proposal and make adjustments as a result of those hearings, then impose a levy accordingly to raise the finances to support that budget, without any vote.

REP. GEORGE HEAVY RUNNER asked REP. BRAINARD how he envisions the public being involved in the budgeting process. He said that he is not sure that the bill is about that, as much as it is about having a budget for them to examine.

REP. SIMPKINS asked Michael Keedy what the best date for the one election would be. He said April.

Closing by Sponsor:

REP. BRAINARD closed by saying as they bring forth legislation like this they don't have total answers to all the problems they try to address. The proposals pose a question about how to address the problems. "A number of the opponents said that we seem to live with the best of all possible worlds, and that our system is more or less perfect. He said that in one sense it is because they have learned to live within that system and it is comfortable for them. But just because people are comfortable with their position, it doesn't mean that's the way things ought to be. One of the historic factors in elections is the fact that we were agricultural communities and in some parts of Montana we still are and the dates are still appropriate for those communities." Right now in the large urban areas those dates may or may not be appropriate. He said that he is not set on the date being the first Tuesday after the first Monday of June. It could be May or April.

He said that he would like to see some streamlining of the process and some attempt to save money. He does not believe that the present system is perfect and there are things that can be done and he suggested that there be a sub-committee to work on the bill. If the bill does not make it through the House Education Committee he wants it referred to the State Administration to be worked out with the other election bills.

"We have to address taxpayer alienation. If we continue to alienate people by what doesn't seem to be common sense in the way that we do things as lawmakers, how much more will the voter percentages drop off, how much more alienation will we have and how many of the school levies be turned down four times in a row. Setting a one time vote on the mill levy eliminates local control. They still have the opportunity to set their budgets as they see fit and propose them to the community."

EXECUTIVE ACTION ON SB 76

Motion: REP. DEBBIE SHEA MOVED SB 76 DO PASS.

Discussion: REP. HERRON said that he served on the committee and feels that it should keep going another term.

Vote: Motion carried unanimously.

EXECUTIVE ACTION ON HB 329

Discussion: REP. HEAVY RUNNER passed out the amendments to the bill and went over them with the committee. EXHIBIT 5. He also passed out EXHIBIT 6.

REP. ARNOTT asked of there was any way that the wording "or community college" would work instead of listing the names.

REP. HEAVY RUNNER said that was fine and asked Andrea Merrill if that would work.

Andrea Merrill said that it should say "state funded community college and tribally-controlled." Otherwise, there may be no recognition that tribally-controlled colleges could be included. So "state-funded" might suffice instead of listing the three community colleges.

B. HB 313

TO: Matt Brainard, District #62
FROM: Vickie M. Zeier, Clerk & Recorder/Treasurer
DATE: January 31, 1995
RE: Cost of School Elections

The following is an estimate of how much Missoula County has billed certain Schools for their school elections:

|----------------------|----------------------------------|
| Missoula High School | -- approx. $15,000 per election |
| School District #1 | -- approx. $10,000 per election |
| Bonner School Dist. | -- approx. $800 per election |
| Lolo School | -- approx. $600 per election |

The above mentioned schools print their own ballots, so the costs given do not include the costs of printing ballots. It is important to note that I have used figures from the April 5, 1994 election. Missoula County also conducted several special taxing district elections on that same date (rural fire districts, irrigation districts, etc.) Those taxing districts pay a portion of the election costs, just the same as the school districts; therefore, if a school were to run a separate election after the scheduled April election their costs will be higher.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at 721-5700 ext. 3234.

ATTENTION: BOB

Please deliver to: MATT BRAINARD
HOUSE DISTRICT #62

These are the figures you asked for from Ravalli County

|--------------|-------------------------------------|
| Corvallis | $450.00 |
| Darby | $730.00 |
| Hamilton | $779.30 |
| Florence | $200.00 |
| Stevensville | $500.00 (estimate) |
| Victor | $295.30 |
| Lone Rock | $300.00 (elementary district only) |
