(7) Disposing of Wildlife Stock.

(a) Those game animals, game birds, and fur bearing animals captured or taken from the wild, wildlife on loan from the department, and any progeny of the above shall not be sold and may be exported or exchanged only by permit issued by the department.

(b) Those game animals, game birds, and fur bearing animals lawfully obtained from a licensed game farm or fur farm within the state or lawfully obtained outside the state may be propagated, sold, exchanged, or donated only under authority of a game or fur farm permit issued by the department.

~~77~~ (8) Display of Permit and Standards (same).

~~78~~ (9) Insurance Required.

Avenue, Helena, Montana 59601. Written comments in order to be considered must be received by not later than the 24th day of December, 1977.

5. If any person directly affected wishes to express his data, views, or arguments orally or in writing at a public hearing, he must make a written request for a public hearing and submit this request, along with any written comments, to Mr. Wambach at the above stated address prior to the 24th day of December, 1977.

TO ALL INTERESTED PERSONS:

1. On the 27th day of December, 1977, the Department of Fish and Game proposes to amend Rule 12-2.18(1)-S1810 as follows (additions underlined, deletions interlined):

12-2.18(1)-S1810 REGULATIONS FOR CONSTRUCTION
AND MAINTENANCE OF FISH LADDERS

(1) The director shall, from time to time, examine all dams and other man-made obstructions, hereinafter merely referred to as dams, on all rivers and streams in this state naturally frequented by food and game fish, to determine if there is free passage for such fish over, around, or through said dams and report his findings to the commission. If, after reviewing said reports, the commission shall further determine that there is not free passage for fish over, around, or through any dam in this state, the commission shall cause plans to be prepared for a suitable fish ladder at said dam as near the main channel of the river or stream as practicable, and shall serve the same upon the owner or owners of said dam, hereinafter referred to as the owner, together with a demand in writing directing the owner to commence construction of such fish ladder on or before a date stated in said demand not less than ~~thirty~~ 430 days from the date of service thereof, and directing completion of such fish ladder to the satisfaction of the commission on or before a date stated in said demand and further informing the owner that such fish ladder must be installed, repaired, and maintained at owner's expense. ~~If the owner does not comply with said demand within the time therein set forth, the commission shall direct that appropriate legal action be brought in a court of this state to compel such construction.~~ with an adequate supply of water flowing over it, the commission shall serve demand upon the owner, directing such repair and maintenance as the commission deems necessary, and setting a date for the completion of such repair and maintenance.

(3) Commission hearing upon said demand for such construction, repair, and maintenance shall be ~~allowed upon request in the same manner as hereinabove provided in the case of demand for fish ladder construction~~, according to the Attorney General's Model Procedural Rules adopted by ARM Section 12-2.2(1)-P200.

2. The proposed amendment modifies Rule 12-2.6(1)-S630 found on page 12-53 of the Administrative Rules of Montana.

OF THE STATE OF MONTANA

IN THE MATTER OF THE AMENDMENT) NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT
OF RULE 24-3.8(30)-S8360) OR RULE 24-3.8(30)-S8360 SPECIFYING PROCEDURE FOR FACT) (Petition for Fact Finding) FINDING) NO PUBLIC HEARING CONTEM-) PLATED

TO: All Interested Persons

1. On or about December 27, 1977, the Board of Personnel Appeals proposes to amend rule 24-3.8(30)-S8360, which now requires this Board to submit a list of seven qualified, disinterested persons to act as fact finders when a request for a fact finder is submitted to this Board. The rule also requires that each party will strike three names and the remaining name will be the fact finder.

2. The amended rule would require this Board to submit a list of five names of qualified, disinterested persons, and the parties would be required to alternately strike two names, and the remaining name will be the fact finder. The rule as amended would read as follows:

(Factfinder) (a) Either party to a dispute may petition the Board to initiate fact-finding or the Board, if it is apparent that matters in disagreement might be more readily settled if the facts involved were determined and publicly known, may initiate fact-finding in accordance with Section 59-1614 (4), R.C.M. 1947.

(b) Within three days of receipt of a petition for fact-finding the board shall submit a list of five qualified, disinterested persons to each of the parties to the dispute.

(c) Within five days of receipt of the list the parties shall select a fact finder by having the petitioner strike two names and then the other party strike two names. The remaining name is that of the fact finder.

(d) The parties shall immediately notify the Board of the name of the fact finder. The Board shall notify the fact finder and request him to immediately establish dates and places of hearings.

(e) Within twenty (20) days from his notification by the Board the fact finder shall make written findings of fact and recommendations for resolution of the dispute. The findings shall be served on both parties and a copy sent to the Board.

(f) The fact finder may request the Board to make the report public five (5) days after the parties are served with the findings.

(g) Fifteen (15) days after the parties are served the Board shall provide that the report is open to public inspection.

(h) The fact finder shall submit his costs and fees to the Board which shall send copies of an invoice to both parties on which they will be billed for one-third (1/3) of the total. The parties shall pay the Board within five (5) days and the Board shall forward the total amount to the fact finder.

3. The Board of Personnel Appeals proposes the amendment in order for its rules to conform with the controlling statute, section 59-1614, R.C.M. 1947. Section 59-1614 was amended in 1975 changing the number of names this Board must submit for fact finding lists from seven to five, and changing the number of names which must be struck from three to two. This rule was never changed to conform with the amended, controlling statute.

4. Interested parties may submit their data, views, or arguments concerning the proposed amendment in writing to Jerry L. Painter, Staff Attorney, Board of Personnel Appeals, Box 202, Capitol Station, Helena, MT 59601. Written comments in order to be considered must be received by not later than December 26, 1977.

5. If a person directly affected desires to express his data, views, or arguments orally or in writing at a public hearing, he must make written request for a public hearing and submit this request along with any written comments he has to Mr. Painter on or before December 26, 1977.

6. If the Board receives requests for a public hearing on a proposed rule amendment from twenty-five or more persons directly affected, a public hearing will be held at a later date. Notification of parties will be made by publication in the Administrative Register.

7. The authority of the Board to make the proposed rule amendment is based on section 59-1613(4), R.C.M. 1947.

(9) MOTIONS. All motions other than those made during a hearing shall be made in writing and submitted to the board. They shall briefly state the relief sought, and shall be accompanied by affidavits setting forth the grounds upon which they are based. The moving party shall serve a copy of all motions on all other parties and shall file with the board the original with proof of service. Answering affidavits, if any, must be served on all parties and the original thereof, together with proof of service, shall be filed with the board within five days after service of the moving papers, unless the board directs otherwise. The board may decide to hear oral argument or testimony thereon.

(10) HEARINGS. (1) The board shall conduct its hearing in accordance with the appropriate provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act.

(2) If a member of the board or an examiner appointed by the board presides over the hearing, the member, or the examiner, as the case may be, shall issue and cause to be served on the parties to the proceeding findings of fact, conclusions of law and recommended order, which shall be filed with the board, and if no exceptions are filed within 20 days after service thereof upon the parties, or within such further period as the board may authorize, the recommended order shall become the order of the board. (3) If the board presides over the hearing, the board shall cause to be served on the parties to the proceeding a final order.

(11) SEVERABILITY. (1) If any one of these rules is held to be invalid it shall not invalidate any other rule.

(12) SUSPENSION. (1) At the discretion of the board, these rules may be waived or suspended at any time in any proceeding unless such action results in depriving a party of substantial rights.

(13) EXTENSION OR WAIVER OF TIME LIMITS. (1) Time limits provided for in these rules may be waived or extended as follows:

- (a) by written agreement between the parties, subject to final approval of the board; or
- (b) by motion to the board, subject to the granting of the motion by the board.

3. The Board of Personnel Appeals proposes the repeal of the rules and the adoption of the uniform rules in order to make its rules more uniform, cut down the number of pages its rules now use in the Administrative Rules of Montana, and hopefully make the rules less confusing to persons who appear before this board. This Board is responsible for the administration of four different programs: Public Employee Collective Bargaining, State Employee Classification Grievances, Highway Grievances, and Fish and Game Grievances. With each program this Board adopted a set of rules. For example, the same organizational rule appears in all four sets of rules with four separate numbers. This is bulky and causes confusion. Therefore, this Board is proposing to repeal those rules which appear in each set of rules and adopt one uniform rule. There are language differences in some of the rules, therefore the merging of the rules was not always possible. To avoid later rule disputes this Board desires to repeal the rules and adopt new rules so that there can be no challenge that this Board intended the uniform rules as they appear in this notice as those which govern each program this Board administers. To gain this uniformity it was necessary to change two specific rules, the changes should be addressed here:

1. 24-3.8B(6)-S8590 was amended to conform to 24-3.8(6)-S830(b) and 24-3.8A(6)-S8440(2). Specifically, 24-3.8(6)-S830(b) and 24-3.8A(6)-S8440 required that if a contested case was not heard by the full board it could be heard by a quorum of the board as long as at least one member represented management, at least one member represented labor and one member represented the neutral position were present. Section 24-3.8B(6)-S8590 required that a quorum could hear the contested case as long as at least one member represented management and at least one member represented labor were present. There was no requirement that the member representing the neutral position be present. The composition of the board is two management positions, two labor positions, and a neutral chairman position. The neutral's function is to allow the board to reach a conclusion. To insure that the Board is able to reach a decision, the Board desires to make the uniform rule require that the neutral position be present to hear contested cases.

2. Rule 24-3.8B(6)-S8600 stated that all references to days shall mean working days. This was not consistent with the other sets of rules. Therefore, this Board is repealing that rule, inserting the word "working" where this board meant working days, and have made the rules uniform by saying all computation of time and service shall be in conformance with the rules of civil procedure.

4. Interested parties may submit their data, views, or arguments concerning the proposed repeal and adoption of uniform rules in writing to Jerry Painter, Staff Attorney, Board of Personnel Appeals, Box 202, Capitol Station, Helena, MT 59601. Written comments, in order to be considered, must be received by not later than December 26, 1977.

5. If a person directly affected wishes to express his data, views, and arguments orally or in writing at a public hearing, he must make written request for a public hearing and submit this request along with any written comments he has to Mr. Painter on or before December 26, 1977.

6. If the Board receives requests for a public hearing on the proposed repeal and adoption of uniform rules from twenty-five or more persons directly affected, a public hearing will be held at a later date. Notification of parties will be made by publication in the Administrative Register.

7. The authority of the Board to repeal the rules and adopt the uniform rules is based on section 59-1613(4), 82A-1014(4), 82A-709, 26-109.1

Rule XI. HEARING; REQUEST FOR FORMAL HEARING; HEARING PROCEDURE; PROCEDURE UPON ADMISSION OF FACTS AND WAIVER OF HEARING; HEARING OFFICER'S REPORT; EXCEPTIONS TO HEARING OFFICER'S REPORT; PREPARATION AND ISSUANCE OF FINAL ORDER.

(1) Request for formal hearing. A Deputy State Veterinarian may request a formal hearing on the allegations set forth in the complaint by including such request in the answer or by a separate request in writing filed with the Chairman of the Board of Livestock. Failure to request a formal hearing at the conclusion of an informal appearance referred to in Rule X or within the time allowed for the filing of the answer, shall constitute a waiver of such hearing. If the Deputy State Veterinarian does not request a formal hearing, the State Veterinarian may request the Chairman of the Board of Livestock to order that such a hearing be held if he determines that a hearing is necessary to fully develop the facts. Upon receipt of such a request the Chairman shall order the hearing to take place.

(2) Hearing Procedure. Upon request by the Deputy State Veterinarian for a formal hearing or upon the order of the Chairman of the Board of Livestock, a hearing within 30 days shall be arranged. The following shall apply to such hearing:

(a) Notice of the time and place of such hearing shall be given to the Deputy State Veterinarian in writing at least 10 days prior to the hearing.

(b) Such hearing shall be held before the Board of Livestock or its designated hearing officer.

(c) The parties may appear in person or by counsel or other representative.

(d) A representative of the Department shall proceed first at the hearing to present the facts upon which the complaint was based.

(e) The Board of Livestock or hearing officer shall be authorized to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses at such hearing and rule upon motions and requests.

(f) All testimony of witnesses at the hearing shall be upon oath or affirmation and subject to cross-examination. Any witness may, in the discretion of the Board of Livestock or hearing officer, be examined separate and apart from all other witnesses except the interested parties.

(g) The Board of Livestock or hearing officer may exclude obviously immaterial or irrelevant evidence, but the party offering such evidence may state what he expects to prove thereby.

(h) The Board of Livestock or hearing officer may postpone or adjourn a hearing for good cause shown.

(i) Oral argument will be permitted before the Board or hearing officer at the close of the hearing and any argument advanced will be embodied in the record.

(j) A manual or electronic recording of the hearing shall be made. If the matter is heard by a hearing officer, a transcription of the recording shall be made to which the hearing officer shall attach his certificate stating that the transcript is a true hearing, except in such particulars as he shall specify, and that the exhibits accompanying the transcript are all the exhibits introduced at the hearing, with such exceptions as he shall specify. If the matter is heard before the Board, the Deputy State Veterinarian may also request such a transcript to be made at his own expense.

(k) Written briefs or arguments may be submitted and made a part of the record if received by the Board of Livestock or the hearing officer with 15 days after the close of the hearing. This period may be extended by the Board of Livestock or the hearing officer for good cause shown.

(1) If the Deputy State Veterinarian, after being duly notified, fails to appear at the hearing, he will have waived the right to a hearing.

(3) Procedure upon admission of facts; waiver of hearing. The admission, in the answer or by failure to file an answer, of all the material allegations of fact contained in the complaint shall constitute a waiver of hearing. Upon such admission of acts, unless the Chairman of the Board of Livestock has ordered that a hearing be held, the hearing officer, without further procedure, shall prepare his report, in which he shall adopt as his proposed findings of fact the material facts alleged in the complaint.

(4) The hearing officer's report. If the matter is heard before a hearing officer he, within a reasonable time after the termination of the period allowed for the filing of written briefs or arguments following the hearing, shall prepare upon the basis of the record and submit to the Board of Livestock his report together with the record of the proceeding. Such report shall include recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law. A copy of the report shall be served upon the parties.

(5) Exceptions to the hearing officer's report. Within 15 days after the receipt of the hearing officer's report, exceptions thereto, and written arguments or a brief in support of such exceptions, may be filed with the Chairman of the Board. The Chairman of the Board may extend such period for good cause shown.

(6) Preparation and issuance of order. As soon as practicable after the termination of the period allowed for the filing of exceptions to the hearing officer's report the Board, upon the basis of and after due consideration of the record, shall prepare its decision and order in the proceeding. Such decision and order shall be issued and served upon the parties and shall be the final and conclusive order in the proceeding.

Rule XII. EFFECT OF RULES UPON VETERINARIANS PRESENTLY DEPUTIZED. These rules shall apply to all persons presently serving as state veterinarians, except that such persons shall be deemed to have already complied with the provisions of rule II. Any Deputy State Veterinarian losing his deputyship after the effective date of these rules, may, after the period of suspension or revocation has elapsed, apply for reappointment provided he meets the requirements of rule II.

4. The purpose of these proposals is to delineate in greater detail the manner in which a Deputy State Veterinarian is appointed to, functions in, and is removed from that office. As the hearing is being held in conjunction with the winter meeting of the Montana Veterinary Medical Association it is anticipated that a number of suggestions for altering the proposals will be made. All such suggestions will be considered and, where appropriate, acted upon.

5. Interested persons may present their data, views or arguments whether orally or in writing at the hearing.

(6) The hearing will be conducted before the Board of Livestock, Robert G. Barthelmess, Chairman, presiding.

(7) The authority of the department to make the proposed rule is sections 46-208 and 82A-107 R.C.M. 1947.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
FOR ADOPTION OF AMENDMENTS TO RULES (MONTANA MAJOR FACILITY SITING ACT)

TO: All Interested Persons

1. On December 21, 1977, at 10:00 a.m., in Room 106, Miles Community College, Miles City, Montana, and on December 22, 1977, at 10:00 a.m., in the conference room of the Montana Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, 32 South Ewing, Helena, Montana, a public hearing will be held to consider the amendment of Major Facility Siting Act Rules MAC 36-2.8(1)-S800 through 36-2.8(10)-S880, and the adoption of new rules relating to notices of intent to file an application, and relating to exemptions from compliance with the requirements of the Major Facility Siting Act.

2. The Board proposes to amend the existing rules in several respects, particularly rules relating to definitions; general requirements for applications filed under the Major Facility Siting Act; content of applications for energy generating and conversion plants; content of applications for electric transmission lines and gas or liquid transmission lines; filing fee, and estimated cost of facilities; general requirements for long range plans submitted under the Major Facility Siting Act; and content of long range plans submitted under the Major Facility Siting Act. The adoption of the new rules pertain to notices of intent to file an application under the Major Facility Siting Act and exemptions from compliance with the requirements of the Major Facility Siting Act.

3. The rules as proposed to be amended and adopted are too voluminous to include herein. A copy of the entire proposed rules may be obtained by contacting Mr. Bob Anderson, Administrator, Energy Planning Division, Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, 32 So. Ewing, Helena, MT 59601. The rules as proposed to be amended and adopted provide in substance:

(A) Sub-Chapter 1. Definitions - definitional changes to update changes made in Major Facility Siting Act. Terms "transmission substation," "block board," and "notice" are defined.

(B) Sub-Chapter 2. Applications - the general requirements for the filing of an application are clarified and expanded. The content requirements for applications for energy generating and conversion plants are amended: to require more specific information in explaining the need for a proposed facility as defined in § 70-803(3)(a) and § 70-803(8) of the Major Facility Siting Act; and, to require more specific information for an application for a facility (either utility or nonutility) as defined in § 70-803(3)(a) of the Major Facility Siting Act. The content requirements for an application for electric transmission lines and gas or liquid transmission lines are amended to require more specific information for facilities defined in § 70-803(3)(b) and 70-803(3)(c) of the Major Facility Siting Act. The information required to be filed with an application concerning the filing fee and estimated cost of a facility is more specifically described.

(C) Sub-Chapter 4. Notice of Intent to File an Application. This is a new rule implementing § 70-806(7). The rule sets forth the general requirements and content requirements for a notice of intent to file an application.

(D) Sub-Chapter 6. Long-Range Plans - The general requirements and content requirements are amended to provide for more pertinent and specific information.

(E) Sub-Chapter 10. The transmission corridor rule is amended to include pipeline corridors.

(F) Sub-Chapter 12. Exemption of Generation Additions to Existing Hydrogeneration Facilities - This is a new rule implementing § 70-804(4). The rule establishes exemptions from the Major Facility Siting Act for the relocation, reconstruction, or upgrading of a facility that is unlikely to have a significant environmental impact.

4. The rationale for this request to amend and adopt rules pursuant to the Major Facility Siting Act is to substantially update such rules. The present rules were adopted under the Montana Utility Siting Act of 1973. Subsequently, the legislature has amended and renamed the act to the Montana Major Facility Siting Act. The definitional changes are made to comply with the Major Facility Siting Act. There is a critical need to amend the rules to describe more clearly the general requirements for the filing of an application and to more specifically describe the content of applications for energy generating and conversion plants as well as applications for electrical transmission lines and gas or liquid transmission lines. There is also a need to revise the rules relating to the filing fee and estimated costs of the facility so as to more particularly describe cost estimation for filing fee purposes. The rationale for the proposed adoption of rules with respect to notices of intent to file an application is created by the legislation enacted by the 1977 legislative assembly. The rationale for the proposed amendments to the rules concerning long range plans is the need to more specifically set forth the content of a long range plan. Amendments to the rules concerning transmission corridors is made to include pipeline corridors in addition to transmission corridors. The rationale for the proposed adoption of rules with respect to exemptions from compliance with the requirements of the Major Facility Siting Act is to implement reasonable rules establishing exemptions from the act for the relocation, reconstruction, or upgrading of a facility that is unlikely to have a significant environmental impact.

5. Interested persons may submit their data, views or arguments, orally or in writing, at this hearing. Written data, views or arguments may be submitted to Donald D. MacIntyre, Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, 32 South Ewing, Helena, Montana, 59601 at any time prior to December 30, 1977. Written data, views or arguments received by the Department after December 30, 1977 or post mark dated after December 30, 1977 may not be considered in the adoption of the rules.

6. Donald D. MacIntyre, 32 South Ewing, Helena, Montana, 59601, has been designated to preside over and conduct the hearing.

7. The authority of the Board of Natural Resources and Conservation to adopt and amend these rules is based upon Section 70-820, R.C.M. 1947.

tions.

No Hearing Contemplated.

TO: ALL INTERESTED PERSONS

1. On December 26, 1977 the Board of Hearing Aid Dispensors proposes to adopt a new rule relating to public participation in Board decision making functions.

2. The rule, as proposed, will incorporate as rules of the Board the rules of the Department of Professional and Occupational Licensing regarding public participation in department decision making, which have been duly adopted and are published in Title 40, Chapter two (2), Sub-chapter 14, of the Montana Administrative Code.

The reason for the adoption is that such action is mandated by Section 82-4228, R.C.M. 1947. That section requires all agencies to adopt rules which specify the means by which the public may participate in decision making functions. Rather than adopt its own set of rules and for the sake of expediency the Board has reviewed and approved the department rules and by this Notice seeks to incorporate them as their own.

3. Interested parties may submit their data, views or arguments concerning the proposed amendment in writing to the Board of Hearing Aid Dispensors, LaLonde Building, Helena, Montana. Written comments in order to be considered must be received no later than December 23, 1977.

4. If any person directly affected wishes to express his views and arguments orally or in writing at a public hearing he must make written request for a public hearing and submit this request along with any written comments he has to the Board of Hearing Aid Dispensors, LaLonde Building, Helena, Montana, on or before December 23, 1977.

5. If the Board of Hearing Aid Dispensors receives requests for a public hearing on the proposed adoption of a new rule from more than four(4) persons directly affected, a public hearing will be held at a later date. Notification of such will be made by publication in the Administrative Register.

6. The authority of the Board of Hearing Aids to make the proposed adoption of a new rule is based on Section 66-3005, R.C.M. 1947.

TO: ALL INTERESTED PERSONS

1. On December 26, 1977, the Board of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors proposes to make the above stated adoptions and amendments.

2. The changes as proposed are in the matter of a complete review of the Board rules as required by section 82-4204 R.C.M. 1947. Such changes do not intend to delete or impose substantive requirements, rather are intended only to eliminate out-dated or redundant provisions and to amplify or clarify existing provisions. This notice therefore does not state a rationale for each proposed change. However, the Board will do so upon request.

3. The adoption of ARM 40-3.86(6)-S86075 Reciprocity for Registered Land Surveyors will read as follows:

"40-3.86(6)-S86075 RECIPROCITY FOR REGISTERED LAND SURVEYORS: (1) Registration by Endorsement: The Board may, upon application therefore and payment of proper fee and passing a written eight (8) hour examination, issue a certificate of registration as a Land Surveyor to any person who submits evidence that he holds a certificate of registration issued to him by proper authority of any state or territory or possession of the U.S., or of any country provided that the applicant's qualifications meet the requirements of the act and the rules established by the Board. Sections S86070(1)(a), S86070(1)(b), S86070(1)(c), and S86070(2) are also applicable to this section S86075.

(2) Non-resident Practice in Montana: A person not a resident of and having no established place of business in this state, practicing or offering to practice land surveying shall be in violation of the act."

4. The adoption of ARM 40-3.86(6)-S86105 Corporate or Multi-person Firms will read as follows:

"40-3.86(6)-S86105 CORPORATE OR MULTI-PERSON FIRMS: A firm, copartnership, corporation, or joint-stock association may offer and perform professional engineering or land surveying services in this state upon complying with the following:

1. All officers of the entity in responsible charge of engineering and/or land surveying must be registered under this act.

2. All resident representatives of the entity must be registered under this act.

3. All individuals performing engineering or land surveying services within the state must be registered under this act.

4. All entities offering Engineering or Land Surveying services in the state must be represented by residents registered under this act.

5. The term Associates in the name of a firm shall be construed to represent individuals who are registered in this state, who can be identified and show responsibility to the professional and operation decisions of the firm."

5. The amendment of ARM 40-3.86(6)-S8690 Code of Ethics will read as follows; (Deleted matter interlined, new matter underlined)

"40-3.86(6)-S8690 CODE OF ETHICS (1) The Board will expect all engineers and land surveyors to uphold and advance the honor and dignity of the Engineering and Surveying Profession and Registration law within the ethical standards set forth in both the "Codes of Ethics" included in on the application form, and as published by the National Society of Professional Engineers."

6. ARM 40-3.86(6)-S86020 Applications is proposed to be amended by inserting the following words into the existing subsection (3), and adding a new subsection (7); (new matter underlined)

"(3) References: Upon receipt of an application, a copy of the Board's uniform questionnaire and form letter shall be transmitted to five(5) or more references. Applicants will note that three or more of the references shall be registered in the profession being applied for as Professional Engineers or Land Surveyors. No member of the Board will be accepted as a reference.

(7) Applications by holders of National Engineering Certificates: Applicants who have a current NEC certifiicate number must complete the following section of the Application for Registration as Professional Engineer 1 - General Information, 2 - Registration in other states, 9 - Affidavit."

7. ARM 40-3.86(6)-S86030 Grant and Issue Licenses is proposed to be amended by inserting certain words in subsection (1)(a), deleting certain words in (1)(b), and replacing existing subsection (3) through (8) with a new subsection (3), as follows: (new matter underlined, deleted matter interlined)

"(a) Seals for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors will be furnished by the board at-cost, at a fee, upon request. Seals of two different sizes are authorized; pocket seal, the size commercially designated as a 1-5/8 inch seal; or a desk seal, commercially designated as a 2 inch seal. The seal will bear the registrant's name, serial number, and the legend "Registered Professional Engineer", "Registered Land Surveyor", or "Registered Professional Engineer and Land Surveyor".

(b) For stamping plans, specifications, and reports, registrants are authorized to have a rubber stamp copy made of their official seal; ~~however~~, the title page of all sets of plans and all documents filed with public authorities must bear the ~~imprint of the official~~ seal.

(3) Classification of Experience: Engineering experience or land surveying experience "of a character satisfactory to the Board" shall include the following:

(a) Sub-Professional Work shall be construed to cover the time spent as Rodman, Chainman, Instrumentman, Inspector, Recorder, Draftsman, Computor, Tester, Superintendent of Construction, or Clerk of the Works, Junior Engineer, or similar work; that is, positions in which the responsibility is slight and the individual performance of a task, set and supervised by a superior, is all that is required. It shall also include full time engineering employment before the applicant graduated from an approved college or university.

(b) Each year of experience in Sub-Professional Work, as defined herein may be credited as one-half (1/2) year toward the requirement of experience or practice of a character satisfactory to the Board. Only experience of the applicant which is classified as Sub-Professional or Pre-Professional Work by the Board will be considered.

(c) Pre-Professional Work is work performed before registration in Montana, which is of a character worthy of the profession. Pre-Professional Work shall include the time after the applicant has graduated from an approved college or university, during which he has been accepted in engineering work of a higher grade and responsibility than that above defined as Sub-Professional Work. Successful completion of graduate study in engineering shall be considered Pre-Professional Work, but such study will not be credited as more than 1 year of Pre-Professional Work. The mere execution, as a contractor, of work designed by an engineer, or the mere supervision of construction of such work as foreman or superintendent shall not be deemed to be Pre-Professional Work.

(d) Education may be considered as Pre-Professional or Land Survey Work experience for applications considered under "Temporary Qualifications". Each academic year successfully completed in a school approved by the Board shall be rated as one (1) year of Pre-Professional or Land Survey Work experience. However, not more than two (2) years experience shall be credited to undergraduate educational qualifications.

(e) Experience time may be counted as Pre-Professional or Sub-Professional for work done during years counted for education.

(f) Land Survey Experience consists of work done under supervision of registered land surveyor such as section break downs, retracing old boundaries, establishing new boundaries, corner search and re-establishment, calculations and preparations of certificates of surveys, deed searches, corner recordation, etc.

(g) Other Survey Experience is survey work which may not be done under the supervision of a registered land surveyor. It includes such work as construction layout of buildings and miscellaneous structures; surveys necessary to obtain data and location of highways, roads, pipelines, canals, etc., construction staking for land modifications; construction staking for highways, roads, utilities, etc.

(h) Non Survey Experience is work not related to surveying.

(i) Part time survey work, if any, which may or may not run concurrent with a full time engagement, shall be listed as a separate engagement with total hours worked converted to years by dividing by a normal work year of 2080 hours.

(j) Full time work is considered a normal work week of 40 or more hours.

(k) Pre-Professional work (in charge) means: In the field, the applicant must have directed the work. The successful accomplishment of the work must have rested upon him. He must have made decisions regarding methods of execution and suitability of materials, without relying upon advice or instructions from his superiors.

In the office, the applicant must have had to undertake investigations, or carry out important assignments, demanding resourcefulness and originality, or to make plans, write specifications and direct drafting and computation for designs or engineering, with only rough sketches, general information and field measurements for reference and guidance.

In teaching, the applicant must have taught an engineering program of recognized standing, and must have been engaged in research, product development, or consulting as a concurrent activity.

(1) Pre-Professional work (Design) means: all that is given above as Pre-Professional in charge and in addition one qualified in design must have met the exigencies encountered in engineering design and fulfilled the requirements of local circumstances and conditions, without violating any of the cannons of engineering.

(m) The Board, in passing on each of these requirements as defined, will carefully weigh the evidence of experience submitted by the applicant and the replies received from his references."

8. ARM 40-3.86(6)-S86050 is proposed to be amended by replacing existing subsection (1) and (2), renumbering subsection (4) as subsection (3), inserting certain language into subsection (5) and renumbering it (4) and renumbering subsection (6) as (5) as follows (new matter underlined, deleted matter interlined):

"40-3.86(6)-S86050 EXAMINATIONS (1) After July 1, 1975 registration as a Professional Engineer and/or Land Surveyor in Montana, requires in part, examinations. The examinations required are defined in Section 66-2359.

(2) Applicants will be notified of the time and place of examination at least thirty (30) days in advance.

~~-(4)-~~(3) A passing grade of seventy (70) per cent in each part of the examination will be required.

~~-(5)-~~(4) A candidate failing to pass any-part-of-the examinations may take that examination-part a second time at a subsequent examination period upon payment of a fee established by the Board.

~~-(6)-~~(5) The examinee may review his examination paper in the Board office within 90 days after being notified of his status. No notes are to be made nor any marks made on the examination paper.

The examination documents (test papers) will be retained in the examinee's file for a period of two years, and then destroyed."

9. ARM 40-3.86(6)-S86060 Renewals is proposed to be amended by replacing the catch phrase, replacing the first half of subsection (1) and redesignating the second half of subsection (1) as subsection (2) as follows:

"40-3.86(6)-S86060 ~~RENEWALS~~ EXPIRATION-RENEWALS-FEE.

(1) Certificates of registration expire each year and shall be renewed as outlined in Section 66-2361 upon receipt of the renewal fee set by the Board.
~~(1) Certificates of registration shall expire on the last day of the month of December following their issuance or renewal and shall become invalid on that date unless renewed; provided, however, that certificates issued prior to January 1, 1950, shall expire December 31, 1950. It shall be the duty of the Board to notify every person registered under the act, of the date of the expiration of his certificate and the amount of the fee that shall be required for its renewal for one year; such notice shall be mailed at least one month in advance of the date of the expiration of said certificate. Renewal may be affected at any time during the month of December by the payment of a fee of ten ($10.00) dollars for either a Professional Engineer or Land Surveyor or both.~~

(2) The failure on the part of any registrant to renew his certificate annually in the month of December as required above shall not deprive such person of the right of renewal but the fee to be paid for the renewal of a certificate after the month of December shall be increased to ten percent for each month or fraction of a month that payment of renewal is delayed; provided, however, that the maximum fee for delayed renewal shall not exceed twice the normal renewal fees."

10. ARM 40-3.86(6)-S86070 Reciprocity is proposed to be amended as follows (new matter underlined, deleted matter interlined);

"40-3.86(6)-S86070 RECIPROCITY FOR PROFESSIONAL ENGINEERS

(1) Registration by Endorsement: The Board may, ~~without written examination~~, upon application therefore and payment of proper fee, issue a certificate of registration as a Professional Engineer to any person who submits evidence that he holds a certificate of Qualification or Registration issued to him by proper authority of the National Engineering Certification Committee of Bureau of Engineering Registration operated by the National Council of State Board of Engineering Examiners, or of any State or Territory or Possession of the United States, or of any country provided that the applicant's qualifications meet the requirements of the act and of the rules established by the Board. TO: ALL INTERESTED PERSONS

1. On December 26, 1977 the Board of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors proposes to adopt a new rule relating to public participation in Board decision making functions.

2. The rule as proposed, will incorporate as rules of the Board the rules of the Department of Professional and Occupational Licensing regarding public participation in department decision making, which have been duly adopted and are published in Title 40, Chapter Two (2), Sub-chapter 14, of the Montana Administrative Code.

The reason for the adoption is that such action is mandated by Section 82-4228, R.C.M. 1947. That section requires all agencies to adopt rules which specify the means by which the public may participate in decision making functions. Rather than adopt its own set of rules and for the sake of expediency the Board has reviewed and approved the department rules and by this Notice seeks to incorporate them as their own.

3. Interested parties may submit their data, views or arguments concerning the proposed amendment in writing to the Board of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors, LaLonde Building, Helena, Montana, or before December 23, 1977.

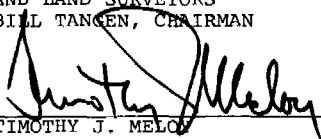

5. If the Board of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors receives requests for a public hearing on the proposed adoption of a new rule from more than 25 or more persons directly affected, a public hearing will be held at a later date. Notification of such will be made by publication in the Administrative Register.

TO: ALL INTERESTED PERSONS

1. On December 26, 1977 the Board of Water Well Contractors proposes to amend ARM 40-3.106(6)-Sl0630-Set and Approve Requirements and Standards - General.

2. The amendment as proposed will make the following changes in sub-section (1) of the rule; (deleted matter interlined, new matter underlined.)

"Sealing and grouting of the annular space between the casing and the drill hole or the space between the inner and outer casing is necessary to prevent contamination from entering a well. The depth of seal required for protection depends upon the character of the formation, whether porous or impervious, fine or coarse grained, and upon the depth and proximity of pollution sources, such as sink holes, sewage disposal units, abandoned or poorly constructed wells, mine workings, outcrops, etc. The seal shall extend to a minimum of 1 1/2 inches thick, positively fill the annular space on the outside of the casing. There shall be placed a slab two feet long and two feet wide and four inches thick around the casing, seal of cement, bentonite, or puddle clay, immediately under the pitless adaptor.

When no pitless adaptor is used all wells drilled by the rotary method and those wells of less than 40 feet deep drilled by the cable tool method shall be sealed for a minimum depth of 20 12 feet below the top of the ground and completed at the surface with a slab of grout or cement 2 feet by 2 feet by 4 inches thick, seal and sloped away from the well."

The reason for the proposed amendment is to make the rule conform to the original intent, which was not accurately stated. Thus, the Board has, by this proposed change, reinforced the seal requirements so as to insure that the well is given completely adequate protection from contamination.

3. Interested parties may submit their data, views or arguments concerning the proposed amendment in writing to the Board of Water Well Contractors, LaLonde Building, Helena, Montana. Written comments in order to be considered must be received no later than December 23, 1977.

4. If any person directly affected wishes to express his views and arguments orally or in writing at a public hearing, he must make written request for a public hearing and submit this request along with any written comments he has to the Board of Water Well Contractors, LaLonde Building, Helena, Montana, on or before December 23, 1977.

5. If the Board of Water Well Contractors receives requests for a public hearing on the proposed adoption of a new rule from more than 19 or more persons directly affected, a public hearing will be held at a later date. Notification of such will be made by publication in the Administrative Register.

6. The authority of the Board of Water Well Contractors to make the proposed amendment is based on Section 66-2605, R.C.M. 1947.

42-2.6(1)-S630 CORPORATION DEFINED (1) The term "corporation"- includes, but is not limited to, companies, associations, societies, joint stock companies, joint stock associations, common law trusts and or business trust which do business in an organized capacity, whether or not created, organized or existing under and pursuant to state the laws, agreements, or declarations of trust of any state, country or the United States, wherein interest or ownership is evidenced by certificates or other written instruments or where the interest or rights of stockholders, members, associates or beneficiaries are represented by units or shares.

42-2.6(1)-S640 DOING BUSINESS (ENGAGING IN BUSINESS) DEFINED (1) A-corporation-is-"doing-business"-or-"engaging-in-business"-in-Montana-when-it-actively-engages-therein-in-any-profit-seeking-activity.--The-fact-that-its-activity-may-result-in-a-loss-is-not-material. Doing business (engaging in or carrying on business) in Montana means any transaction through which a corporation actively seeks a financial or pecuniary gain or profit. That a loss may or does result is immaterial.

42-2.6(1)-S650 AMOUNT OF TAX CREDITS ALLOWED (1)--Every corporation engaged in business in Montana must annually pay the statutory percentage of its total net income received from all sources within the state during the preceding year. The tax may not be less than the specified minimum, which must be paid even though a net loss was sustained during the reporting period. However, no tax is assessable against a corporation which was not engaged in business within the state during the reporting period.

(2) (1) A direct credit against the corporation license tax liability is allowed for public contractor's gross receipts tax paid pursuant to the provisions of Section 84-3505(5), R.C.M. 1947, the public contractor's gross receipts license fee. The credit is allowed with respect to the corporation's Montana Corporation License Tax liability against liability determined for the taxable period year within in which the net income from contracts subject to the gross receipts tax is reported. If the corporation reports its income from contracts on a percentage of completion basis, the credit must be allocated accordingly.

(2) The amount of credit allowable is the net public contractor's gross receipts tax (after personal property tax credit) actually imposed against and paid by the corporation but not in excess of its Montana Corporation License Tax liability. the gross receipts license fee minus any personal property tax credit, the remainder of which is to be subtracted from the license tax liability of the corporation. However, the tax liability cannot be reduced by this method beyond zero; nor is the corporation entitled to a refund for any credit which cannot be applied against the license tax liability; nor can any part of the credit be carried over or carried back to other tax years. This credit is allowed without regard to the fact that even though the public contractor's gross receipts license tax fee is an allowed deduction in determination of net income subject to the Montana Corporation License Tax corporation license tax. In the event the public contractor's gross receipts tax is paid by a joint venture or a partnership, the members thereof shall be entitled to the credit for the tax as their respective interests appear.

(3) If the tax is paid by a corporation electing partnership type which elects tax treatment under pursuant to Section 84-1501.2, R.C.M. 1947, pays the public contractor's gross receipts license fee, the credit resulting pursuant to this rule is passed through to its shareholders according to their respective interest in the corporation's issued and outstanding common stock issued and outstanding.

(4) For provisions of the corporation license tax credit see MAC 42-2.6(6)-S62050, et seq.

42-2.6(1)-S660 EXEMPT ORGANIZATIONS (1) The following organizations are exempt from the Corporation License Tax, provided, however, income of organizations listed below shall not be taxed, unless that income is derived from or attributable to business activities unrelated to the exempt purposes of any of these organizations shall be subject to tax, of the organization. See MAC 42-2.6(1)-S675 for the definition and explanation of unrelated income of exempt corporations:

(a) Labor, agricultural or horticultural organizations. These types of organizations contemplated by Section 84-1501, R.C.M. 1947, as entitled to exemption from the corporation license tax are those which:

(i) have no net income inuring to the benefit of any individual member;

(ii) are educational or instructive in character; and

(iii) have as their objects the betterment of the conditions of those engaged in such pursuits, the improvement of the grade of their products and the development of a higher degree of efficiency in their respective occupations.

(b) Fraternal beneficiary societies, orders or associations operating under the lodge system or for the exclusive benefit of the members of a fraternity itself operating under the lodge system, and providing for the payment of life, sickness, accident or other benefits to the members of such societies, orders or associations or their dependents.

(i) A society is operating under the lodge system if it carries on its activities under a form of organization that comprises local branches, chartered by a parent organization, and largely self-governing, called lodges, chapters or the like.

(c) Cemetery companies owned and operated exclusively for the benefit of ~~their~~ members. lot owners who hold such lots for bona fide burial or cremation purposes and not for purposes of resale; and which are not operated for profit.

(d) Corporations or associations organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific or educational purposes, no part of the net income of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual. Provisions must be made in the articles of incorporation for the distribution of assets upon dissolution to another exempt corporation of like nature.

(i) A corporation organized exclusively (i.e., primarily) for religious purposes is one engaged in the espousal, propagation, or adherence to a system of faith or worship, but does not include organizations whose primary purpose is to promote, aid, encourage, or finance an exempt religious organization.

(ii) Corporations organized and operated exclusively for charitable purposes comprise, in general, organizations for the relief of the poor. The fact that a corporation established for the relief of indigent persons may receive voluntary contributions from the person intended to be relieved will not necessarily deprive it of exemption.

(iii) Scientific organizations organized and operated in the public interest. The term "scientific" includes carrying on scientific research in the public interest.

(aa) Scientific research does not include activities of a type ordinarily carried on as an incident to commercial or industrial operations.

(ab) Scientific research will be regarded as carried on in the public interest --

(aaa) If the results of such research are made available to the public on a nondiscriminatory basis;

(aab) If such research is performed for the United States, or for a state or political subdivision thereof; or

(aac) If such research is directed toward benefiting the public.

(ac) The fact that any organization carries on research which is not in furtherance of an exempt purpose will not preclude such organization from meeting the requirements of Section 84-1501, R.C.M. 1947, so long as the organization is not operated for the primary purpose of carrying on such research.

(iv) A corporation organized exclusively (i.e., primarily) for educational purposes is one which offers a regular course of instruction in an institution established for that purpose and which maintains a trained staff. The subject matter of the academic course should be designed to instruct the student in one of the recognized branches of art, science, or business and lead to degrees, diplomas or certificates upon completion of the course of study which are accepted as evidence of preparation for the pursuit of profession, business or vocation; or, under exceptional circumstances, an organization whose sole purpose is to instruct the public, or an association whose primary purpose is to present lectures or artistic performances in areas useful to the individual and beneficial to the community, even though an association of either class has incidental amusement features, and which do not have as primary object the propagandizing of partisan ideas or effecting a change in the laws through legislation.

(v) For a hospital to claim tax exemption as a charitable corporation, provision must be made in the articles of incorporation that admission to the hospital must not be refused to any prospective patient on account of race, creed, color, or ability to pay for hospitalization.

(vi) Money contributed by members of an organization to a common fund to be applied to the relief of the particular members of the organization or their families when in sickness, unemployed, in want, or under other disability is not a charitable fund.

(e) Business leagues, chambers of commerce, or boards of trade not organized for profit, and not part of the net income of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or any individual.

(i) A business league is an association of persons having some common business interest, the purpose of which is to promote such common interest and not to engage in a regular business of a kind ordinarily carried on for profit. It is an organization of the same general class as a chamber or board of trade. Thus its activities should be directed to the improvement of business conditions of one or more lines of business as distinguished from the performance of particular services for individual persons. An organization whose purposes is to engage in a regular business of a kind ordinarily carried on for profit even though the business is conducted on a cooperative basis or produces only sufficient income to be self-sustaining, is not a business league. An association engaged in furnishing information to prospective investors, to enable them to make sound investments, is not a business league, since its activities do not further any common business interest, even though all of its income is devoted to the purposes stated.

(f) Civic leagues or organizations not organized for profit, but operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare.

(i) Civic leagues entitled to exemption under Section 84-1501, R.C.M. 1947, comprise those not organized for profit but operated exclusively for purposes beneficial to the community as a whole, and in general, included organizations engaged in promoting the welfare of mankind. Not included are those organizations which are operated primarily to provide benefits, services or facilities to their members or patrons or to a particular group or class of citizens, even though the end result of their activities may be incidentally beneficial to the public generally.

(g) Clubs organized and operated exclusively for pleasure, recreation and other non-profitable purposes, no part of the net income of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or any member.

(i) The exemption granted by Section 84-1501, R.C.M. 1947, applies to practically all social and recreational clubs which are supported by membership fees, dues and assessments. If a club engages for profit in business in agriculture or horticulture, or in the sale of real estate, timber, etc., or in the resort business, such club is not organized exclusively for pleasure, recreation, or social purposes. Generally, an incidental sale of property will not deprive the club of the exemption.

(iii) Where the activities of a social club in making its facilities available to the general public are of such magnitude and recurrence as to constitute engaging in business, the club will be deemed not to be operated exclusively for pleasure, recreation or other non-profitable purposes. This does not mean that all dealings with the general public are necessarily precluded. The general public may, on occasion, be permitted to participate in a club affair, provided such participation is incidental to and relevant to the club's purpose and there is no purpose of profit or economic benefit to the members manifested in the character or manner of conduct of the occasion.

(h) Farmers' or other mutual hail, cyclone, or fire insurance companies, mutual ditch or irrigation companies, mutual or cooperative telephone companies, or like organizations of a purely local character, the income of which consists solely of assessments, dues and fees collected from member for the sole purpose of meeting expenses. At least 85% of the income of such organizations shall consist of amounts collected from members for the sole purpose of meeting losses and expenses.

(i) Cooperative associations or corporations engaged in the business of operating a rural electrification systems for the transmission or distribution of electrical energy on a cooperative basis.

(j) Corporations or associations organized for the exclusive purpose of holding title to property, collecting income therefrom, and turning over the entire amount thereof, less expenses, to an organization which itself is exempt from the Corporation License Tax.

(k) State-chartered credit unions pursuant to Section 14-672, R.C.M. 1947, as amended.

(2) In determining the license fee to be paid under this act, there shall not be included any earnings derived from any public utility managed or operated by any subdivision of the state, or from the exercise of any governmental function.

42-2.6(1)-S670 ~~ESTABLISHMENT-OF-EXEMPTION~~ DEFINITION AND ESTABLISHMENT OF EXEMPTION (1) A corporation is not exempt from this the corporation license tax merely because it is not organized and operated for profit. A corporation seeking the benefits of exemption must prove strict compliance with all statutory conditions authorizing-and-classification claimed. In order to establish its exemption and thus be relieved of the duty of filing returns and paying the taxes. Each organization claiming exemption must file an affidavit with the Department of Revenue-an-affidavit showing:

(2) When an organization has established its right to exemption, it need not thereafter voluntarily make a return or any further showing with respect to its status, unless it changes the character of its organization and operations or the purpose for which it was organized, or unless the department requests the filing of returns or the furnishing of other information. Copies of supplemental or amended articles of incorporation and amendments to by-laws should be promptly forwarded to the department for study as to effect upon exemption. The department may from time to time require that the corporation file an affidavit revealing the corporation's current status.

42-2.6(1)-S675 TAX ON UNRELATED BUSINESS INCOME OF EXEMPT ORGANIZATIONS (1) Every tax-exempt corporation having gross income of $1,000 or more for the year from an unrelated trade or business must file a tax return (Form CLT-4) and pay any tax due thereon.

(2) An organization which is otherwise exempt under Section 84-1501, R.C.M. 1947, shall be subject to tax on business taxable income from any unrelated trade or business if:

(a) The activity is a trade or business;
(b) The trade or business is regularly carried on; and
(c) The trade or business is not substantially related to the organization's exempt purpose except for the fact that the organization has a need for the profits derived from this activity.

(3) The term "trade or business" generally includes any activity carried on for the production of income from the sale of goods or performance of services.

(4) The term "regularly carried on" includes trade or business activities that show a frequency and continuity, and

(6) The term "unrelated taxable business income" means the gross income derived from any unrelated trade or business regularly carried on by the exempt organization, less the deductions directly connected with carrying on such trade or business. In order to qualify as allowable deductions in computing unrelated business taxable income, expenses, depreciation, and similar items must qualify as allowable income tax deductions, and also must be directly connected with carrying on an unrelated trade or business.

42-2.6(1)-S6120 DEDUCTIONS FROM GROSS INCOME (1) IN computing net income, all deductions permitted by the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, Section 84-1502, R.C.M. 1947, as amended, may be taken from gross income, except that specific deductions provided for by Montana law, see rules in accordance with MAC 42-2.6(1)-S6130 through 42-2.6(1)-S6260, must be taken in accordance therewith.

42-2.6(1)-S6140 INTANGIBLE DRILLING COSTS (1) Subject to the restrictions provided in the Federal Income Tax Laws and Regulations, an operator of an oil or gas well may charge in tangible drilling and development costs to capital or to expense in accordance with All elections made under the provisions of the internal revenue code in effect for the taxable year with respect to capitalizing or expensing exploration and development costs and intangible drilling expenses for corporation license tax purposes shall be the same as the elections made for Federal Income Tax federal income tax purposes.

(2) To be deductible as an "ordinary and necessary expense" within the meaning of this subsection, a payment the expenses must have a direct relation to the business of the corporation, it. It must be shown that it is necessary to the taxpayer's business, that it is ordinary with reference to the relation of the expense to the business, and that it is made with the expectation of a financial return or its equivalent commensurate with the amount of payment.

42-2.6(1)-S6170 LOSSES (1) All losses actually sustained and charged off within the year and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise shall be allowed as deductions. A loss is must have been sustained within the year in the sense that the full measure of the loss was ascertained within the year. The determination of the year in which a loss is sustained must be is made on the basis of the facts as they exist at the close of the reporting period. No deduction is allowed for a loss which is not bona fide, or for anticipated or contingent losses or for any additions to reserves for such losses.

For taxable periods which begin on and after January 1, 1971, the net operating loss deduction is allowed as below provided:--(2) (1) The term "net Net operating loss deduction" means the aggregate of the net operating loss carryovers plus the net operating loss carrybacks applicable to the taxable period. By the same token, a 1972 net operating loss must be carried back to 1971 and then forward to 1973 and subsequent years.~~ For any taxable year ending on or after January 1, 1976, a net operating loss is carried back to the third preceding taxable period from which it was incurred. Any balance remaining must be carried to the second preceding period, then to the first preceding period, and then forward to the next seven succeeding taxable periods in the order of their occurrence.

{4} (3) When a net operating loss exceeds the net income of the year to which it is carried, the net income for such year ~~must be~~ is adjusted by making the following modifications to determine the unused portion of the net operating loss to be carried forward:

Interest does not accrue on overpayments of tax resulting from a net operating loss carryback or carryover. Claims for refund of tax resulting from a net operating loss carryback must be filed within five years from the due date of the return for the year to which the loss is carried or within one year from the date of the overpayment, whichever period expires later.

{6} (5) In the case of a merger of corporations, the surviving corporation may not claim a net operating loss deduction for net operating losses incurred by any of the merged corporations prior to the date of merger. Similarly, in the case of a consolidation of corporations, the new

However, no asset shall be depreciated below its reasonable salvage value. In computing the allowance for depreciation use of the rates and methods prescribed or permitted to be used for ~~Federal income Tax~~ federal income tax purposes ~~will~~ are considered correct in the absence of evidence that the use of such rates or methods do not result in a reasonable allowance in a particular case.

With the exception of property with respect to which an election to claim percentage depletion has been exercised, the capital sum recoverable through depletion allowances is the adjusted basis for determining gain on a sale or other disposition as specified in MAC 42-2.6(1)-S6470.~~

(1) A reasonable, annual depletion allowance shall be given to corporations engaged in business activities directly involved with the extraction or production of natural resources, both renewable and non-renewable, such as timber, natural gas, mineral and other deposits. 42-2.6(1)-S6510 MEANING OF NET INCOME (1) The term "net income" means the gross income of the taxpayer less the allowable deductions allowed by Section 84-1502, R.C.M. 1947, as contained in MAC 42-2.6(1)-S6120 through 42-2.6(1)-S6280.

42-2.6(1)-S6520 GROSS INCOME (1) The term "gross income" means all income from-sources-within-Montana recognized as in determining the taxpayer's gross income to the corporation-in-determining-Federal-income-Tax-liability for federal income tax purposes, plus or minus the following modifications:

(a) Gross income includes interest income exempt from Federal Income Tax.

(b) Effective for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1971, gross income does not include interest income derived from obligations of the United States.

(2) Although State law does not specifically provide for deduction of interest income from obligations of the United States, federal law requires that such interest income be treated in the same manner as interest income from state obligations. Therefore, interest income from obligations of the United States must also be allowed as a deduction from gross income to the extent included therein effective with taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1971.

42-2.6(1)-S6745 CLOSING AGREEMENTS WITH DIRECTOR At the mutual discretion of the Department and the taxpayer, a written agreement may be executed to permanently enjoin the department and the taxpayer from any further action or claim with respect to the taxable years and matters stipulated to in the agreement. Any matter not included in such an agreement would remain subject to action, adjustment, assessment or claim until such time as the statute of limitations expires: for example, Internal Revenue Service audit adjustments (RAR's) which are received subsequent to the closing agreement would remain subject to assessment or refund claim.

42-2.6(1)-S6750 OVERPAYMENT OF TAX -- REFUNDS AND CREDITS -- ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES (1) If the Department determines from an examination of a return, or upon a claim for refund, or upon final judgment of a court that the amount of tax, penalty or interest due for a particular year is less than the amount paid, the amount of the overpayment will be credited against any tax, penalty or interest then due from the taxpayer and the balance will be refunded to said taxpayer or to its successor through reorganization, merger or consolidation, or to its shareholders upon dissolution.

(2) If the Department disallows a claim for refund, in whole or in part, it will notify the taxpayer accordingly, stating the grounds for its actions. If the taxpayer does not agree with the Department's action, it may, within thirty days from the date the notice was mailed, appeal in writing to the Board-of-Equalization state tax appeal board for reconsideration of the action taken with respect to the claim for refund. Such appeal must state the grounds upon which it is based, and the taxpayer may request an oral hearing before the Board-of-Equalization state tax appeal board and the opportunity to present additional evidence bearing on its tax liability. If a written appeal is not made by the taxpayer, the Department's action in denying the claim for refund in whole or in part becomes final upon the expiration of the 30 day period. If, however, the taxpayer does appeal within the specified 30 day period, the Board-of-Equalization state tax appeal board must reconsider its action. If the taxpayer has requested a hearing, it will be held at a mutually agreeable time in the Board's office in the Mitchell, Helena, Montana. shall grant the taxpayer an oral hearing. The hearing will be at the offices of the state tax appeal board, unless the members of the board agree to have the have the hearing elsewhere. After consideration of the appeal, the ~~Board of Equalization~~ state tax appeal board will mail notice to the taxpayer of its decision. ~~The Board's~~ board's action on the appeal is final upon mailing notice of its decision.

42-2.6(3)-S61610 DEFINITION OF AND ELECTION BY SMALL BUSINESS CORPORATION (1) A ~~small~~ small business corporation ~~as defined by Section 84-1501.1, R.C.M. 1947,~~ means is a corporation doing business in Montana ~~that which~~ does not have:

TO: All Interested Persons:

1. On January 10, 1978, 17, 1977, at 9:00 a.m., in the 4th floor Conference Room of the Mitchell Building, the Department of Revenue proposes to adopt the rules 42-2.10(2)-S10040, -S10041, -S10043, -S10044, -S10045, -S10046 and -S10047.

2. The proposed rules do not replace or modify any section currently found in the Montana Administrative Code.

3. The proposed changes provide as follows, (old matter interlined, new matter underlined).

42-2.10(2)-S10040 WHEN TAX DUE - TAX LIEN - LIABILITY

(1) All taxes imposed by this chapter are due and payable at the time of death of the decedent, unless otherwise provided. Every tax so imposed shall remain a lien upon the property transferred for a period of ten (10) years from the date of death of the decedent. If the ten year period elapses and the tax remains uncollected, the lien on the property is extinguished by law, ~~but the tax liability remains.~~

(2) If payment of taxes is deferred pursuant to MAC 42-2.10(2)-S10041 et seq., the 10 year lien on transferred property shall be extended for however long the tax was deferred.

42-2.10(2)-S10041 DEFERRAL OF TAX (1) The department of revenue has authority to grant deferral of payment of any tax levied under Section 91-4401 through 91-4406. Payment may be deferred only if the department gives its permission and only if the conditions as hereinafter established are met.

42-2.10(2)-S10043 FORM FOR REQUEST Request for deferral of payment of tax, allowed by MAC 42-2.10(2)-S10041, must be made on the form prescribed by the department of revenue. Until that form is available, request must be made by letter from the beneficiary, beneficiaries, or personal representative to the administrator of the inheritance tax division of the department of revenue.

42-2.10(2)-S10044 TIME FOR MAKING REQUEST Request must be made within 18 months after either the date of death of the decedent or the date property was transferred. The day of death or the day of transfer is not included in the 18 month period. If the period ends on a weekend or a state holiday, it shall be extended through the next full working day for the state.

42-2.10(2)-S10045 DEFERRAL NOT A RIGHT The department of revenue has discretion as to which requests it will allow. The taxpayer is not entitled to deferral unless permission is granted by the department. The department is not required to give its permission.

42-2.10(2)-S10046 LENGTH OF DEFERRAL: CONDITIONS Payment be deferred for not longer than 5 years. For deferrals of 5 years or less, the department of revenue may require any conditions and terms which, in its estimation, would more nearly assure payment of the taxes. The department is not required to show that the conditions it has required are better assurance of payment than other conditions may have been. In determining what conditions it will require, the department shall consider pertinent factors, such as the following: value of the property, nature of the life estate with remainder; ability of the beneficiary to pay financial background of the beneficiary or beneficiaries; any liens on the property; will contests, quiet title actions, contract actions, and any other litigation, judicial or quasi-judicial which might affect title of value of the property; residence of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, whether in-state or out-of-state; age and health of the beneficiary or beneficiaries; age of the life tenant; actuarial date of actual possession and enjoyment; nature of assets, including whether stock and bonds can be sold without loss and the current market value of minerals and precious stones, or anything else which might affect liquidation of assets; present use of capital assets; expected life and depreciation of asset; or anything else which might beneficially or detrimentally affect the life, value, utilization, inherent worth, or ability of the asset to contribute to payment of the tax.

42-2.10(2)-S10047 INTEREST OF DEFERRED PAYMENT If permission to defer payment of tax has been granted, and the tax has been determined as of the date of death of the decedent, the interest rate on the deferred tax shall be 6% per annum, to accrue starting one year after the date of death of the decedent. Interest shall be levied only against the unpaid balance of the deferred taxes.

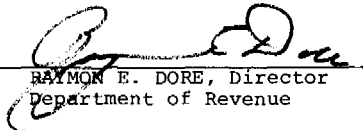

If permission to defer payment of tax has not been granted, and the tax has not been paid within 18 months after the date of death of the decedent, but upon reasonable efforts could have been determined and paid, the interest on the deferred tax shall be 10% per annum starting on the date of death of the decedent.

Rationale 42-2.10(2)-S10040 to -S10047 establish the procedure for deferring payment of inheritance taxes as provided by Section 91-4419, R.C.M. 1947, as well as detailing the larger range of factors the Department may consider in making its decision.

Interested persons may present their data, views, or arguments, either orally or in writing, at the hearing; or they may be sent to R. Bruce McGinnis, Deputy Chief Tax Counsel, Mitchell Building, Helena, Montana 59601.

Mr. Ross Cannon has been designated to preside over and conduct the hearing.

The authority of the agency to make the proposed rule is based on section 91-4419, R.C.M. 1947.

In the matter of amending) NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING Rule 42-2.10(1)-S1040 Transfers) FOR PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF of Joint Interest Property) RULE MAC 42-2.10(1)-S1040 ) regarding transfers of joint ) interest property.

TO: All interested parties

1. On January 10, 1978, at 9:00 a.m., a public hearing will be held in the Fourth Floor Conference Room of the Mitchell Building, Helena, Montana, to consider amending the rule relating to transfers of joint interest property.

2. The proposed amendment provides as follows (new matter is underlined, old matter interlined):

42-2.10(1)-S1040 TRANSFERS OF JOINT INTEREST PROPERTY (1) Whenever a government bond of the United States inscribed in co-ownership form, or any other property held in joint tenancy by two or more persons, and payable to the survivor(s) of them upon death of one of them, the right of the survivor(s) to the immediate possession or ownership of the interest of the decedent is a taxable transfer.

(2) The Tax

(a) Where the decedent dies before July 1, 1977, or where the surviving joint tenant is the decedent's spouse, the tax is upon the transfer of the decedent's interest, one-half or other proper fraction, as evidenced by the written instrument creating the same, as though the property had belonged to the decedent and survivor(s) as tenants in common and had been bequeathed or devised to the survivor(s) by will.

(b) Where the decedent dies on or after July 1, 1977, and the surviving joint tenant is not the decedent's spouse, the full value of the property not originally belonging to the survivor is taxable.

(c) Where there is more than one surviving joint tenant and where the decedent dies before July 1, 1977, the transfer of decedent's interest to each surviving joint tenant is taxable. Where the decedent dies on or after July 1, 1977, the decedent's interest passing to the decedent's spouse and to each of the other joint tenants is taxable. In addition, the entire share of each of the non-spousal survivors (not just that interest which passed at death) is taxable to the extent it originally belonged to the decedent. The full value of the non-spousal survivor's share in the joint interest property after the decedent's death would be taxable if it originally belonged to the decedent.

(3) Exception In all of the above situations the inheritance tax shall not apply to the transfer by right of survivorship of any property which can of decedent's interest in such property if it may be shown to have that such property originally belonged to the survivor(s) and never to have belonged to the decedent prior to the creation of the joint interest. For this exception to apply, the survivor(s) must show that the decedent had no interest, equitable or legal,

MAR Notice No. 42-2-101

NOV 30 1977

in the property immediately prior to the creation of the joint tenancy interest. This exception does not apply where the interest passes to a survivor and the property had originally belonged to a different survivor. It applies only where the interest passing originally belonged to the specific survivor claiming the exception.

(4) How Joint Interests are Taxed

(a) Where the decedent dies prior to July 1, 1977, or where the surviving joint tenant is the decedent's spouse, and where a joint interest in property is created either within three (3) years prior to before A's death or in such a manner so as to take effect at or after the death of A, if A was the sole contributor or owner of the jointly held property immediately prior to the creation of the joint tenancy, such property may be completely taxable, i.e., the decedent's interest that passed to the survivor(s) is taxable to the survivor(s) under Section 91-4405 and the survivor(s) interest is taxable to the survivor(s) under Section 91-4402 as either a gift in contemplation of death (unless the three year presumption is rebutted) or as a gift to take effect at or after death.

Under the above circumstances, if A should be predeceased by the other holding joint interests, A should not have to pay inheritance tax if he shows that he was the sole contributor or owner of the property immediately prior to the creation of the joint tenancy or interest.

(b) Where the decedent dies prior to July 1, 1977, or where the surviving joint tenant is the decedent's spouse, a joint tenancy created more than three (3) years prior to the death of the decedent will result in only the decedent's interest passing to the survivor(s) being taxable under Section 91-4405, even if the decedent was the sole owner of the property prior to the creation of the joint tenancy.

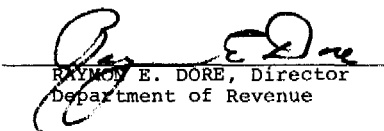

(c) Where the decedent dies on or after July 1, 1977, and the surviving joint tenant is not the decedent's spouse, the full value of the property originally belonging to the decedent is taxable even if the joint interest was created more than three (3) years prior to decedent's death.

3. The rule, as proposed to be amended, reflects the changes brought about by the amending of Section 91-4405, R.C.M. 1947. The tax imposed where the survivor is not the decedent's spouse is no longer limited to the interest passing at death. Further changes were made to clarify the exception allowed where contribution can be shown and to explain the situation where there is more than one survivor.

4. Interested persons may present their data, views or arguments, either orally or in writing, at the hearing, or may address comments in writing to R. BRUCE MCGINNIS, Deputy Chief Tax Counsel, Department of Revenue, Mitchell Building, Helena, Montana 59601, no later than January 10, 1978.

5. Mr. Ross Cannon has been designated to preside over and conduct the hearing.

6. The authority of the Department of Revenue to make the proposed amendment is based on Section 84-708.1(4), R.C.M. 1947.

TO: All interested parties

1. On January 10, 1978, at 1:30 p.m., a public hearing will be held in the Fourth Floor Conference Room of the Mitchell Building, Helena, Montana, to consider the amendment of rule MAC 42-2.22(2)-S22090.

2. The rule, as proposed to be amended, provides as follows (stricken material is interlined, new material is underlined):

42-2.22(2)-S22090 ASSESSMENT OF STOCK-OF-MERCHANDISE
BUSINESS INVENTORIES

(1)--Assessed-value-for-stock-of-merchandise-shall-be 60% of the dealer's cost for the entire inventory as it existed on the first day of January. (1) The market value of business inventories shall be the cost or present value to the taxpayers subject to the payment of the tax.

(a) the taxable value of business inventories shall be 4.2% of market value.

(2)--(a)--(1)--The inventory reported to the county assessor must agree with the figure reported on form 1040-Schedule C-1, line 7 or form 1065-Schedule A, line 33, or form 1120-Schedule A, line 6, for all businesses paying tax on a calendar year basis. (2) Any individual, firm or corporation required to report the value of its inventory as of January 1st, may satisfy that reporting requirement by attaching to the supplemental statement for use in reporting value of stocks, supplies, furniture and fixtures, a copy of the inventory schedule filed with the taxpayer's federal income tax return.

(a) Any corporation exercising the option to return the value of its inventory by filing a copy of their inventory schedule filed for federal income tax need only submit Schedule A of form 1120. All other schedules may be omitted or blanked out.

(a)--(2)--Businesses not reporting for the Montana income tax purposes on a calendar year basis must provide evidence of the actual cost of inventory as of January 1, to the county assessor on request.

(b)--The books of all businesses are subject to audit by the Department of Revenue to determine the accuracy of reported inventory at any time.

(3)--Any corporation or other business filing an income tax return covering more than one store or stock of merchandise must comply with the procedure outlined in Rule 2(a)-(2). (3) The assessed value of business inventories shall be the present value or cost, whichever is less. For ad valorem taxation purposes, cost shall be deemed to be the actual cost of the physical inventory on hand on January 1st or the day ending the taxpayer's fiscal year.

(4) If it appears from the inventory schedule filed by the taxpayer that a method of valuing the business inventory was used, that does not reflect the present value or actual cost of the goods on hand at the time the report was made, the department shall, pursuant to Section 84-411, Revised Codes of Montana 1947, revise the assessment to reflect the lower of present value or cost of actual goods on hand.

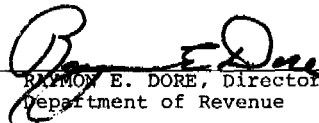

(5) Any person, firm or corporation reporting his income to the United States on a fiscal year basis will be allowed to submit to the assessor for purposes of returning his inventory for ad valorem taxation purposes the inventory schedule filed with his fiscal year tax return. The value shown on the schedule pursuant to the same restrictions contained in paragraphs 3 and 4 will be deemed to be the value of the taxpayer's inventory on January 1st.

3. The proposed amendment to the existing rule as found on page 42-176.1 of the Montana Administrative Code, replaces the present rule on the assessment of business inventories. The changes were caused by the 1977 Session of the Legislature. The Legislature established by statute the value of business inventory and allowed the reporting of that value by use of IRS schedules.

4. Interested persons may present their data, views or arguments, either orally or in writing, at the hearing, or may address comments in writing to R. BRUCE MCGINNIS, Deputy Chief Tax Counsel, Department of Revenue, Mitchell Building, Helena, Montana 59601, no later than January 10, 1978.

2. The proposed rule does not replace or modify any section currently found in the Montana Administrative Code.

3. The rule, as proposed for adoption, provides as follows:

Rule 1. DEFINITIONS (1) "Homestead" means a dwelling and appurtenant land, not to exceed 1 acre, used as the principal residence of the household of the owner.

(2) "Dwelling" means a structure intended for human habitation; mobile homes, as defined in 84-6601, are specifically included.

(3) "Household" means a person or persons who live in the same dwelling sharing its furnishings, facilities, accommodations, and expense. The term does not include bona fide lessees, tenants, or roomers and boarders on contract.

(4) "Total taxable value" means the taxable value of a homestead.

(5) "State's share of the taxable value" means a taxable value equivalent to $5,000 of the appraised value of a homestead or the total taxable value of a homestead, whichever amount is less.

(6) "State supported mill levies" means all property tax levies which apply to habitable property except levies for single purpose districts, voted elementary and secondary school levies, the university 6 mill levy for the retirement of bonded indebtedness, and voted levies for special improvement district reserve funds which are not countywide or which are supported by a fee or charge rather than an ad valorem tax levy.

(7) "Single purpose district" means a taxing jurisdiction created by resolution of the local governing body or petition of the residents to perform one governmental function, such as, but not limited to, fire, cemetery and lighting districts and weed, rodent, or mosquito control districts.

(8) "State's share of the tax liability" means the state share of the taxable value for each homestead in each taxing jurisdiction times the state supported mill levies in that taxing jurisdiction times the fraction obtained by dividing the fiscal year appropriation provided by the legislature less administrative costs by the statewide value of the state's share of the taxable value.

(9) "Principal residence" means the dwelling wherein the applicant resides a greater portion of the time than any other residence.

(10) "Appraised value" pursuant to the terms of H.B. 70, will have the same meaning as market value.

4. This rule contains the definitions adopted by the electorate in the original act as well as definitions for terms used in the rules. The definitions from the act were included because they are used in the rules and it would be more convenient for the taxpayer to have them at hand.

5. Interested persons may present their data, views or arguments, either orally or in writing, at the hearing, or may address comments in writing to R. BRUCE MCGINNIS, Deputy Chief Tax Counsel, Department of Revenue, Mitchell Building, Helena, Montana 59601, no later than January 10, 1978.

(3) The amount of the state share will be reduced by the amount necessary to administer the program. The legislature provided that the funds necessary to administer the program would be included with the funds making up the state share of the Homestead Tax Relief.

1. On January 8, 1978, the Superintendent of Public Instruction proposes to amend Rule 48-2.18(30)-S18510 which now provides in subpart (13) that the Superintendent of Public Instruction will meet, on request, with school district officials to discuss any reduction in their special education budget request.

2. The amended rule requires that in addition to meeting on request with school officials, the Superintendent of Public Instruction will provide them, on request, a written statement of reasons for any reduction in their special education budget request. The rule as amended would read as follows (new matter underlined):

(ii) Upon written request of the board of trustees the Office of Public Instruction shall send a written statement of the reasons for any reduction in a school district's special education budget request within a reasonable time.

3. The Superintendent of Public Instruction proposes the change to assure that school district officials are fully informed of the reasons for any reduction in a special education budget request.

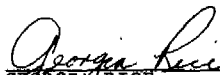

4. Interested parties may submit their data views or arguments concerning the proposed amendment in writing to Ms. Shirley Miller, Office of Public Instruction, State Capitol, Helena, Montana 59601. Written comments, to be considered, must be received no later than December 30, 1977.

In the matter of the adoption)	NOTICE OF THE ADOPTION of Rules to implement Title)	OF RULES (DECEDENT'S
25, Chapter 5, R.C.M. 1947)	WARRANTS)

TO: All Interested Persons:

1. On August 25, 1977, the Department of Administration published notice of a proposed adoption of rules concerning the providing of decedent's warrants to designees of State employees at pages 191-194 of the Montana Administrative Register, issue number 8.

2. The agency has amended the rules with the following changes:

Rule I. In compliance with the provisions of Section 25.507.7, R.C.M. 1947, each State employee may designate a person to receive the employee's pay, benefits, and/or travel allowances due at the time of the employee's decease in connection with his/her state employment.

Rule III. DESIGNATIONS. Only one designee should be named on this form since only one warrant can be issued from the State Auditor's Office as a replacement for each warrant the decedent would have received.

Rule V. DECEASE OF AN EMPLOYEE. Upon the decease of an employee, the employing agency will immediately complete the information on the right hand margin of the designation form (employee's name, date deceased, and signature of certifying officer). and immediately forward the designation form to the State Auditor's Office. If an unneegotiated warrant or warrants are recoverable, they will be attached to the designation form and forwarded with it to the State Auditor's Office. If the employee had completed an older form that does not have this information printed on the side, this same information should still be typed on the righthand margin. The employing agency should keep the original of the designation form on file at all times. Two xerox copies of the designation form should be sent to the State Auditor's Office with each unneegotiated warrant.

Applicable warrants are to be identified by number, date, and amount on the reverse side of the original designation. After all warrants have been delivered to the designee, the designation shall be cancelled and appropriately filed.

Rule VII. DELIVERIES OF WARRANTS. Warrants delivered to a designee by a State agency shall be accompanied by a photocopy of the designation on file. Applicable warrants are to be identified by number, date, and amount on the reverse side of the designation. After all warrants have been delivered to the designee, the designation shall be cancelled and appropriately filed. Warrants shall be delivered to a designee by the State Auditor and shall be accompanied by a photocopy of the designation on file.

Rule IX. (b) This rule shall apply to all permanent, full-time, part-time or seasonal employees.

3. A public hearing on the proposed rules was held September 7, 1977, at 7:30 p.m. in the Department of Highways Auditorium. No oral comments were received at the hearing.

One written comment was received regarding Rule IX which suggested that the words "to the extent applicable" be deleted from the sentence. However, the Personnel Division feels that these words are essential since only those areas in conflict between the rule and the labor contract would be superseded by the contract. Therefore, Rule IX will remain the same.

Jo Isaak, of the State Auditor's Office made a number of suggestions for changes in the proposed rules as they relate to the procedures to be followed by a State agency in the event of an employee's death to be sure the designee receives all applicable decedent's warrants. The final rules reflect these changes. Also, one part of the standard State form was amended to reflect these changes. Part 4 of the "Instructions to Employers" on the form now reads: "Forward two copies of the form with all unnegotiated warrants to the State Auditor's Office. Do not send it to Central Payroll." Also, the words at the bottom of the form, "Forward to State Auditor's Office upon employee's decease" have been removed to more closely follow the procedures set up in the rules.

Rules I through IX in the MAR, issue number 8, p. 191-194 will be consolidated into one rule ARM 2-2.14(10)-S14080.

TO: All Interested Persons

1. On July 25, 1977, and September 23, 1977, the Department of Business Regulation published notice of a proposed adoption of a new rule and amendment of Rule 8-2.12(1)-S1200 concerning the levy and collection of additional producer assessments. Publication was made at pages 9 and 394 of the 1977 Montana Administrative Register, issue numbers 7 and 9, respectively.

2. The Department has adopted the new Rule 8-2.12(6)-S1230 as proposed. The Department has amended Rule 8-2.12(1)-S1200 with the following changes:

"(3) As an aid to the efficient collection of license fees and assessments, each distributor who purchases milk from producers shall deduct from payments due such producers any license fees and administrative assessments due the Department from such producers under R.C.M. 1947, 27-409, Sections 27-409 and 27-430, R.C.M. 1947, as amended, and The distributor shall transmit such fees and assessments to the Department at the time required by law together with a statement of individual producer assessment payments. Assessments under Section 27-409, R.C.M. 1947 shall be reported and paid at least quarterly, as provided in that section. Assessments under Section 27-430, R.C.M. 1947 and Rule 8-2.12(6)-S1230 shall be separately reported and paid monthly."

3. At the public hearing, held on November 2, 1977, all testimony supported the Department's proposals. Although other individuals attended, only representatives of the Montana Dairyman's Association testified. Accordingly, the new rule was adopted as proposed and only minor changes were made in the proposed amendment.

2. The Department has amended this rule to accommodate public response to Department decisions not involving the Commission as a result of bifurcated decision making under Chapter 417, Section 16, Laws of Montana, 1977.

3. No testimony or public comments were received.

4. The Department has adopted the foregoing amendment as proposed with no change in the text as it appears in the published notice.

2. The Department has amended this rule in order to provide for the necessary management of the lynx (Lynx canadensis). The Department has determined that it is essential that it implement 26-1804, R.C.M. 1947, because of unprecedented fur prices for spotted cats which cause year-round harassment.

3. A public hearing on the proposed amendment was held October 17, 1977, at 1:00 p.m., in the Conference Room at 836 Front Street, Helena, Montana. No oral or written comments were received by the department from the date of the notice until October 24, 1977.

1. On July 25, 1977, the Department of Community Affairs published notice of proposed amendments of rules 22-2.4B(1)-S400 through 22-2.4B(30)-S4100 concerning minimum requirements for subdivision regulations and the form, accuracy, and descriptive content of records of survey at page 20 of the 1977 Montana Administrative Register, issue number 7.

2. The agency has amended the rules as proposed with the following changes:

22-2.4B(6)-S420 PROCEDURAL REQUIREMENTS FOR LOCAL REGULATIONS

(1)(f) Specify that at least the following information be shown on the face of the preliminary plat or on supplements to it (The DHES/Local Government Joint Subdivision Application Form may be used to submit the information):

Comment: Amendments by the 1977 Legislature to the Sanitation in subdivisions Act require DCA and the Department of Health and Environmental Sciences to prepare and distribute a joint application form for use by subdividers. DCA believes the requirements for local procedures should refer to that form.

Certification by the State Department of Health and Environmental Sciences that the sanitary facilities have been approved, or where applicable under Section 69-5003, R.C.M. 1947, by the local officials that adequate municipal facilities will serve the subdivision.

Comment: The Department of Health submitted a written statement that the Sanitation in Subdivisions Act does not authorize local officials to approve sanitary facilities for subdivisions to be served by municipal systems. The adopted language more accurately reflects the role and authority of local government under that law.

(1) (t) Amended as proposed

(1) (u) Amended as proposed

(4) Procedures for divisions of land exempted from local review as subdivisions.

(a) Determining when the exemptions listed in sections 11-3862(6) and 11-3862(9) are being used for the purpose of evading the subdivision law. The governing body shall, by March 1, 1978, adopt criteria for determining when the exemptions contained in sections 11-3862(6) and 11-3862(9) are being used for the purpose of evading the act. As a minimum these criteria shall address: the number of parcels created through use of the exemptions, the disposition of prior exempted parcels, the length of time since previous exempted divisions of land from the original tract, and the number, size and configuration of remainders created by the use of the exemptions.

(b) In addition to any criteria adopted by local officials the following provisions shall govern the use of exemptions:

•• 11-11/25/77

(1) For an occasional sale exemption authorized under section 11-3862(6) (d), only one occasional sale may be made within any 12-month period from any tract of record or from contiguous tracts of land created of public record on or after July 1, 1973, and held in single or undivided ownership. No portion or a tract or parcel of land may be the subject of an occasional sale more than once within any 12-month period.

(2) For a gift or sale to any member of the immediate family authorized under section 11-3862(6) (b), one conveyance of a parcel of land to each member of the landowner's immediate family is eligible for exemption from review and approval of the governing body, providing that the exemption creates no more than one remaining parcel of less than 20 acres in size. A second or subsequent proposed gift or sale to the same family member must be reviewed by the governing body to determine if the use of the exemption is intended to evade the purpose of the act.

Comment: Written and oral testimony was overwhelmingly against DCA's proposal to repeal its two rules restricting the use of the exemptions for an occasional sale and transfer to a member of the immediate family. The Attorney General has issued an opinion that the rule regarding limitation of the occasional sale was a valid exercise of DCA's rule making authority, but that the rule relating to family member conveyances would likely fall if challenged in court. However, the opinion also stated that while the current rules would likely be found too restrictive, some restrictions would be permissible. The Attorney General stated that it would be reasonable to require the landowner to demonstrate that a second conveyance to a family member was not intended to evade the act. In keeping with the expressed public opinion and the reasoning of the Attorney General the Department proposes to retain the rule governing the occasional sale exemption, change the rule relating to the family conveyance and require local officials to adopt criteria for determining when use of the exemptions constitutes evasion of the act.

Comment: These changes and deletions to the information required in the environmental assessment are made to eliminate the submittal of duplicative or unnecessary information.

22-2.4B(30)-S4080 UNIFORM STANDARDS FOR MONUMENTATION

(1)(a) Proposed change is withdrawn

(1)(3) Proposed change is withdrawn

Comment: Over 30 surveyors petitioned the Department to delete the specified standards for size and type of survey monuments. A spokesman for the petitioners supported the proposed deletions because surveyors would be allowed to exercise their professional judgement in selecting a size and type of monuments. Other surveyors and the Montana Association of Registered Land Surveyors contend that the currently required sizes and types can be used without difficulty and the standardization facilitates identification of monuments in the field. The Department chooses to retain the specified standards because of the easier identification and use of standard survey monuments and the sizes and types specified in the rules are satisfactory to most surveyors.

22-2.4B(30)-S4090 UNIFORM STANDARDS FOR CERTIFICATES
OF SURVEY

(1)(a) Proposed change is withdrawn

Comments: The proposal to allow three different sizes of certificates of survey was supported by a spokesman for approximately 30 petitioning surveyors and by representatives of Stillwater County. The petitioning surveyors favored the proposal because it would give them discretion to select the sheet size most appropriate to the size and configuration of the survey. The spokesman for Stillwater County favored the proposal if local officials could choose the size. The county does not have a blueprint reproduction machine and would like the authority to require all certificates of survey to be $8\frac{1}{2}$ " x 14". The president of the Montana Association of Registered Land Surveyors, however, testified that it preferred the county to county uniformity which one specified size provides and that the currently required 18" x 24" size is workable in most cases. A number of local officials also objected to permitting surveyors to select their size of sheet because most counties have filing systems that accommodate only the one size and the cost of converting to a multi-size system would be prohibitive. Some local officials noted that the 18" x 24" was a good working size which provided space for all required information.

(1) (b) Proposed change is withdrawn

Comment: The department proposed this amendment to allow a convenient method for clerks and recorders to maintain records of changes to plats in those situations where such changes may be made without local government approval. Since making this proposal, the department has concluded that a preferable method of recording unreviewed changes to platted subdivisions is to file an amended plat which is not reviewed by the local governing body. A new provision for filing such a plat is adopted as Rule 22-2.4B(30)-S4100(2)(s).

(2) The certificate of survey shall show, ~~or contain~~ on its face or on separate sheets referenced on ~~the~~ its face of ~~the certificate of survey~~ the following information only:

Comment: The substantive change is that only the information required may be shown on the certificate of survey. Local officials may not add to, nor delete from, the requirements and surveyors may not include items other than those specified.

(3) Amended as proposed

(3) (a) Repealed as proposed

(3) (d) The existing language is deleted as proposed but the following language will be substituted therefor:

For an exemption as an "occasional sale," the certificate of survey must bear a certificate of the property owner that the exempted division of land meets the criteria specified in local regulations and Rule 22-2.4B(6)-S420(4).

(3) (e) The existing material is deleted as proposed, but the following material is substituted therefor:

For an exemption as a gift or sale to a member of the immediate family, the certificate of survey must bear a certificate of the property owner that the exempted division of land meets the criteria for use of the exemption specified in local regulations and Rule 22-2.4B(6)-S420(6)(e). The certificate of survey must also indicate the name of the grantee, the relationship of the grantee to the landowner, and the parcel to be conveyed to the grantee.

Comment: The clerk and recorder can more readily enforce the filing requirements if the landowner is required to certify that the exemptions comply with the requirements set forth in S420(4) and the local criteria for determining when an exemption is intended to evade the act. The requirement helps assure that the landowner is aware of the limitations on use of the exemptions.

(3) (f) Repealed as proposed

(3) (g) Repealed as proposed

A new provision is adopted under this rule:

For an exemption as a relocation of a common boundary line, the certificate of survey must bear the signatures of all landowners whose parcels are changed by the relocation. The certificate of survey must show that the exemption was used only to change the location of a boundary line dividing two parcels, and must clearly distinguish the prior boundary location (shown, for example, by a dashed or broken line or a notation) from the new boundary (shown, for example, by a solid line or notation).

Comment: The new provision clarifies that the exemption is only used to change the location of a common boundary line, and not to create new boundaries. Requiring the signatures of all landowners whose parcels are affected by the relocation assures that they are aware of, and agree to, the changes.

22-2.4B(30)-S4100 UNIFORM STANDARDS FOR FINAL SUBDIVISION
PLATS

(1) (a) Proposed change was withdrawn

Comment: The issues here are the same as they were for certificates of survey [Rule 22-2.4B(30)-S4090]. Petitioning surveyors wanted some flexibility in selecting plat sizes, but the Montana Association of Registered Land Surveyors favored the uniformity of one plat size. A number of local officials preferred a single plat size to avoid purchasing additional filing facilities. The Department decided to retain the single size of 24" by 36" because people are accustomed to using it and very few problems have arisen since its adoption.

(1) (d) A new provision is adopted as follows:

Changes to a filed subdivision plat must be filed with the county clerk and recorder as an amended plat. An amended plat may not be filed unless it meets the filing requirements for a final subdivision plat specified in these rules, except that approval by the local governing body is not required where waived by Section 11-3862(6), R.C.M. 1947 for relocation of common boundary lines or aggregation of five or fewer lots.

Comment: The Department received written testimony that the rules did not provide filing requirements for amended plats. This provision clarifies that amended plats are to be treated as any other final plat. The 1977 legislature amended the law to allow certain changes in platted subdivision without local approval and this provision will require that those changes be filed as amended plats but without the approval of the local governing body.

(2) (s) A new provision is adopted as follows:

Certification by the governing body that the final subdivision plat is approved, except where the plat shows changes to a filed subdivision plat which are exempt from local government review under Section 11-3862(6), R.C.M. 1947. Where an amended plat qualifies for such a waiver the plat must contain a statement that pursuant to Section 11-3862(6), approval by the local governing body is not required for relocation of common boundary lines or aggregation of lots.

Comment: This provision will clarify that a plat must show the approval of the governing body, but that amended plats which show relocation of common boundaries or aggregation of lots within a platted subdivision need not have that approval.

3. Effective date. The above amendments are effective November 26, 1977.

DEPARTMENT OF LIVESTOCK

STATEMENT OF REASONS IN SUPPORT OF THE AMENDMENT OF ARM RULE 32-2.6B(2)-S610 PASTEURIZATION PLANT CODE NUMBERS.

On November 8, 1977 the Board of Livestock amended ARM Rule 32-2.6B(2)-S610 relating to milk plant pasteurization code numbers. This action followed notice of the proposed amendment published in the Montana Administrative Register September 23, 1977. No public hearing was conducted and no requests for hearing were made. The amendments were made to conform the numbering system identifying pasteurized milk plants in Montana, current interstate milk shipping requests, to make the list of such plants current and to make minor corrections eliminating ambiguities in the rule.

Since no comments were received after proper notice, and since no other compelling reason required a change the amendments were adopted as proposed on pages 472 through 475 of the 1977 Montana Administrative Register Issue No. 9.

STATEMENT OF REASONS IN SUPPORT OF THE AMENDMENT OF ARM RULE 32-2.6A(78)-S6330 IMPORTATION REQUIREMENTS.

On November 8, 1977 the Board of Livestock amended ARM Rule 32-2.6A(78)-S6330 relating to import requirements concerning Equine Infectious Anemia (EIA) import test for horses and other equidae. Pursuant to the notice a public hearing was held in Helena Montana on November 8. At the hearing comments were received in support and in opposition to the proposal. Those opposing the proposed amendment argued that the current requirement that equidae be tested for EIA no more than six months prior to importation into Montana was not soundly based, but since the requirement existed, no exceptions or weakening of it should be made. Opponents also argued that the proposal would be difficult to enforce because of the ease by which horses could be substituted into a supposedly closed herd. The Board determined once again that the EIA import test was necessary to prevent Montana from being a dumping ground for EIA reactors. The Board also determined that the limited relaxation of the test requirement made by the proposed amendment would not allow the dumping of EIA horse into Montana, because a total herd test was required at least annually; horses moving between Montana and an adjacent state were not as likely to be exposed to EIA as horses coming in after movement through several states, and the state veterinarian could choose to not grant the test waiver.

Therefore the proposed amendment was adopted as proposed on page 476 of the 1977 Montana Administrative Register, Issue No. 9.

2. The repeal, adoption and amendment were not the nature of a complete review of the board rules. However, no substantive changes were made. Rather the sole purpose of the revision was to eliminate outdated and duplicating language, unnecessary repetition of statute, and to restructure the order of the rules so that specific requirements may be more easily located.

2) The adoption incorporates, as rules of the board, the rules of the Department of Professional and Occupational Licensing regarding public participation in department decision making, which have been duly adopted and published in Title 40, Chapter 2, Sub-chapter 14, of the Administrative Rules of Montana.

The reason for the adoption is that such action is mandated by Section 82-4228, R.C.M. 1947. That section requires all agencies to adopt rules which specify the means by which the public may participate in decision making functions. Rather than adopt its own set of rules and for the sake of expediency, the board has reviewed and approved the department rules, and has incorporated them as their own.

2. The reason for the repeal was that the matters and requirements imposed by the rule were preempted by the passage of the Drug Product Selection Act in the 1977 Legislature.

The new rule was adopted in order to assure that applicants are put on notice of passing grade requirements and to insure that such requirements are enforceable.

TO: All Interested Persons:

1. On September 23, 1977, the Department of Revenue published notice of a proposed adoption of a rule concerning the adoption of rules relating to the Combined Populations of Municipalities at page 528-529 of the 1977 Montana Administrative Register, issue number 9.

2. The agency has adopted rule 42-2.16(6)-S1500 with the following changes:

That a new sub-section should be added:

(4) In the event an aggregation of the populations of adjacent cities results in fewer licenses for the entire populated area than would be available if the municipalities were treated separately, the department shall consider the municipalities as separate for the purpose of determining the quota for each municipality. Aggregation, as described in the preceding subsections, shall occur only when the quota for the combined area is larger than the quota for each municipality within the entire populated area.

For purposes of the public hearing Mr. Peter Meloy has suggested that an additional section be added to ensure that the aggregation of population will not result in a decrease in the number of licenses in the combined population area.

At the public hearing a representative of the Administrative Code Committee stated that the rule should not be adopted for the following reasons:

(1) That the transfer provisions do not accord with the restrictions on transfers found in Section 4-4-206(4)(a), R.C.M. 1947;

(2) That the rule omits pertinent portions of Sections 4-4-201(b) and 4-4-202(2), R.C.M. 1947.

The suggested addition of Mr. Meloy has merit. Accordingly, the rule has been modified to allow its addition as sub-paragraph (4) of the rule.

The arguments of the representative of the Administrative Code Committee are overruled.

In regards to Section 4-4-206(4)(a), that statute concerns solely quota excess licenses (floater licenses). This rule has no application to quota excess licenses (floater licenses).

In regard to Sections 4-4-201(b)(retail beer licenses) and 4-4-202(2)(all-beverage license) the respective statutory language contained therein, while applicable to this rule, is sufficiently clear and does not require further rule-making for elaboration.

The adoption of this rule is to become effective on November 26, 1977.

The Revenue Oversight Committee passed a resolution stating that it believes the intent of H.B. 292 is to allow a tax deduction for any capital investment for an energy conservation purpose in an existing building, regardless of whether that investment brings the building above established energy code standards.

At the public hearing a written statment was received from Gerhard M. Knudsen, Department of Natural Resources, suggesting that tax payers should have the option of determining whether their capital expenditures are allowed as a deduction under Section 84-7403, R.C.M. 1947, or as a credit pursuant to Section 84-7414, R.C.M. 1947.

The resolution of the Revenue Oversight Committee to allow a deduction for capital investments in existing buildings regardless of whether they exceed established standards has merit. This regulation has been modified to recognize any capital investment that has a true energy conservation purpose in an existing building.

The argument of Mr. Knudsen is overruled. Section 84-7414, R.C.M. 1947, provides incentives for the installation or aquisition of non-fossil energy generation systems. Section 84-7403, R.C.M. 1947, establishes a deduction for capital investments for the purpose of conserving energy. The Legislature intended that these Acts be mutually exclusive. The Department does not have authority to enlarge or alter their scope.

The adoption of this rule is to become effective on November 26, 1977.

A written statement was received from Randy Moy suggesting that the definition of "energy conservation purpose" should include renewable energy systems. He argues that both a tax deduction and a tax credit should be given for an investment in renewable energies.

The argument of Mr. Moy is overruled. The definition of "energy conservation purpose" is taken directly from Section 84-7402(3), R.C.M. 1947. The Department does not have the authority to alter this definition to include renewable energies or to allow both a tax deduction and a tax credit for investments in renewable energy systems.

The adoption of this rule is to become effective on November 26, 1977.

Written statements filed by Mr. Gerhard Knudsen and Mr. Randy Moy pointed out that this regulation should clarify that it is not an all-inclusive list and that other capital investments may qualify as having an energy conservation purpose.

The Revenue Oversight Committee passed a resolution stating that it believes the intent of H.B. 292 is to allow a tax deduction for any capital investment for an energy conservation purpose in an existing building, regardless of whether that investment brings the building above established energy code standards.

The arguments of Mr. Knudsen and Mr. Moy are meritorious wherein they argue that this regulation should make it clear that the list of capital investments that can result in energy conservation is non-exclusive. Accordingly, this rule has been modified to clarify that the list is non-exclusive.

The resolution of the Revenue Oversight Committee to allow a deduction for capital investments in existing buildings regardless of whether they exceed established standards has merit. This regulation has been modified to

3. That sub-section 5 be deleted in its entirety and that sub-section 6 become 5.

At the public hearing a written statement was received from Gerhard M. Knudsen, Department of Natural Resources suggesting that tax payers should have the option of determining whether their capital expenditures are allowed as a deduction under Section 84-7403, R.C.M. 1947, or as a credit pursuant to Section 84-7414, R.C.M. 1947.

Section 84-7403, R.C.M. 1947, establishes a deduction for capital investments for the purpose of conserving energy. The Legislature intended that these Acts be mutually exclusive. The Department does not have authority to enlarge or alter their scope.

In accordance with a recommendation from the Revenue Oversight Committee the Department drafted this regulation to allow a tax credit for the installation of efficient wood burning stoves. In direct opposition to this approach the Administrative Code Committee, concluded that it was not the intention of the Legislature to allow a tax credit for the installation of a wood burning stove.

In order to resolve the difference in opinion between the Administrative Code Committee and the Revenue Oversight Committee regarding the deductability of wood burning stoves the Department requested that the Legislature be polled pursuant to Section 82-4203.5, R.C.M. 1947. The result of the poll showed that it was not the intention of the Legislature to allow a deduction for wood burning stoves. This regulation has been modified to eliminate this deduction.

TO: All Interested Persons

1. On September 23, 1977, the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services published notice of a proposed adoption of a rule concerning personal care services at page 532 of the 1977 Montana Administrative Register, Issue No. 9.

2. The agency has adopted the rule with the following change in sub-section (2)(d):

(d) Dressing (changing garments)

3. At the public hearing the comment was made that providers of services under the program would not be required to meet the same standards as Home Health Care agencies, which also provide personal care services.

It has been determined by the Montana Department of Health and Environmental Sciences that the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services and its employees providing personal care services are not Home Health Care agencies as defined by federal and state law. There is no requirement that the providers of personal care services under the program meet the same standards as Home Health Care agencies. Due to the nature of the services provided under the program, there is no practical necessity for meeting the same standards as Home Health Care agencies, whose primary purpose is the provision of skilled nursing services.

The comment was made that daily supervision of Home Attendants providing personal care services by a Social Worker was inadequate, and that direct supervision by a Registered Nurse should occur at least every two weeks.

The rule under consideration requires that the Personal Care Services Plan must be developed and carried out under the supervision of a Registered Nurse. It is within the discretion of the Nurse to determine the frequency and extent of supervisory visits necessary to assure quality care in each individual case. Supervision could, if necessary, occur daily, weekly, or at any other interval.

The comment was received that a Social Worker Case Manager is not an adequate liaison between the prescribing physician and the Home Attendant.

Although the Social Worker Case Manager is responsible for obtaining the doctor's orders, that responsibility may be delegated to the supervising Registered Nurse. The complexity of the case, the convenience of the Registered Nurse, Social Worker and physician, and the recommendation of the Registered Nurse and physician should all be considered. In any event,

-976-
SOCIAL AND
REHABILITATION SERVICES

the initial Personal Care Services Plan is devised by the Registered Nurse in concert with the prescribing physician.

The comment was received that the Registered Nurses providing supervision in the program should meet the Merit System qualifications for Registered Nurses providing Community Nursing Services to assure that the supervisors are current in nursing skills.

As a prerequisite to participation in the program, a Registered Nurse must be currently licensed by the Board of Nursing to practice in the state of Montana. The federal regulations which govern the program require only current state licensure. However, the Social and Rehabilitation Nurse Consultant contracts with Registered Nurses who are current in nursing practice. Home Health Care Agency Registered Nurses and Public or Community Health Nurses are the primary resource. The Department of Health and Environmental Sciences, Bureau of Nursing, is informed of Registered Nurses who are providing supervision to the Social and Rehabilitation Home Attendants in the area of personal care services.

The comment was received that the program imposes liability on the Registered Nurses who supervise, and the Home Health agencies which may employ those Registered Nurses, while limiting the supervisory powers of the Registered Nurses and withholding the "hire-fire" power.

A participating Registered Nurse may incur liability for her negligent acts or omissions, and is certainly in some sense responsible for the quality of care provided under the program. A Registered Nurse who is unable or unwilling to accept that responsibility need not participate in the program. As stated above, the extent and nature of supervision is left to the discretion of the participating Registered Nurse. The Department will certainly be receptive to recommendation by Registered Nurses as to hiring and firing practices; however, there is no possible mechanism by which the supervising Registered Nurse could exercise that absolute power over employees of the state and county departments.

The concern was expressed that the Home Attendants would provide certain services (e.g., bowel and bladder training) which are outside the scope of their training and professional competence.

Home Attendants may only perform those services described in the rule under the auspices of the program. Effective supervision should assure compliance with the rule's limits.

Comments were received concerning the rate of payment for Registered Nurse services under the program.

The rule under consideration does not deal with rates of payment.

The comment was received that the language of sub-section (2)(d) of the rule was unclear, in that it could be interpreted to allow Home Attendants to change surgical or sterile dressings.

The sub-section has been amended to clarify the meaning. The comment was received that the program duplicates existing services in some areas of the state, and the recommendation was made by WestMont Home Health Care, Inc. that all clients in those areas be referred to existing Home Health Care agencies, and that as Home Health Care agencies are established in an area the program clients be referred to the newly-established Home Health Care agency.

SOCIAL AND

The program was instituted to meet a perceived need for personal care services in the state. To date, the program has provided services to approximately 290 needy persons in the state. If it appears that the necessary personal care services of similar quality and cost can be provided by Home Health Care agencies, the Department may contract with and refer all clients to those agencies. In any event, the program is not intended to be in direct competition with existing providers.

The comment was received that physicians may be hesitant to prescribe personal care services due to unfamiliarity with the Home Attendant and supervisor providers.

In many instances, the Social and Rehabilitation Services Home Attendants are the main contact between clients and physicians. They provide the transportation/escort to needed medical services. The Department is confident that a high quality service will be provided under the program, and that physicians will recognize the program as a competent and efficient means of providing personal care services. Any adverse effect upon the relationship of physicians and existing Home Health Care agencies has not been demonstrated and is not anticipated.

VOLUME 37

OPINION NO. 75

TEACHERS - American Indian Studies Act, Applicability to Tenured Teachers;

SCHOOL DISTRICTS - Trustees, American Indian Studies Act,
Applicability to Tenured Teachers;

HELD: The provisions of the Indian Studies Act,
Sections 75-6121 through 75-6132, R.C.M.
1947, are applicable to tenured teachers.

11 October 1977

Georgia Rice
Superintendent
Office of Public Instruction
State Capitol
Helena, Montana 59601

Dear Ms. Rice:

You have requested my opinion concerning the following question:

Can boards of trustees for elementary and secondary public school districts on, or located in the vicinity of Indian reservations refuse to re-employ tenured teachers who have not satisfied the requirements for instruction in American Indian studies, as defined in Section 75-6130, R.C.M. 1947?

Section 75-6131(1), R.C.M. 1947, the American Indian Studies, Act, was effective on July 1, 1973, and provides:

By July 1, 1979, all boards of trustees for elementary and secondary public school districts on, or in public schools located in the vicinity of, Indian reservations where the enrollment of Indian children qualifies the school for federal funds for Indian education programs, shall employ only those certified personnel who have satisfied the requirements for instruction in American Indian studies as defined in Section 2 (75-6130) of this act. (Emphasis added).

The policy underlying this requirement is set out in Section 75-6129:

It is the constitutionally declared policy of this state to recognize the distinct and unique cultural heritage of the American Indians and to be committed in its educational goals to the preservation of their cultural heritage. It is the intent of this act, predicated on the belief that school personnel should relate effectively with Indian students and parents, to provide means by which school personnel will gain an understanding of and appreciation for the American Indian people.

Section 75-6130 provides that the instruction in American Indian Studies required by Section 75-6131 may be met in three different ways:

- (a) A formal course of study offered by a unit of higher education developed with the advice and assistance of Indian people;
- (b) In-service training developed by the superintendent of public instruction in co-operation with educators of Indian descent and made available to school districts; or
- (c) In-service training provided by a local board of trustees, which is developed and conducted in co-operation with local Indian people.

The answer to the question herein depends upon the answers to the following questions: First, did the legislature intend that the requirements of Section 75-6131 apply to tenured teachers; and second, if so, is that imposition constitutionally permissible?

Section 75-6103, the tenure act, provides:

[w]henever a teacher has been elected by the offer and acceptance of a contract for the fourth consecutive year of employment by a district in a position requiring teacher certification except as a district superintendent, the teacher shall be deemed to be re-elected from year to year thereafter as a tenure teacher at the same salary and in the same or a comparable position of employment as that provided by the last executed contract with such teacher, unless:

- (1) the trustees resolve by a majority vote of their membership to terminate the services of the teacher in accordance with the provisions of section 75-6104; or
- (2) the teacher will attain the age of sixty-five (65) years(Emphasis supplied).

While the Indian Studies Act does not specifically mention tenured teachers, it broadly applies to "certified personnel" (Section 75-6131). A school district may employ only certified teachers (Section 75-6102), and therefore "certified personnel" in Section 75-6131 refers to both tenured and nontenured teachers.

The Indian Studies Act permits school districts to employ only those personnel who have met the specified requirements (Section 75-6131). The word "employ" generally signifies both initial and continued employment. Hinek v. Bowman Public School District, 232 N.W.2d 72, 74 (N.D. 1975). While the Tenure Act uses the term "re-elected" (Section 75-6103), that term has been construed to mean re-employed. Stoneman v. Tonworth School District, 320 A.2d 657, 660 (N.H. 1974). Therefore, "employment" in the continuing sense in the Indian Studies Act, and "re-elected" in the Tenure Act are essentially identical terms. If the legislature had intended to limit the Indian Studies Act to the initial employment of a teacher, it could have done so. However, since the language of the Indian Studies Act is broad and comprehensive, it is plain that the legislature intended it to apply to all certified teachers, whether tenured or not. It is interesting to note that House Bill 463, introduced in the Forty-fifth Legislature to "revise the requirements and procedures" of the Indian Studies Act was killed in committee. While that bill sought to revise the Act, it only did so in regard to extending the time limits within which compliance with the Act is required. It did not seek to limit the application of the Act as to tenured teachers, and in fact proposed a subsection 3 to Section 75-6131 which would have required compliance by July 1, 1984, by "all persons certified to teach in the public schools." Therefore, if the Legislature had intended to limit the application of the Indian Studies Act, such an intention would certainly have surfaced either in the original Act or in the amendments proposed in 1977.

Since the Indian Studies Act on its face applies to tenured teachers, the second inquiry is whether that application is constitutionally permissible. The crux of that inquiry depends upon whether the statutes governing teacher tenure create contractual rights in and of themselves in favor of tenured teachers. If so, the extent of those rights must be determined. The legislature is then prohibited from enacting a statute in derogation of those rights by Article II, Section 3, of the Montana Constitution, which prohibits the legislature from enacting "any law impairing the obligation of contracts...."

Considerable litigation has arisen concerning the question of whether a contract is created by teacher tenure legislation, and United States Supreme Court decisions have reached both affirmative and negative conclusions. In Phelps v. Board of Education, 300 U.S. 319 (1937), the New Jersey tenure statute under consideration provided that after three years teaching; no teacher could be dismissed or subjected to a salary reduction except for cause and after hearing. The Court held (300 U.S. at 322-23) that this did not amount to a legislative contract. The tenure act was "but a regulation of the conduct of the [school] board and not a term of a continuing contract indefinite in duration with the individual teacher." By contrast, Anderson v. Brand, 303 U.S. 95 (1938) involved a tenure act which provided for an "indefinite contract" after five years of teaching. The Court held (303 U.S. at 100) that a legislative enactment may contain provisions which as to individuals become contracts between them and the state or its subdivisions, and these contracts are subject to the constitutional prohibition against legislative impairment. The Anderson Court found the whole tenor of the act in question to be one of creating a contract. For example, the word "contract" appeared 25 times in its first four sections. The act assured affected teachers of a binding and enforceable contract against the school district, and repeal of the act could not affect any rights acquired thereunder.

Dodge v. Board of Education, 302 U.S. 74, 78-79 (1938), involved a change in an annuity statute. The Court stated the following guidelines:

The parties agree that a state may enter into contracts with citizens, the obligation of which the legislature can not impair by subsequent enactment. They agree that legislation which merely declares a state policy, and directs a subordinate body to carry it into effect, is subject to revision or repeal in the discretion of the legislature. The point of controversy is as to the category into which the Miller Law falls.

In determining whether a law tenders a contract to a citizen it is of first importance to examine the language of the statute. If it provides for the execution of a written contract on behalf of the state the case for an obligation binding upon the state is clear. Equally clear is the case where a statute confirms a settlement of disputed rights and defines its terms. On the other hand, an act merely fixing salaries of officers creates no contract in their favor and the compensation named may be altered at the will of the legislature. This is true also of an act fixing the term or tenure of a public officer or an employee of a state agency. The presumption is that such a law is not intended to create private contractual or vested rights but merely declares a policy to be pursued until the legislature shall ordain otherwise. He who asserts the creation of a contract with the state in such a case has the burden of overcoming the presumption. If, upon a construction of the statute, it is found that the payments are gratuities, involving no agreement of the parties, the grant of them creates no vested right. (Emphasis added).

Generally, an enactment will not be construed to create private contractual rights which limit or extinguish the power of the government to completely control the subject matter of the enactment unless the intent to create a contract clearly appears. "An agreement requiring the surrender or suspension of legislative control will not be raised by mere implication." Taylor v. Board of Education, 89 P.2d 148, 152 (Cal. 1939).

The basic purpose of teacher tenure statutes is generally agreed upon:

The evident purpose of the Tenure of Instructors Act is to protect competent and worthy instructors and other members of the teaching profession against unjust dismissal of any kind--political, religious or personal, and secure for them teaching conditions which will encourage their growth in the full practice of their profession, unharried by constant pressure and fear, but it does not confer special privileges upon them to retain permanently their positions or salary nor permit their interference with the control or efficient operation of the public-school system; and, notwithstanding it grants tenure to those who have taught the requisite period, it nonetheless empowers Boards of Education to discharge them for just cause in an orderly manner by the procedures specified.

Million v. Board of Education, 310 P.2d 917, 921 (Kan. 1957). Tenure has been described as a "substantial, valuable and beneficial right, which cannot be taken away except for good cause...." Saxtroph v. District Court, 128 Mont. 353, 361 (1954). Tenure protects teachers from being fired for political, partisan or capricious reasons. Graham v. Board of Education, 305 N.E.2d 310, 313 (Ill. 1973).

The question of whether the Montana teacher tenure statutes create contractual rights in and of themselves has not been directly decided. The most illuminating case is Eastman v. School District No. 1, 120 Mont. 63 (1947), which basically involved the extent of notice that must be given to refuse to reemploy a tenured teacher. The majority discussed the relationship among the teacher, the school board, and the tenure act as follows (120 Mont. at 68):

The so-called teachers' tenure act which is operative after the third consecutive year of a teacher's employment does not do away with the necessity of having a contract as required by section 75-6102. The only effect of said section 75-6103 is to renew the teacher's existing contract for another year by operation of law, after her election for the third consecutive year unless the notice specified in said section is given. Therefore, whether a teacher is the holder of a written contract for her first year's service or whether her contract has been extended by operation of law under section 75-6103, the situation is the same. The teacher is still employed under a contract, a teacher cannot be employed, he cannot perform services as a teacher, he cannot draw pay from the school district without a contract. Accordingly,...a person's right to teach in the public schools of Montana is created by contract, rests upon contract and ceases upon expiration of the contract.... (Emphasis original).

The year-to-year nature of the tenure right was explained in the concurring opinion (120 Mont. at 74-75):

The statute is not open to the construction that the teacher, after serving three consecutive years, is placed upon a continuing, permanent tenure contract. Rather the statute permits and authorizes the school board to re-employ the teacher for another year in one of three methods, or to decline to re-employ her.

* * *

Obviously under the statute a teacher who has taught for three consecutive years obtains only the rights provided for by statute. Those rights are simply that he shall be automatically considered an applicant for the position from year to year and if the board does not affirmatively re-elect him before a stated time or give notice that it refuses to re-employ him, then his re-election is automatic.

In other words the effect of the statute is to place such a teacher in exactly the same position as a new applicant for the position, with the added feature of re-employment automatically if no action be taken by the board before May 1st. The board is confronted each year, not with the problem of whether it will discharge a teacher who has served three consecutive years or more but whether it will re-employ him.

The subsequent decision in Saxtroph v. District Court, supra, also primarily involved a sufficiency of notice question, but was decided after the tenure statute construed in Eastman had been amended to provide for notice and hearing upon the termination of tenured teacher services. Thus, while Saxtroph indicated that it overruled anything inconsistent in Eastman, the discussion of the nature of tenure in the latter case should not be affected. Saxtroph overrules Eastman only as to the notice required to terminate tenured teacher services.

More recently, in Stephens v. City of Billings, 148 Mont. 372 (1966), the dispute involved a seniority ordinance for firemen. In determining that the ordinance created no contract between the city and the firemen, the Court quoted extensively from the ALR annotation on teacher tenure (147 A.L.R. 293) to the effect that in absence of language expressing an intent to confer contractual rights, recognition of permanent status does not create contractual rights immune from legislative encroachment.

As previously noted, Section 75-6103 provides that if a teacher has been "elected" by offer and acceptance of a contract from the district for four consecutive years, then he or she is "deemed to be re-elected from year to year." This right is subject to numerous qualifications. The District trustees may notify all tenured teachers of their reelection by April 1 of each year, and the tenured teacher must accept the "conditions of" this offer within 20 days, or a conclusive presumption of nonacceptance arises (Section 75-6105). If the trustees do not provide this written notice of reelection, a tenured teacher is deemed re-elected by virtue of Section 75-6103. Alternatively, the trustees can resolve to terminate the services of a tenured teacher by following the notice, hearing and appeal procedures of Section 75-6104.

A district may only employ certified teachers, and only under a written contract (Section 75-6102). Therefore, a tenured teacher must maintain certification pursuant to Section 75-6001 through 75-6011, or the district may not employ him. The Board of Education has adopted detailed policies on certification pursuant to Sections 75-6002 and 75-6003, requiring, inter alia, continuing education credits for all Class Two certified teachers. Certificates are valid for five years (Section 75-6008), but may not be issued to any person who has not complied with these certification requirements (Section 75-6003).

The fact that tenure is not a complete, automatic and perpetual right is evident from the preceeding discussion of the statutory provisions. Tenure, for example, does not insure the re-election of a teacher if doing so would violate the state's statutory nepotism provisions. State v. School District No. 13, 116 Mont. 294, 298-99 (1944).

A situation similar to the one under consideration arose in Campbell v. Aldrich, 79 P.2d 251 (Ore. 1938), where the existing tenure law was amended to provide for mandatory retirement at age 65. Proceeding upon a statute similar to Montana's, the court found no contractual right to exist, by virtue of the statute, between the state and the teachers. The statute vested the teachers with a statutory status embodying certain procedural safeguards, but the court was unable to find any indication that the legislature intended to surrender its control over the subject of teacher tenure by enacting effectively irrevocable statutes.

Tenure is an essentially contingent right which gives a teacher year-to-year employment unless terminated according to the statutory procedure. It has been held in Montana that the provisions of the tenure statutes become part of the contract for employment between the district and the teacher by operation of the law. McBride v. School District No. 2, 88 Mont. 110, 115 (1930); Kelsey v. School District No. 25, 84 Mont. 453, 458 (1929). If the statutes themselves had created a contract in favor of the teachers, there would be no reason for implying the statutes into the actual contract with the district. It is clear that any contract which exists vis a vis a tenured teacher is the one with the district, and not one with the state by virtue of the existence of the tenure statutes.

The legislature has retained, and in the case of the Indian Studies Act, has exercised its prerogative to alter the conditions of tenure. This is not to say that the legislature could repeal the tenure statutes and thereby destroy the rights of those teachers who had acquired tenure. Local #8 v. City of Great Falls, Montana Supreme Court, No. 13616, Decided August, 1977, As the Court said in Campbell v. Aldrich, supra, 78 P.2d at 261:

In our opinion, the sovereign power vested in the Legislature to enact laws for the betterment of common schools is one which cannot be bartered away. The exercise of such power at one time does not mean that future Legislatures may not, in the light of experience, declare a different policy. If such is not the law, there is no hope for progress, and future legislators, in determining educational policies concerning the tenure of teachers, must follow in trodden paths.

The legislative policy of the Indian Studies Act is clear, and applies to all teachers.

Even assuming arguendo that teachers enjoy contractual rights by virtue of the teacher tenure statutes, a majority of the presently tenured teachers would still be subject to the Indian Studies Act requirements. The Act became effective July 1, 1973, and therefore any teacher becoming tenured after that date took tenure with notice of the Act and is clearly subject to its provisions. This would be true regardless of whether or not contractual rights exist.

Any tenure contractual rights that may exist are subject to the certification policies of the Board of Public Education. Section 75-6002. Further, all teachers under the Class Two Standard certificate are presently subject to continuing education requirements for the five-year renewal of their certificates. Thus, these teachers, even though tenured, are on notice that they have continuing education requirements, and the imposition of the Indian Studies Act requirements does not add or change their contractual rights as a legal matter. There is nothing in the certification statutes, Section 75-6001, et seq., to indicate that the legislature intended that the certification policies could never be changed once they were adopted. To the contrary, the purpose of the certification policy is to establish and maintain professional standards. Section 75-6001. Thus, the Board has the power to change the certification policies as necessary to maintain professional standards without impairing any tenured teacher's rights. If such a power exists in the Board, it certainly exists in the legislature.

The Indian Studies Act provides a six-year period (July 1, 1973 until July 1, 1979) to comply with its requirements. Every teacher certified on July 1, 1973, would have to be re-certified at some time during that period, and would complete the continuing education requirements with knowledge of the Act. If those requirements have not been met, then the legislature has clearly prohibited the school districts from rehiring any non-complying teacher.

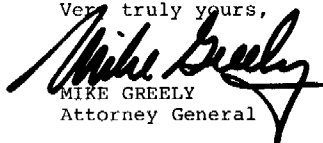

Affected teachers still have until July 1, 1979, to comply with the requirements of the Indian Studies Act. Compliance with the Act is presently difficult in some areas of the state. If in-service training programs as described in Section 75-6130(2) are expeditiously established around the state, then all affected teachers will have reasonable opportunity to comply with the law.

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION

The provisions of the Indian Studies Act,
Sections 75-6121 through 75-6132, R.C.M.
1947, are applicable to tenured teachers.

Patrick M. Springer
Flathead County Attorney
P.O. Box 121

Dear Mr. Springer:

You have requested my opinion on the following questions, all of which relate to the Flathead Conservation District:

1. What is the legal existence of the Flathead Conservation District?
2. What is the relationship of the District to the state, county, and other governmental entities?
3. Who is responsible for legal representation of the District, excluding criminal prosecution?
4. What is the definition of "real property" as used in Section 76-208, R.C.M. 1947?

Your first two questions are closely related since the District's legal status determines its relationship to other state governmental entities. The Flathead Conservation District is a "governmental subdivision of this state, and a public body corporate and politic...", §76-103(1), R.C.M. 1947 "exercising public powers...." §76-108A, R.C.M. 1947.

A conservation district attains this status upon compliance with various provisions of the State Conservation District Law (located at §§76-101 to 117, R.C.M. 1947; see especially §76-105(9)).

Conservation districts are "separate and distinct from any city, town or county and...may overlap county boundaries." Vol. 37 Opinions of the Attorney General, No. 20 (1977). The Districts, as subdivisions of the state, are creatures of the legislature with no inherent or common law powers. As such, they have only those powers expressly conferred by statute or by necessary implication from express statutory grants. Vol. 36, Opinions of the Attorney General, No. 97 (1976).

The responsibility for their civil legal representation is determined by statute. §76-107(5), R.C.M. 1947 provides that the supervisors of a conservation district "may call upon the attorney general of the state for such legal services as they may require, or may employ their own counsel and legal staff."

The application of this section was discussed in Vol. 26, Opinions of the Attorney General, No. 43 (1955). The Attorney General determined that the supervisors "may call upon the Attorney General for legal services and the Attorney General may...direct county attorneys to furnish such assistance." Id. He also determined that the supervisors could hire private counsel and that he, as Attorney General, could empower such counsel to act as Special Assistant Attorneys General. Id. The Attorney General also cited §16-3101(6), R.C.M. 1947 which provides that a county attorney must "[g]ive when required, and without fee, his opinion in writing to the...district... officers, on matters relating to the duties of their... offices." Id. The power to direct county attorneys to furnish legal assistance is justified in the opinion by §§16-3101(9) and 82-401(5), R.C.M. 1947, pertaining to the Attorney General's supervisory powers. Id.

I reaffirm the opinion except to the extent it relates to my supervisory powers. I believe that such powers were interpreted overbroadly in the opinion. §16-3101(8), R.C.M. 1947 provides that the Attorney General may direct a county attorney to bring an action in the name of the state. Conservation districts are separate and distinct legal entities and may sue and be sued in their own name. §76-108(10), R.C.M. 1947. Also, §16-3101(9), R.C.M. 1947 relates to the Attorney General's power to "order and direct...county attorneys in all matters pertaining to the duties of their office." §82-401(5), R.C.M. 1947 likewise defines the supervisory power in terms of the duties of the office of county attorney. The duty to represent the conservation districts is placed upon the office of Attorney General by §76-107(5), not upon the office of county attorney. Therefore, a county attorney's duty to represent conservation districts extends only to giving his opinion in writing to the district officers on matters relating to their offices as provided in §16-3101(6), R.C.M. 1947. A county attorney has no other statutory obligation to represent the district in civil matters and will not be ordered to do so under my supervisory powers. This is not to say that a county attorney or other public agency or attorney may not, in their discretion, represent a district. The district may request and such agency or attorney may provide such services unless prohibited by law.

If the supervisors hire private counsel, they may determine their compensation and such compensation is an obligation of the District. See §76-106(5).

You request the definition of "real property" for tax purposes in order to establish the proper tax base for funding the District. §76-108(14), R.C.M. 1947 empowers the supervisors "[t]o cause taxes to be levied in the same manner provided for in Title 76, Chapter 2, R.C.M. 1947, for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district..." §76-108, R.C.M. 1947 provides for a regular annual assessment "not to exceed one and one-half (1 ½) mills on the dollar of the total taxable valuation of real property within the district...(such) valuation...determined according to the last assessment roll" (emphasis added).

"Real property" is not defined in either chapter 1 or 2 of Title 76. §84-101, R.C.M. 1947, a tax statute of general application, uses the terms "real estate" and "improvements." Resolution of your question therefore involves determining whether "real property" encompasses both real estate and improvements as those terms are used in assessing property and levying taxes.

In determining the intention of the legislature, "[a] primary rule of statutory construction is that the legislature must be assumed to have meant precisely what the words of the law, as commonly understood, import." Northern Pacific Railway v. Sanders County, 66 Mont. 608, 614, 214 P.

596, 599 (1923). Historically, "real property" has meant all but "personal property," and this distinction is made by §67-206, R.C.M. 1947. §67-207, R.C.M. 1947 specifically defines real property:

Real or immovable property consists of:

1. Land;
2. That which is affixed to land;
3. That which is incidental or appurtenant to land;
4. That which is immovable by law.

Therefore, real property, by common legal definition, includes both real estate or land and improvements as defined by §84-101, R.C.M. 1947.

Both the Departments of Natural Resources and Conservation and Revenue concur in interpreting "real property" to include both real estate and improvements. The Department of Natural Resources assists the supervisors in carrying out projects instituted under the State Conservation District Law. §76-104, R.C.M. 1947. The Board of Natural Resources is responsible for determining that proposed programs are administratively practicable and feasible. R.C.M. 1947, §76-105(4). In making this determination the Board has interpreted "real property" to mean, and advises district petitioners, that the tax levy will be made on both real estate and improvements. The Department of Revenue has made a similar determination. Such agency determinations are entitled to weight in construing ambiguous statutes. See In re. Fligman's Estate, 113 Mont. 505, 501, 129 P.2d 627 (1942).

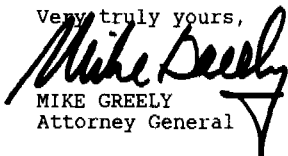

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION THAT:

1. The Flathead Conservation District is a governmental subdivision of the State of Montana and a public body corporate and politic.
2. Conservation Districts are separate and distinct from any city, town, and county, and as separate legal entities may independently exercise the power granted them by statute.
3. The Attorney General is responsible for their civil legal representation upon request from the supervisors of such District, but the supervisors may instead hire private counsel and such counsel may be empowered to act as Special Assistant Attorneys General. Should the supervisors hire private counsel, they may determine their compensation and such compensation is an obligation of the District. County attorneys' statutory duty to represent conservation districts extends only to giving their opinion in writing to the officers of the districts on matters pertaining to their officers.

4. "Real property" as used in §76-208, R.C.M. 1947 means both real estate and improvements as those terms are defined in §84-101, R.C.M. 1947.

Very truly yours,

POLICE - The pension supplement provided by Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 is to be paid in monthly installments beginning in July, 1977;

SECTION 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947

- HELD:
1. The first supplemental payment to the recipients was intended to be made in July, 1977. A lump sum payment to cover the months of July, August, September and October should be made immediately.
 2. The supplement is to be paid in monthly amounts after the initial lump sum payment is made.
 3. The appropriate funding to be implemented may be determined by the administrator of the Public Employees Retirement Division in conformity with this opinion.

11-11/25/77

Dear Mr. Young:

You have requested my opinion as to the procedural implementation of Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947, enacted by the 1977 Legislature. Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947, provides for minimum payments to police officers, spouses, and minor children who were receiving retirement benefits from police reserve funds prior to July 1, 1975.

The specific questions raised in your request are as follows:

1. When must the first supplemental payment to the recipients be made?
2. Is the supplement to be paid on a monthly basis or in a lump sum at the end of each fiscal year?
3. When must the State Auditor transfer funds to the administrator of the police reserve fund?

Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 is a remedial statute designed to give increased retirement benefits to police officers, spouses, and minor children who were receiving retirement payments from police reserve funds prior to July 1, 1975. Chapter 335, Session Laws of 1974, created a disparity in retirement benefits between the policemen already on the reserve list as of July 1, 1975 and those who retired after July 1, 1975. Therefore, since Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 is remedial in nature, it is entitled to be liberally construed to effectuate the relief sought. Attix v. Robinson, 155 F.Supp. 592 (D.C. Mont. 1957). It should also be noted that Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 was made effective immediately upon passage and approval, April 18, 1977. This is in contrast with the usual Montana statute which takes effect on the 1st day of July of the year of its passage and approval. Lodge v. Ayers, 108 Mont. 527, 91 P.2d 691 (1939).

This information is important in answering your first two questions concerning when and in what manner the supplemental payments must be made. Giving Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 a liberal construction, and reading it in pari materia with other metropolitan police laws leads to the conclusion that the legislature intended the increased retirement benefits to commence in July 1977 in the form of monthly payments.

Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 is part of the Metropolitan Police Law found in Title 11, Chapter 18. It is intended to supplement the pensions that are received as monthly payments by eligible policemen, spouses, and minor children who were receiving pensions as of July 1, 1975. Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 makes specific reference to other sections contained in the Metropolitan Police Law and depends on those referenced sections for the timing and funding of the minimum payments. Therefore, it should be read with reference to the other statutes as one system in pari materia. See Oxford v. Topp, 136 Mont. 227, 346 P.2d 566 (1959), which states the general rule that where one statute provides the formula and the other provides the definition of terms in the formula they both must be construed together. Furthermore, since Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 is designed to provide a portion of the pension benefits, it must be read and construed with all other statutes having the same general purpose. City of Billings v. Smith, 158 Mont. 197, 490 P.2d 221 (1971).

Section 11-1821, R.C.M. 1947, which provided the pension benefits to policemen, spouses and minor children who became eligible for retirement prior to July 1, 1975 states:

(1) Whenever any policeman or officer shall from age or disability become transferred from the active list of such city or town, he shall thereafter be paid in monthly payments from the funds in this act provided for, a sum equal to the one-half (½) the salary he was receiving during the year prior to the time he passed to the police reserve list (Emphasis supplied).

Section 11-1846.1(5), R.C.M. 1947 in part states:

...the department or board of trustees of the fund, as the case may be, shall use the funds to supplement the monthly payments to persons described in subsections (2)(a) through (2)(c) so that the requirements of subsection (1) are met. (Emphasis supplied)

Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 supplements the funds and is a part of the Metropolitan Police Act. The mandate of Section 11-1821, R.C.M. 1947 applies and controls payments under Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947, since the latter contains no language to the contrary.

When the first monthly supplement is to be received is indicated by the fact that the Legislature made this act effective immediately upon passage and approval. Subsection (5) directs the use of the funds to supplement the monthly payments so that the requirements of subsection (1) are met. Subsection (1) requires the payment to eligible recipients for each fiscal year, commencing with the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1977 be not less than one half the salary of a newly commissioned police officer in that fiscal year. Since payment was to commence with the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1977 and the act was made effective immediately upon passage and approval, it is clear the legislature intended the increased retirement benefits to commence July, 1977. To conclude otherwise would render the immediate effective date useless, and it is presumed the legislature does not perform useless acts. Kish v. Montana State Prison, 161 Mont. 297, 505 P.2d 891 (1973).

If Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 is read in pari materia with the Metropolitan Police Law, the supplemental payments must be made monthly and should have commenced in July, 1977.

The problem of implementing this supplement arose when the mechanics for funding the supplement, provided by the Legislature, were examined. This leads to your third question concerning the time of payment to the administrator of the police reserve fund.

The question is specifically answered by Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947, which states:

The state auditor shall, upon receipt of the reports referred to in subsections (2) and (3), compute the difference between each amount reported under subsections (1)(d)(i) through (1)(d)(iii) and one-half the salary for the current fiscal year of a newly confirmed police officer of the appropriate city or town. The difference shall be paid by the state auditor out of the premium tax collected on insurance, as provided in 11-1835, to the treasurer of the appropriate city or town at the same time as and in addition to the payment to be made by the state auditor under 11-1834. (Emphasis supplied)

The payment made by the State Auditor under Section 11-1834, R.C.M. 1947, is made at the end of each fiscal year. Therefore, the State Auditor must transfer funds to the administrator of the police reserve fund at the end of each fiscal year. Where the language of a statute is plain, unambiguous, direct and certain, the statute speaks for itself and there is nothing left for the courts to construe, the court's function in such case being simply to ascertain and declare what is in terms and substance contained therein. Hammil v. Young, 168 Mont. 81, 540 P.2d 971 (1975); Olson v. Manion's Inc., 162 Mont. 197, 510 P.2d 6 (1973).

Two additional questions must be answered. First, in which fiscal year will the first transfer of funds from the State Auditor to the treasurer occur? Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947, indicates that this first transfer will occur at the end of the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1977. In order to determine the amount of the transfer, the Auditor must receive reports from each city and town involved, pursuant to Sections 11-1846.1(2) and 3), R.C.M. 1947, containing the names of eligible recipients, the amounts paid to such recipients in the base fiscal year, and the salaries to be paid to newly confirmed police officers for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1977. Section 11-1846.1(4), R.C.M. 1947. The reports by each city and town concerning the names of the eligible recipients and the amounts paid to them in the base fiscal year are required to be filed with the Auditor on or before April 1 of each year. Section 11-1846.1(2), R.C.M. 1947. This act became effective April 18, 1977. Consequently, the first of these reports are due on or before April 1, 1978. The reports concerning the salary of newly commissioned police officers in each city or town are described in Section 11-1846.1(3), R.C.M. 1947:

Each fiscal year, commencing with the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1977, immediately after the adoption by a city or town having a police reserve fund of its budget for that fiscal year each such city or town shall report to the state auditor the salary for that fiscal year of a newly confirmed police officer of that city or town. (Emphasis supplied).

Since the cities and towns do not adopt their budget until August of each fiscal year pursuant to Section 11-1406, R.C.M. 1947, this report is also filed subsequent to the beginning of the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1977. Therefore, the Auditor did not have the necessary information to make the transfer of funds until after the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1977. It did not appear possible to make the transfer until the end of that fiscal year.

The first sentence of Section 11-1846.1, subsection (4), indicates that the State Auditor cannot transfer funds to the treasurer of the cities or towns until he has received the reports referred to in subsections (2) and (3). However, the second sentence requires that the State Auditor pay at the same time as and in addition to the payment under Section 11-1834, R.C.M. 1947, which states:

11-1834. Annual state payments to municipality with police department. At the end of each fiscal year the state auditor shall issue and deliver to the treasurer of each city and town in Montana, having a police department, his warrant for an amount computed in the amount paid (or that would be paid if an existing relief association met the legal requirements for payment) to cities and towns for fire department relief associations pursuant to section 11-1919, R.C.M. 1947. (Emphasis supplied).

Section 11-1834, R.C.M. 1947 states the payment is due "at the end of each fiscal year." The obvious conflict between time of payment and the determination of the amount of the payment is resolved by the remaining portion of Section 11-1834, R.C.M. 1947 which provides that the amount of the warrant be computed in the same manner as the amount paid pursuant to Section 11-1919, R.C.M. 1947.

Section 11-1919, R.C.M. 1947 directs that the firemen's pension fund also be paid at the end of the fiscal year and provides the mechanics for determining the amount to be paid. Section 11-1919, R.C.M. 1947 must, however, be read in pari materia with the other section of the Fireman's Act. Section 11-1920, R.C.M. 1947 states:

11-1920. Estimate of payments. The state auditor shall estimate the portion of premium taxes needed to make the payments required by this act and shall pay an amount equal to the estimate into the state treasury, to the credit of the earmarked revenue fund. The state auditor shall pay the actuary fee as required by section 11-1914. Any balance remaining after such payments have been ordered shall be transferred to the general fund. (Emphasis supplied).

The reference concerning timing and payment in Section 11-1846.1(4) is to Section 11-1834, R.C.M. 1947 which in turn refers to Section 11-1919. This fact and the effective date of the act, indicate the legislature intended to use a uniform process for paying both the police and firemen out of the fund created by premium taxes on insurance. Section 11-1920, R.C.M. 1947 provides for an estimate to be made to fund the payments and this amount to be paid into an earmarked revenue fund, with any balance remaining to revert to the general fund.

It is presumed that the legislature passed Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 with full knowledge of all existing statutes on the same subject, and did not intend to interfere with a former law relating to the same matter unless repugnancy between the two is irreconcilable. Fletcher v. Paige, 124 Mont. 114, 220 P.2d 484, 19 ALR2d 1108 (1950).

Based on the inclusion by reference of method of payment contained in the Fireman's Pension Act, the State Auditor could have estimated the payments needed under Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947 and paid the sums into an earmarked revenue fund. That fund will be adjusted to actual payments when the reports are received and the difference calculated as provided in Section 11-1846.1(4), R.C.M. 1947.

The second question concerns the use of the funds transferred to the treasurer at the end of the fiscal year. In examining the procedure set forth in Section 11-1846.1(5), R.C.M. 1947, a supplement, not reimbursement, is contemplated.

The treasurer of each city or town receiving funds under subsections (4) shall immediately deposit them with the department of administration or to the credit of the city or town's police reserve fund, as the case may be. The department or board of trustees of the fund, as the case may be, shall use the funds to supplement the monthly payments to persons described in subsection (2)(a) through (2)(c) so that the requirements of subsection (1) are met. (Emphasis supplied).

The administrator is to receive the funds from the Auditor before making the supplemental payments to the recipients. Those funds, if the terms of Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947, were strictly adhered to, would not be available until the end of the fiscal year in June, 1978.

Although the legislature intended to remedy the disparity between retirees receiving pensions prior to July 1, 1975, and those retiring subsequent to that date, they misconstrued the method of funding which would be adequate to effectuate that intent.

It must be kept in mind that a statute will not be interpreted to defeat its evident object or purpose, since objects sought to be achieved by legislation are of prime consideration. Doull v. Wohlschlager, 141 Mont. 354, 377 P.2d 758 (1963). Nor should statutory construction lead to contrary results if reasonable construction will avoid it. State ex rel. Ronish v. School District No. 1 of Fergus County, 136 Mont. 453, 348 P.2d 797, 78 ALR2d 1012 (1960). To achieve the object of Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947, and to provide immediate relief to recipients of the police retirement fund it is necessary that the supplement be available on a monthly basis retroactive from July 1, 1977.

To accomplish this, one of two possible approaches may be implemented. The first of these would be to use the payments from the Auditor as a reimbursement, even though a literal reading of the statute does not contemplate this.

The administrator of the Public Employees Retirement Division has assured this office that the reimbursement approach would be feasible and immediate payments could be made from the Municipal Police Officer's Retirement Fund. That fund could then be reimbursed in April, 1978 by payments from the Auditor out of the premium tax collected on insurance.

A better alternative would be for the State Auditor to retrieve the necessary funds from the general fund, pursuant to the expressed statutory intent of the legislature to provide immediate relief for eligible pension recipients.

These would be temporary measures to effectuate the purpose of this legislation. At the same time, the legislature would have an opportunity to consider clarifying the ambiguity of Section 11-1846.1, R.C.M. 1947, in the next session.

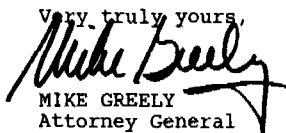

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION:

1. The first supplemental payment to the recipients was intended to be made in July, 1977. A lump sum payment to cover the months of July, August, September and October should be made immediately.

2. The supplement is to be paid in monthly amounts after the initial lump sum payment is made.
3. The appropriate funding to be implemented may be determined by the administrator of the Public Employees Retirement Division in conformity with this opinion.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST - School Trustees, Furnishing Supplies
For the Operation and Maintenance of Schools; SCHOOLS - Trustees, Furnishing Supplies for the Operation and Maintenance of Schools, Conflict of Interest.

HELD: It is unlawful under Section 75-6808,
R.C.M. 1947, for a corporate business in which a school board trustee is a minor stockholder to furnish supplies for the operation and maintenance of the school.

14 October 1977

Keith D. Haker, Esq.
Custer County Attorney
Custer County Courthouse
Miles City, Montana 59301

Dear Mr. Haker:

You have requested my opinion on the following question:

Is it unlawful for a corporate business in which a school board trustee is a minor stockholder, to furnish supplies for the operation and maintenance of the school?

Section 59-501, R.C.M. 1947, sets out a general prohibition against interest by public officials in contracts made in their official capacity. However, Section 75-6808, R.C.M.
1947, is a specific and stricter prohibition against financial interest by school trustees in school affairs. The more specific statute is therefore applicable to the instant situation.

Section 75-6808 provides in part:

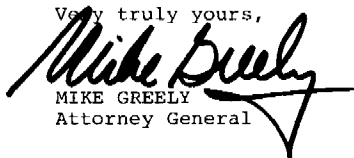

- (1) It is unlawful for any trustee to:
 - (a) have any pecuniary interest, either directly or indirectly, in any contract for the erection of any school building or for the warming, ventilation, furnishing, or repairing the same; or
 - (b) be in any manner connected with the furnishing of supplies for the maintenance and operation of the schools; or
 - (c) be employed in any capacity by the school district of which he is trustee.

It is clear from a comparison of the above-quoted language to that in Section 59-501 that the legislature intended for school trustees to be held to a higher degree of accountability in this regard than public officials generally. While Section 59-501 is specifically inapplicable to a person whose only interest is that of a minority stockholder, Section 75-6808 prohibits being "in any manner connected with" furnishing supplies for the school. Ownership of a minority stock interest in a corporation clearly constitutes the minimal connection required in Section 75-6808.

THEREFORE IT IS MY OPINION:

It is unlawful under Section 75-6808, R.C.M. 1947, for a corporate business in which a school board trustee is a minor stockholder to furnish supplies for the operation and maintenance of the school.

AUDIT - The auditing of post-secondary vocational-technical centers is the responsibility of the Legislative Auditor;

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION - The auditing of post-secondary vocational-technical centers is the responsibility of the Legislative Auditor;

SECTIONS 79-2310, R.C.M. 1947; 79-2301, R.C.M. 1947; 82-4516, R.C.M. 1947.

HELD: The auditing of post-secondary vocational-technical centers is the responsibility of the Legislative Auditor.

17 October 1977

Harold A. Fryslie, Director
Montana Department of Community Affairs
Capitol Station
Helena, Montana 59601

Dear Mr. Fryslie:

You have requested my opinion on the following question:

Is the auditing of post-secondary vocational-technical centers the responsibility of the Department of Community Affairs or the Legislative Auditor?

The auditing responsibilities of the Department of Community Affairs and the Legislative Auditor are found in Section 82-4516, R.C.M. 1947 and Section 79-2310, R.C.M. 1947, respectively.

Section 82-4516, R.C.M. 1947 lists several governmental entities which are subject to audit by the Department of Community Affairs, one of which is "school districts." Each of these enumerated units can be characterized as functions of local government.

The audit responsibilities of the Legislative Auditor, on the other hand, is to audit the financial affairs and transactions of every "state agency." Section 79-2310, R.C.M. 1947. "State agency" is defined for the purposes of the Legislative Audit Act, Section 79-2301 et seq., R.C.M. 1947, as follows:

...all affairs, departments, boards, commissions, institutions, universities, colleges, and any other person or any other administrative unit of state government that spends or encumbers public moneys by virtue of an appropriation from the legislative assembly, or that handles money on behalf of the state, or that holds any trust or agency moneys from any source. (Emphasis supplied). Section 79-2302(1), R.C.M. 1947.

Therefore, the auditing responsibility of the Department of Community Affairs is directed at local government units, whereas the Legislative Auditor must audit every "state agency", as defined by Section 79-2302(1), R.C.M. 1947. Consequently, the determinative issue is whether post-secondary vocational-technical centers are "school districts" within the meaning of Section 82-4516(1)(c), R.C.M. 1947, or "state agencies", as defined by Section 79-2302(1), R.C.M. 1947.

The nature of post-secondary vocational-technical centers is best evidenced by the statutes which created the centers and define their control and direction.

Post-secondary vocational-technical centers were created pursuant to Sections 75-7701, et seq., R.C.M. 1947, making the Board of Public Education the governing board of Montana. Section 75-7702, R.C.M. 1947. The Superintendent of Public Instruction is the executive officer of the Board of Public Education pursuant to Section 75-7703, and Section 75-7708, R.C.M. 1947, gives the Board sole authority to approve post-secondary vocational-technical education programs and their budgets. It should be noted that Ch. 434, Laws of Montana, 1975 which attempted to amend these sections was declared unconstitutional in Board of Education

v. Judge, 167 Mont. 261, 538 P.2d 11 (1975). Therefore, the above-cited statutes remain controlling.

In comparison, school districts are governed by a local board of trustees pursuant to Section 75-5932, R.C.M. 1947, and the trustees have the authority to approve the school district budget. Section 75-6716, R.C.M. 1947.

School districts and post-secondary vocational-technical centers also differ from a financial viewpoint. School districts are primarily financed through taxation by the local government. Section 75-6717, R.C.M. 1947. However, although part of the vocational education financing may come from local taxation, Section 75-7709(1)(a), R.C.M. 1947 states:

(1)The total of the budgets approved by the board of education together with the budget for the cost of state administration of the post-secondary vocational-technical centers shall constitute the total maximum approved, state-wide budget which shall be financed as follows:

(a) The primary source of financing is to be those funds specifically designated by legislative enactment or referendum by the people for financing post-secondary vocational-technical education in Montana. (Emphasis supplied).

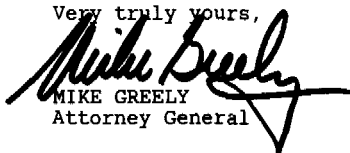

Furthermore, the legislative appropriations for vocational-technical centers are found within the appropriation to the Superintendent of Public Instruction not Public School Support. Montana Session Laws, 1977, Vol. II, p. 1998, H.B. 145. Also, Section 75-7706, R.C.M. 1947 designates the state treasurer as the custodian of all federal and state moneys designated, appropriated or apportioned for vocational education, whereas the county treasurer is the custodian of school district moneys pursuant to Section 75-6805, R.C.M. 1947.

Consequently, post-secondary vocational-technical centers are best characterized, for the purposes of auditing responsibility, as "state agencies" as defined by Section 79-2302(1), R.C.M. 1947, and not as "school districts" within the meaning of Section 82-4516(1)(c), R.C.M. 1947.

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION:

The auditing of post-secondary vocational-technical centers is the responsibility of the Legislative Auditor.

Very truly yours,

MIKE GREELY

RETIREMENT SYSTEMS - A faculty member of the Montana University System is not prohibited from receiving retirement credit for sabbatical performance;

TEACHERS - A faculty member of the Montana University System is not prohibited from receiving retirement credit for sabbatical performance;

EDUCATION, HIGHER - A faculty member of the Montana University System is not prohibited from receiving retirement credit for sabbatical performance;

SECTION 75-6213, R.C.M. 1947.

HELD: Section 76-6213, R.C.M. 1947 does not prohibit a faculty member of the Montana University System from accruing retirement credit for sabbatical performance.

17 October 1977

Dr. Lawrence K. Pettit
Commissioner of Higher Education
Montana University System
33 South Last Chance Gulch
Helena, Montana 59601

Dear Dr. Pettit:

You have requested my opinion on the following question:

Does Section 75-6213, R.C.M. 1947 prohibit a faculty member of the Montana University System from accruing retirement credit for sabbatical performance?

Faculty members in the Montana University System are required to become members of the Teachers Retirement System pursuant to Section 75-6209, R.C.M. 1947. Both the employer and the member contribute over six percent (6%) of the member's monthly salary to the member's retirement system account. Benefits upon retirement are based upon the member's years of "creditable service."

Sabbatical leave is best defined by the faculty's sabbatical policy enacted by the Board of Regents which provides that the sabbatical program or project will be approved only if it will improve the staff member professionally, or directly or indirectly benefit the institution and the state. Eligibility for a sabbatical is based on the following criteria: 1) service which is primarily teaching or research; 2) academic rank; 3) total length of service in the Montana University System with a minimum of seven years of service; and 4) the type and quality of the proposed program. No sabbatical leave may exceed more than one academic year, and throughout this period the faculty member remains under contract with the Montana University System, and the salary received thereunder may not exceed two-thirds of the academic year contract. Although recipients of sabbatical leaves may avail themselves of fellowships, assistantships, or sources of limited income, they are not permitted to maintain full-time employment for any person while on sabbatical leave and receiving payments from the Montana University System. If the faculty member's sabbatical involves an assignment for which he is to receive compensation, the compensation is received by his university unit, which in turn pays the faculty member.

The question presented arose when a faculty member of the University of Montana was recently informed by the Teacher's Retirement System that a twelve-month period in 1974 and 1975 when the faculty member was on a sabbatical did not constitute creditable service. The administrators of the Teacher's Retirement Service based this decision upon Section 75-6213, R.C.M. 1947. All employee contributions withheld during the sabbatical period were refunded, and the employer contributions were removed from the faculty member's retirement account.

Section 75-6213, R.C.M. 1947 concerns the application for and the purchase of creditable service for out-of-state employment, employment while on leave, and service in the armed forces. Subsection (1) addresses employment while on leave as follows:

Any person applying for membership also may apply for creditable service in the retirement system for employment while on leave. The person shall be awarded creditable service, conditional upon his having been a member prior to his leave and upon completing five (5) years of active membership in Montana subsequent to his return, provided his employment while on leave enhanced his teaching experience as determined by the Board. The person shall be awarded creditable service as determined by the Board but for not more than two (2) years, if he contributes to the retirement system an amount equal to the combined employer and employee contributions for his first full year's teaching salary earned in Montana after his return from leave for each year of creditable service plus interest at the rate the contribution would have earned had the contribution been in his account upon completion of five years of membership service in Montana. The contribution rate shall be that rate in effect at the time he is eligible for such service. The contribution may be a lump sum payment or in installments as agreed between the person and the retirement board.

This statute cannot be applied merely on the basis that the word "leave" is used at times to define a sabbatical assignment. The determinative factor is the substance of the sabbatical policy. If Section 75-6213, R.C.M. 1947 applied to all leaves when the member is in an active employment relationship with an "employer," as defined by Section 75-6201(3), R.C.M. 1947, then the member would have to purchase credit for periods of sick leave and vacation leave. This would be an absurd requirement.

The language of Section 75-6213, R.C.M. 1947 contemplates a termination of membership as shown by the first sentence which states "Any person applying for membership..." (Emphasis supplied). However, this is not the case with a faculty member on sabbatical assignment. To earn sabbaticals, faculty members must be employed by the University unit for at least seven years, during which time they are required to be members of the Teacher's Retirement System. The faculty member retains active membership status in the Teacher's Retirement System during the sabbatical. The faculty member continues to be employed by the University unit and has not withdrawn his accumulated contributions to the Retirement System. Therefore, his membership has not terminated as defined by Section 75-6211, R.C.M. 1947, and there is no necessity for his "applying for membership" under Section 75-6213, R.C.M. 1947. Neither does a sabbatical leave result in inactive membership as defined by Section 75-6210, R.C.M. 1947. Consequently, a sabbatical assignment is simply a continuation of employment with the University System, and a faculty member continues to be an active member of the Teacher's Retirement System as defined by Section 75-6209, R.C.M. 1947.

Section 75-6213, R.C.M. 1947 grants to the Retirement Board the power to determine creditable service. However, Section 75-6205, R.C.M. 1947 which defines the powers and duties of the Retirement Board, states under subsection (14)(a):

One year's creditable service shall be awarded for each year of full-time service, outside of vacation periods, but no more than one year's creditable service shall be awarded for service during the same school fiscal year. (Emphasis supplied)

"Service" is defined by Section 75-6201, R.C.M. 1947 as the performance of such instructional duties or related activities as would entitle the person to active membership in the Retirement System under the provisions of Section 75-6209, R.C.M. 1947. A sabbatical assignment as previously defined is a "related activity" that entitles a faculty member to active membership in the Retirement System under the provisions of Section 75-6209, R.C.M. 1947.

Furthermore, member contributions are deducted from the faculty member's compensation and employer contributions are collected during the period of sabbatical assignment, as evidenced by the factual situation in which this dispute arose. Not only does this make any application of the purchase requirement of Section 75-6213(1), R.C.M. 1947 illogical, but Section 75-6212(1), R.C.M. 1947 also states in part:

The creditable service of any member shall include the following:

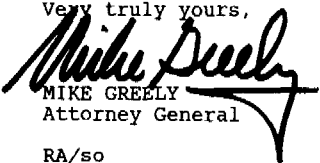

(1) each year of service of a member for which contributions to the retirement system were deducted from his compensation under...this act.... (Emphasis supplied).

In light of the substance of the sabbatical policy, the retirement board is statutorily preempted from denying credit for service performed during sabbatical assignment.

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION:

Section 75-6213, R.C.M. 1947 does not prohibit a faculty member from accruing creditable service and receiving the employer contribution for retirement benefits during the performance of a sabbatical program.

Very truly yours,

MIKE GREELY

BUILDING CODES - State Building Code, Adoption By Local Governing Bodies, Prohibition Against More Stringent Standards;
LOCAL GOVERNMENT - State Building Code, Adoption By Local Governing Bodies, Prohibition Against More Stringent Standards;
SECTION - 69-2112(1), R.C.M. 1947.

HELD: Section 69-2112(1), R.C.M. 1947, prohibits local governing bodies from adopting building codes more stringent than those adopted by the state.

17 October 1977

Jack C. Crosser, Director
Department of Administration
Mitchell Building
Helena, Montana 59601

Dear Mr. Crosser:

You have requested my opinion on the following question:

Does Section 69-2112, R.C.M. 1947, prohibit local governing bodies from adopting building codes more stringent than those adopted by the state?

Title 69, Chapter 21, R.C.M. 1947, establishes a state building code designed to "provide reasonably uniform standards and requirements" for building construction. The

Montana Administrative Register

•• 11-11/25/77

Department of Administration is required to promulgate building codes for all classes of buildings. Local governing bodies are empowered to enforce a local building code, but if they do not, state enforcement of the state building code will prevail.

Section 69-2112(1), prior to being amended in 1977, read as follows:

The local legislative body of a municipality may adopt a municipal building code by ordinance to apply to the municipal jurisdictional area. A municipal building code shall require standards equal to those of the state building code or higher standards. A municipal building code must cover all general areas included in the state building code.

This provision required the local codes to be patterned after the state code, but clearly allowed for the adoption of more stringent standards. Section 69-2112(1) was amended by Chapter 504, Laws of 1977, and now reads as follows:

The local legislative body of a municipality or county may adopt a municipal building code by ordinance to apply to the municipal or county jurisdictional area. A municipal or county building code may include only codes adopted by the department.

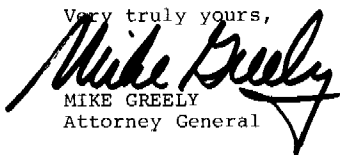

The new statute deletes the language that the local regulations "shall" be equal to or higher than the state building code, and the former requirement that the local code "must" cover all areas covered by the state building code.

This is clearly an instance in which the legislature intended an amendment to change the substance of a statute. Comparing the former language of Section 69-2112(1) with its present form, it is apparent that a local governing body may now adopt only provisions of the state building code, and no other provisions. This would apply either to lower or higher standards. I have previously held that a local building code may include part, but need not include all, of the state building code (Opinion 66, Vol. 37). The effect of Section 69-2112(1), makes the state building code the only standards local governing bodies may adopt.

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION:

Section 69-2112(1), R.C.M. 1947, prohibits local governing bodies from adopting building codes more stringent than those adopted by the state.

Very truly yours,

MIKE GREELY

OPINION NO. 82

BOARD OF PARDONS - Responsibilities and powers of the Board of Pardons in administering prisoner furlough program;

DEPARTMENT OF INSTITUTIONS - Responsibilities and powers of the Board of Pardons and Department of Institutions in administering the prisoner furlough program;

PRISONER FURLOUGHS - Responsibilities and powers of the Board of Pardons and Department of Institutions in administering the prisoner furlough program.

SECTION - 95-2219 et seq., R.C.M. 1947.

- HELD: 1. The Board of Pardons must adopt rules defining its procedures for reviewing furlough applications, and may in its discretion adopt rules interpreting and further defining the statutory criteria for its decisions. In deciding whether to approve or deny furlough applications, the Board of Pardons is required to consider the prisoner's furlough plans, criminal history, and pertinent case material. The Board may adopt interpretive rules further defining the factors encompassed by these categories, including a rule which permits consideration of the time remaining on an applicant's sentence where the time relates to the appropriateness of the proposed furlough plan.
2. Unless the Department of Institutions has adopted reasonable rules prohibiting application by certain prisoners until a certain state of incarceration, a prisoner may make application for furlough and have his application promptly considered at any time during his incarceration. No rule may prevent a prisoner from applying for furlough at any time after he has served one-half the time required to be considered for parole.

3. The Department of Institutions, not the Board, may make periodic review and revision of furlough plans a condition of individual furlough agreements.
4. The Board of Pardons shall solicit information about pertinent case material from officials and individuals in the sentencing community before deciding whether to approve or deny a furlough application. It is the responsibility of the Department of Institutions to notify and to obtain approval of law enforcement agencies to which the furlougee is released.

17 October 1977

Mr. Henry E. Burgess
Board of Pardons
Carroll College
Helena, Montana 59601

Dear Mr. Burgess:

You have requested my opinion regarding the following questions:

1. Under the prisoner furlough program, what are the rule-making responsibilities and powers of the Board of Pardons? Specifically, is the Board required to adopt rules governing its procedures for consideration of furlough applications? May it also adopt rules specifying the criteria the Board will consider in deciding whether to approve or deny furlough applications? May such criteria take account of the time remaining on an applicant prisoner's sentence?
2. When may a prisoner make application to participate in the furlough program?
3. May the Board require that individual furlough plans be periodically reviewed or revised?

4. What is the extent of the Board's responsibility for informing criminal justice authorities and members of the sentencing community about an application for furlough? Are special notification procedures permitted or required when life sentences are involved?

I

The prisoner furlough program, more accurately labeled a work and educational release program, is established pursuant to Sections 95-2217 and 95-2226.1, R.C.M. 1947. Responsibility for administration of the program is delegated to both the Department of Institutions and the Board of Pardons. The division of responsibility has created some confusion concerning the respective authority of the Department and the Board.

The Legislature has given the Department of Institutions general responsibility for the furlough program, including rule-making responsibility. Sections 95-2219 and 95-2223, R.C.M. 1947. Within the framework of the Department's general authority over the furlough program, the Board of Pardons is given responsibility for approving or denying individual applications to participate in the program, Sections 95-2221(1), R.C.M. 1947, and for adjudicating requests for furlough revocation, Section 95-2226.1, R.C.M. 1947. These are quasi-judicial functions, as defined in Section 82A-103(9), R.C.M. 1947:

"Quasi-judicial function" means an adjudicatory function exercised by an agency, involving the exercise of judgment and discretion in making determinations in controversies. The term includes, but is not limited to, the functions of interpreting, applying, and enforcing existing rules and laws; granting or denying privileges, rights, or benefits; issuing, suspending, or revoking licenses, permits, and certificates; determining rights and interests of adverse parties; evaluating and passing on facts; awarding compensation; fixing prices; ordering action or abatement of action; adopting procedural rules; holding hearings; and any other act necessary to the performance of a quasi-judicial function. (Emphasis supplied.)

The foregoing definition expressly recognizes that procedural and interpretive rule-making powers are incident to "quasi-judicial" functions such as those given the Board under the furlough program. The Board may therefore adopt both procedural rules and rules which interpret provisions of the Furlough Act.

Adoption of procedural rules by the Board is mandatory. Although the Board is generally exempted from the rule-making requirements and procedures of the Montana Administrative Procedure Act (MAPA), it is expressly subject to those MAPA provisions which require state agencies and boards to adopt procedural rules. Section 82-4202(1)(a), R.C.M. 1947 (as amended by Chapter 285, Laws of 1977). Section 82-4203, R.C.M. 1947, enumerates those rules, providing in relevant part:

* * * each agency shall:

* * *

(b) adopt rules of practice, not inconsistent with statutory provisions, setting forth the nature and requirements of all formal and informal procedures available, including a description of all forms and instructions used by the agency.

Pursuant to this provision, the Board is required to adopt rules governing all procedures and proceedings for the submission and review of furlough applications and describing all forms and instructions used by the Board in connection therewith.

Several procedural rules are already prescribed for the Board by statute. Section 95-2221(1), R.C.M. 1947, provides:

At the meeting of the board following the signing of any prisoner's application the board shall approve or deny the application of each prisoner after careful study of the prisoner's furlough plans, criminal history, and all other pertinent case material. The following rules shall be observed when the board meets to consider an application:

(a) each applicant may call two (2) witnesses from outside or inside the institution to testify as to the applicant's general attitude, participation in self-help activities, or his character or job references;

(b) an applicant may remain present during the board proceedings on his application; however, the board may meet in executive session without the applicant for final decision on the application;

(c) the board shall cause the applicant to be notified of its decision immediately and shall provide the applicant with a written decision including a thorough statement of the reasons for the decision within two (2) days following adjournment;

(d) each applicant shall be viewed singly, and shall be recognized as an individual;

(e) each applicant shall be allowed to discuss any specific problem areas with any member of the board.

The Board cannot vary or disregard these statutory procedures and should incorporate them in any procedural rules it adopts. The Board must adopt rules describing any further procedural requirements or safeguards and forms and instructions it intends to use for furlough applications.

The adoption of interpretive rules is discretionary rather than mandatory. Standards applicable to the review of furlough applications are provided by Section 95-2221(1), R.C.M. 1947, which directs the Board to approve or deny an application "after careful study of the prisoner's furlough plans, criminal history, and all other pertinent case material." The standards are general ones and the Board may adopt rules which more precisely define each of the three factors it must consider in its decision process, such rules being "interpretive" ones, see Section 82-4202(2), R.C.M. 1947.

Whether the Board adopts interpretive rules or proceeds on an ad hoc decisional basis, the Board must consider all of the statutory factors set forth in Section 95-2221(1) and permit the introduction of relevant evidence bearing on them. Secretary of Agriculture v. Central Roig Refining Co., 338 U.S. 604, 612, 94 L.Ed. 38, 70 S.Ct. 403 (1950). Since the statute mandates consideration of all three factors, the Board cannot adopt any rule or make any decision based upon the consideration of any single factor or upon any criteria other than the statutory ones. It is axiomatic that "an administrative agency . . . has no power to create a rule or regulation that is out of harmony with the statutory grant of its authority." Ruiz v. Morton, 462 F.2d 818, 822 (9th Cir. 1972), aff'd, 415 U.S. 199, 39 L.Ed. 2d 270, 94 S.Ct. 1055 (1974). The Board may not adopt any criterion permitting the denial of an application on account of a single factor, such as the nature of the particular crime for which the applicant was sentenced or the amount of time remaining on the applicant's sentence. The Board may adopt or apply criteria which are related to and are encompassed within the three statutory factors which the Board must consider under Section 95-2221(1). For example, the Board might adopt a rule further defining criminal history as including the applicant's prior criminal history, the nature of the crime for which he is currently incarcerated, and the circumstances which have led to his prior criminal acts.

In deciding what matters are encompassed within the category "other pertinent case material", the Board must be guided by the purpose of the furlough program and the nature of the Board's responsibilities thereunder. The general purpose of the program is to rehabilitate, educate, train and gainfully employ prisoners, while increasing their responsibility to society, Section 95-2217, R.C.M. 1947, without unduly endangering the public, see Section 95-2226.1(2) & (3), R.C.M. 1947. The criteria adopted by the Board must relate to matters concerning the applicant's background which bear upon whether the applicant will benefit from the furlough program without unduly endangering the public.

The final part of your first question asks whether in deciding to approve or disapprove furlough applications the Board may adopt a specific criterion taking into account the remaining time on the applicant's sentence. I have already pointed out that the Board may not base its decisions on any single factor but must weigh all three statutory standards. Furthermore, any denial of an application based solely on the time remaining on the applicant's sentence would violate an explicit legislative policy that after serving one-half of the time required for parole eligibility, a prisoner is eligible for participation in the furlough program, Section 95-2220, R.C.M. 1947, and see infra, page 6.

However, time remaining on an applicant's sentence has direct relevance to determining whether a particular furlough plan is appropriate and should be approved. A short term plan may be unsuitable for an applicant who has a long term wait before reaching parole eligibility. The time remaining on the applicant's sentence taken together with the nature of his past crimes and past inability to adjust in free society may indicate that a particular long term program is inappropriate. The Board may consider the length of sentence in this context. Finally, since the Board of Pardons is attached to the Department of Institutions "for administrative purposes only," Section 82A-804, R.C.M. 1947, and must "exercise its quasi-judicial * * * functions independently of the department and without approval or control of the department," Section 82A-108, R.C.M. 1947, it alone has the authority to promulgate rules governing procedures for the review of furlough applications. The Board must exercise its independent judgment in approving and denying applications. The interpretation and application of the statutory standards of review are subject neither to the control nor direction of the Department, although the Board's decisions are ultimately reviewable by the Department under Sections 95-2219(4) and 95-2221(e)(7), R.C.M. 1947.

II

Your second question concerns the time at which a prisoner may apply for a furlough. That time is set forth in Section 95-2220, R.C.M. 1947, which provides:

Any prisoner confined in the state prison except a prisoner serving a sentence imposed under 95-2206(3) may make application to participate in the furlough program at least by the time the inmate has served one-half of the time required to be considered for parole. (Emphasis supplied.)

The present language was adopted in 1975 by Section 4 of Chapter 496, Laws of 1975, with the exception of the words, "except a prisoner serving a sentence imposed under 95-2206(3)," which were added by Chapter 580, Laws of 1977.

Section 95-2220 has been construed and interpreted by a prior Attorney General's Opinion found at 36 Official Opinions of the Attorney General, No. 19 (1975), which held that under Section 95-2220:

A prisoner may apply for participation in the work furlough program at any time but he is not eligible for release on work furlough until he has completed half of the time required by eligibility for parole. (Emphasis supplied.)

The District Court in Hawkins v. State, No. 40222, First Judicial District (1977) held that this interpretation was erroneous:

4. Section 95-2220, R.C.M. 1947, does not require that an inmate have served one-half of the time required to be served to be eligible for parole in order to have his application for work furlough submitted and considered by the Board of Pardons.

5. In the event applicant inmate's application for work furlough is approved by the Board of Pardons in accordance with Section 95-2221, applicant may be released on work furlough prior to having served one-half the time required for parole consideration.

Section 95-2220 expressly concerns the time at which a prisoner may apply for a furlough, that time being "at least by the time the inmate has served one-half (1/2) of the time required to be considered for parole." The language of Section 95-2220 must be construed in such a way that each of its components has some meaning, vitality and effect. Burritt v. City of Butte, 161 Mont. 530, 534, 508 P.2d 563 (1973). The words "at least" can be given vitality only by reading the section to mean that any application submitted before the designated half-way point may be accepted and considered, but any application submitted after that time must be accepted and considered upon its merits. There is no administrative discretion as to whether or not to accept application after the designated half-way point, but there is discretion to require prisoners to have served a minimum portion of their sentence, up to the half-way point, before they become eligible to apply for furlough. The authority to impose a minimum time requirement is with the Department rather than the Board. The Board's role under the furlough program is limited to adjudications of the merits of applications for furlough or furlough revocation, while the Department is given broad and comprehensive power, including rule-making authority, over all other aspects of the furlough program. Sections 95-2219 and 95-2223, R.C.M. 1947.

Determination of what time prior to the half-way point, if any, a prisoner may submit a furlough application is not susceptible to a case-by-case, quasi-judicial determination, but is legislative in nature. Any minimum time prerequisite to eligibility for furlough must be imposed, if at all, by rule. At the present time the Department has no rule restricting the time by which application may be made and since Section 95-2220 does not by itself prescribe a minimum time, any prisoner other than one sentenced under Section 95-2206(3), may apply for a furlough. Hawkins v. State, supra.

If in the future the Department decides to adopt a requirement that prisoners serve a minimum portion of their term before they may apply for furlough, it must do so upon some articulated rational basis relating to the objectives of the program. The Legislature could easily have written a blanket, minimum time requirement into the statute. By using words of discretion, the Legislature intended that the Department should apply its practical experience in deciding the time at which prisoners should be considered for furlough. As an example of a permissible basis for a rule, the Department's experience may indicate that the purposes of the furlough program are best served by requiring perpetrators of certain violent offenses to wait the full one-half time to parole eligibility before they may apply for furlough. While experience with other classes of convicts may indicate that such prisoners would benefit from the program much earlier in their incarceration.

III

Your third question asks whether the Board may require individual furlough plans to be periodically reviewed or revised.

The Board's role under the Furlough Act is adjudicatory. See supra, page 2. Its function is to determine whether the applicant is a good candidate for furlough under the general plan or program he proposes. Once approval is given, the Board's role ends and the Department takes over. The Department is given responsibility for finding a supervising agency for the furloughee, Section 95-2221(3), R.C.M. 1947, and is responsible for fashioning the terms and conditions of release in a written agreement, Section 95-2221(3), R.C.M. 1947. "Final authority in all matters pertaining to prisoner furloughs is in the department." Section 95-2221(5), R.C.M. 1947. These explicit provisions give the Department authority and control over the particulars and details of furlough plans and indicate that the Boards quasi-judicial function does not extend to conditioning its approval of any furlough plan upon the incorporation of any particular term or condition in the plan.

Although the Board cannot require periodic review and revisions of a furlough plan, the foregoing recitation of the Department's responsibilities and powers establishes that the Department has the power to attach such terms and conditions to furlough plans. Section 95-2221(3), R.C.M. 1947, provides in relevant part:

The supervising agency, the department, and the applicant shall enter into a written agreement .

setting out the conditions and purposes of the furlough and specifying the responsibility assumed by each of the parties.

The repositing of "final authority in all matters" with the Department, Section 95-2221(5), R.C.M. 1947, makes it the final judge of the terms agreements will contain. Although the Legislature has not specified what types of conditions may be attached to furlough agreements, in light of the purpose of the furlough provisions, the Department may include any conditions which further the purposes of the furlough program.

Periodic review, particularly of lengthy furloughs, is a reasonable and necessary response to the possibility of future changes which may effect the purpose and efficaciousness of the plan.

IV

Your final question concerns the responsibilities of the Board to notify the community from which a prisoner was sentenced that the prisoner has applied for a furlough.

The only statutory requirement for notification is found in Section 95-2221(6), R.C.M. 1947, which provides:

When an inmate is to reside in the county or tribal jail, the consent of the sheriff or tribal chief of police in the receiving county or reservation is necessary. However, when the inmate is to reside in a community corrections center or some other supervised setting the sheriff or tribal chief of police of the receiving county or reservation shall be notified.

This notification is mandatory but concerns notification only of the law enforcement officials in the receiving community. It is not clear whether the duty to notify falls upon the Board or the Department. In view of the provisions in Section 95-2221 and the Department's overall responsibility in locating a supervisory agency and executing a furlough agreement, the duty is the Department's. A supervising agency is located by the Department only after the Board approves the application, Section 95-2221(2), R.C.M. 1947, and the board's functions end.

The Department has adopted a rule which provides in part:

Montana Administrative Register

 11-11/25/77

The board shall have the responsibility to notify receiving county sheriff and sentencing judge of the release of the furlonghee.

Montana Administrative Code, §20-2.4(1) --§470. Although the rule does not seek to control the Board of Pardons in exercising its quasi-judicial or quasi-legislative functions, it does interfere with the Board's autonomy and improperly delegates the Department's responsibility of notification under Section 95-2221(b). It is my opinion that this rule is invalid.

The furlough program does not require notification to the community from which the applicant was sentenced either before or after approval of the application. However, individuals and officials in the sentencing community may possess information about the applicant's past activities which could be considered "pertinent case material" relevant to the furlough decision. In particular, the prosecuting attorney may possess such information. In fulfilling its duty to carefully study "pertinent case material," it is my opinion that the Board should adopt a policy of notifying those individuals in the sentencing community who are likely to have information about a prisoner's past and may request them to furnish relevant information concerning the applicant. This policy is consistent with the statement of principal contained in Section 95-2223(2), R.C.M. 1947:

All state, county and local agencies shall be encouraged to co-operate in the administration of the furlough program.

If the Board also concludes that certain classes of prisoners (e.g., those convicted of violent crimes, or those sentenced to life sentences), should have their case histories subjected to closer scrutiny than is necessary for other classes of applicants, it may adopt a policy of giving public notice through a local newspaper to the sentencing community that a prisoner has applied for a furlough. However, mere community "sentiment" concerning furlough of the prisoner is not "pertinent case material" and the Board has no authority to solicit or consider such sentiment.

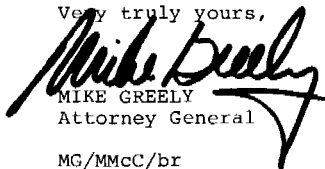

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION:

1. The Board of Pardons must adopt rules defining its procedures for reviewing furlough applications, and may in its discretion adopt rules interpreting and further defining the statutory criteria for its decisions. In deciding whether to approve or deny furlough applications, the Board of Pardons is required to consider the prisoner's furlough plans, criminal history, and pertinent case material. The Board may adopt interpretive rules further defining the factors encompassed by these categories, including a rule which permits consideration of the time remaining on an applicant's sentence where the time relates to the appropriateness of the proposed furlough plan.

2. Unless the Department of Institutions has adopted reasonable rules prohibiting application by certain prisoners until a certain stage of incarceration, a prisoner may make application for furlough and have his application promptly considered at any time during his incarceration. No rule may prevent a prisoner from applying for furlough at any time after he has served one-half the time required to be considered for parole.
3. The Department of Institutions, not the Board, may make periodic review and revision of furlough plans a condition of individual furlough agreements.
4. The Board of Pardons shall solicit information about pertinent case material from officials and individuals in the sentencing community before deciding whether to approve or deny a furlough application. It is the responsibility of the Department of Institutions to notify and to obtain approval of law enforcement agencies to which the furloughee is released.

SECTIONS 16-2041, 75-6501, 75-7133 to 7138, 75-7137, R.C.M.
1947.

HELD: The money remaining in a bond debt service (sinking and interest) fund after payment of a bond debt incurred for a county high school must be transferred to the county general fund unless the board of county commissioners directs that such funds be transferred to another series or issue of county bonds.

27 October 1977

James J. Masar, Esq.
County Attorney
Powell County
Deer Lodge, Montana 59711

Dear Mr. Masar:

You have requested my opinion on the following question:

What is the proper disposition of funds remaining in a bond debt service (sinking and interest) fund after payment of a bond debt which was incurred for a county high school under Title 75, Chapter 71, R.C.M. 1947?

Montana Administrative Register

11-11/25/77

County high schools, unlike district high schools, have no bonding authority. Section 75-6501, R.C.M. 1947. Instead, bonds are issued by the county as county obligations pursuant to Sections 75-7133 to 7138, R.C.M. 1947. The county commissioners are responsible for submitting the bond question to the electors, and in issuing, marketing, and paying the bonds, treat them as any other county bond. Sections 75-7135 and 7137, R.C.M. 1947. Therefore, the general provisions governing county bonds, rather than the district high school statutes, must be looked to in determining the proper disposition of surplus funds.

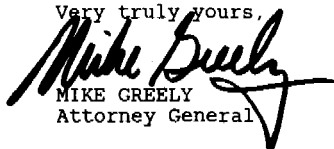

Section 16-2041, R.C.M. 1947 directs the disposition of funds remaining after payment of county bonds:

When all bonds...have been fully paid, or called in for payment, and there remains...any amount not required for the payment of such (county) bonds and interest, such excess amount and all amounts subsequently collected for such fund shall be transferred to the general fund of the county, or to the sinking and interest fund of any other series or issue of bonds outstanding that the board of county commissioners may designate.

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION:

The money remaining in a bond debt service (sinking and interest) fund after payment of a bond debt incurred for a county high school must be transferred to the county general fund unless the board of county commissioners directs that such funds be transferred to another series or issue of county bonds.

OPINION NO. 84

COUNTY ATTORNEYS - Salary, private practice;

COUNTY ATTORNEYS - Deputies;

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS - Power to increase county attorney's salary.

HELD: The county commissioners of a fourth class county which did not adopt a self-government charter have no power to increase the county attorney's statutory salary in exchange for an agreement by such attorney not to engage in private practice.

27 October 1977

Board of County Commissioners
Park County
Livingston, Montana 59047

Dear Board members:

You have requested my opinion on the following questions:

1. May the county commissioners of a fourth class county increase the county attorney's salary in exchange for an agreement by such attorney not to engage in private practice?
2. If such full-time county employment is permitted, would the State reimburse the county as they do now, based on the schedule set forth in Section 25-605, R.C.M. 1947?

The salaries of county attorneys are fixed and limited by Section 25-605, R.C.M. 1947, which provides in pertinent part as follows:

The total salary paid to...county attorneys... shall be the sum of the salary shown in column A based on population when added to the salary shown in column B based on taxable valuation; provided, however, that...county attorneys shall receive in addition to (such salary), the sum of $1,200 per year. (Emphasis added).

Section 25-609.1, R.C.M. 1947 requires the county commissioners to fix the county attorney's salary "in conformity with the appropriate salary schedule pertaining to (that) office."

The duty is mandatory and the county has no power to increase the salary. See Matson v. O'Hern, 104 Mont. 126, 142, 65 P.2d 619 (1937). Similarly, it is against public policy to increase the salary of a county attorney for performing any services imposed upon such public officer by law. Vol. 37, Opinions of the Attorney General, Opinion No. 63 (1977). This general proposition, however, has no application to counties which have adopted self-government charters, and such counties may increase the salaries of their county attorneys. Vol. 37, Opinions of the Attorney General, Opinion No. 70 (1977).

Because you may not increase the county attorney's salary, it is unnecessary to answer your second question.

However, short of legislative amendment, there is an alternative you might consider. This would alleviate your problem which is, due to demands placed upon the county attorney by his county and private work, not always available when the commissioners need his advice or services.

The alternative is the employment of a deputy county attorney. Section 16-3706, R.C.M. 1947, states that "[t]he whole number of deputies allowed the county attorney in counties of the first and second class must not exceed one chief deputy, and one deputy; and in all other counties such deputies as may be allowed by the board of county commissioners, not to exceed one chief deputy and one deputy. (Emphasis added).

You have the power to fix the deputy's compensation, subject only to the limitation that his salary may not exceed 90% of the county attorney's salary. Section 25-604, R.C.M. 1947.

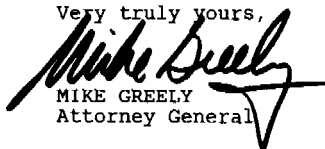

His entire salary would be paid out of the contingent fund as a county obligation. Section 25-602, R.C.M. 1947.

You may employ the deputy for less than a full year, for instance on a month-to-month or contract basis, in which case you must compensate him for the time so employed. Section 25-604, R.C.M. 1947. This alternative offers you wide freedom. A cooperative effort made between you and the county attorney in employing and fixing the duties of such deputy, would assure you available legal counsel in all instances.

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION THAT:

The county commissioners of a fourth class county which has not adopted a self-government charter may not increase the county attorney's statutory salary in exchange for an agreement by such attorney not to engage in private practice.

Very truly yours,

MIKE GREELY

John G. Winston, Esq.
Silver Bow County Attorney
Silver Bow County Courthouse
Butte, Montana 59701

Dear Mr. Winston:

You have requested my opinion as to the amount allowed a court reporter for transcripts prepared for use on appeal to the Montana Supreme Court. The specific questions you have asked are as follows:

1. Does the 7 1/2 cents per folio fee, as provided in Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947, apply to transcripts to be used on appeal to the Montana Supreme Court?
2. If so, are charges in addition to the 7 1/2 cents per folio under Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947 allowable?
3. Does the 7 1/2 cents per folio apply to each page of the original and copies including the title page and index pages? and
4. What is the definition of "folio" as used in Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947?

A court reporter is appointed by the judge of each district court, and serves as an officer of the court at the pleasure of the appointing judge. Section 93-1901, R.C.M. 1947. The compensation received by a court reporter for performance of his official duties is governed by Section 93-1906(1), R.C.M. 1947, which states in part:

Each reporter is entitled to receive an annual salary of not less than $12,500 or more than $16,000 and no other compensation except as provided in 93-1904....(Emphasis supplied).

Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947 in turn states:

(1) Each reporter must furnish, upon request, with all reasonable diligence, to the defendant in a criminal case or a party or his attorney in a civil case in which he has attended the trial or hearing a copy, written out at length or in narrative form from his stenographic notes, of the testimony and proceedings upon the trial or hearing, or a part thereof, upon payment by the person requiring the same of 7 1/2 cents per folio.

(2) If the county attorney, attorney general, or judge requires a copy in a criminal case, the reporter is entitled to his fees therefor, but he must furnish it. Upon furnishing it, he shall receive a certificate of the sum to which he is so entitled, which is a county charge and must be paid by the county treasurer upon the certificate like other county charges.

(3) If the judge requires a copy in a civil case to assist him in rendering a decision, the reporter must furnish the same without charge therefor. In civil cases, all transcripts required by the county shall be furnished without cost.

(4) If it appears to the judge that a defendant in a criminal case is unable to pay for a copy, it shall be furnished to him and paid for by the county.

The Montana Supreme Court discussed the duties of a court reporter and the compensation allowed in State ex rel. Kranich v. Supple, 22 Mont. 184, 188, 56 P. 20 (1899):

An officer is always entitled to compensation for performing the duties to which the law attaches compensation. When the law provides no extra compensation, as in this case, he is not entitled to any. He must nevertheless perform the duty just as promptly and efficiently. He must not be permitted to evade or shirk his duty in the least, however unpleasant and onerous it may be. If he does not care to perform the duties of his office for the compensation fixed by law, he is not compelled to retain it. Some one else can be found to take his place.

Neither, on the other hand, will the law permit the officer to be imposed upon by the citizen who demands more of him than the law enjoins. It is not permissible for the relator, or any other citizen, to demand of the respondent, under claim of right to the memorandum provided for by the statute a transcript of the testimony, or any substantial part thereof. The one can be demanded as of right without compensation. The other can be demanded only upon tender of the lawful fees. (Emphasis supplied).

Furthermore, the Court stated in Pelletier v. Glacier County, 107 Mont. 221, 225, 82 P.2d 595 (1938):

In view of the strictly prohibitory language of the legislature, limiting the stenographer's salary and fees to definite specified amounts for definite services rendered, it is incumbent upon the stenographer clearly and unequivocally to show that his claim comes within the statute allowing fees over and above his official salary. If he is unable to do this, the presumption is that his services were rendered for his official salary....

To find that Section 95-1904, R.C.M. 1947 is inapplicable to transcripts to be used on appeal to the Montana Supreme Court and that a court reporter is entitled to fees in excess of the 7 1/2 cents per folio, would necessitate a finding that furnishing copies of the trial proceedings for an appeal is not a duty or service to be performed by the court reporter. This would directly conflict with the spirit of the legislation defining the duties and services to be performed by the court reporter. Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947 as previously set forth makes no mention whatsoever of making the reporter's duty to furnish a transcript conditional upon any particular use to be made thereof.

It may be suggested that Sullivan v. County Commissioners, 124 Mont. 364, 224 P.2d 135 (1950), renders Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947 totally inapplicable to the situation at hand. However, a complete reading of that decision, in light of the issue that was before the Court, indicates that the holding was not intended to affect the duties of court reporters. In Sullivan, the court reporter had been ordered to make available six copies of a transcript for an indigent defendant in a criminal case. When his claim was presented to the county, the county contended that Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947, made the county liable for only one copy. In response to this contention the Montana Supreme Court stated, at 367:

It will be observed from the terms of Section 93-1904, supra, and the history thereof, that this section only governs the furnishing of copies of the transcript of record for use in the trial court and that it has nothing to do with appeals to the Supreme Court.

We find that the legislature has studiously refrained from enacting any statute in regard to the number of copies of the transcript, briefs, or other such matters necessary on appeal to this court, and rightly so, recognizing the fact that this court is better qualified to judge its needs in this respect and it is amply empowered to promulgate the necessary rules to require that such needs be supplied. (Emphasis supplied)

Consequently, Sullivan, supra, does not address the scope of the court reporter's duty under Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947, but the inapplicability of Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947 in limiting the number of copies of a transcript required by the Montana Supreme Court to perfect an appeal. To give Sullivan the broad interpretation that Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947 imposes a duty upon the court reporter to furnish a copy of the transcript when, and only when, the transcript is to be used in the district court, would insert a conditional duty where none is contemplated by the statute. The only contingency set forth in Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947 is the payment of the fees prior to the furnishing of the transcript in certain circumstances. It would be ludicrous, to say the least, to create a situation wherein the court reporter has a statutory duty to furnish a transcript for use in the district court, but no duty to provide the same transcript if the use intended was to perfect an appeal to the Montana Supreme Court.

It is clear from a plain reading of Sections 93-1902 through 1904, R.C.M. 1947 that the court reporter must attend all court proceedings and record the testimony given, unless excused by the district judge, file with the clerk a report of all objections, rulings, and decisions made, and to furnish a transcript of the proceedings when requested by the persons enumerated in Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947. The court reporter is, however, entitled to the statutory fee when a transcript is furnished, unless requested by the judge or the county in a civil case. The duty to furnish a transcript exists regardless of the use contemplated by the requesting party. As stated in York v. Steward, 30 Mont. 367, 369, 76 P.756 (1904):

The right to rely upon him (court reporter) is granted under these provisions of the statute, and he may be compelled to perform the resulting duty to furnish copies upon proper application (cite omitted);.... (Emphasis supplied)

Therefore, the furnishing of transcripts, regardless of the use intended, being within the statutory duties of a court reporter, the court reporter is not entitled to compensation in excess of the amount provided by law. State ex rel. Kranich v. Supple, supra. In answer to your first two questions 1) Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947 does apply when computing the compensation allowed for transcripts to be used on appeal to the Montana Supreme Court; and 2) additional charges in excess of the 7 1/2 cents per folio are not allowable.

The answer to your third question is provided by Sullivan v. County Commissioners, supra, wherein the county was required to pay the lawful fees for all the copies furnished for the appeal. Furthermore, the title page and index being necessary to adequately utilize the transcript, it is apparent the fees provided in Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947, also apply to those pages.

As for your fourth question, the term "folio" is not defined within the statutes addressing court reporters and their duties. However, "folio" is defined in Section 25-215, R.C.M. 1947, which states:

The term "folio," when used as a measure for computing fees, means one hundred words, counting every two figures, necessarily used, as a word. Any portion of a folio, when in the whole paper there is not a complete folio, and when there is an excess over the last folio exceeding one-half, may be computed as a folio.

As stated in Section 12-215, R.C.M. 1947:

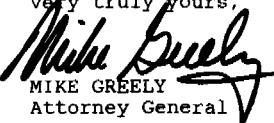

Whenever the meaning of a word or phrase is defined in any part of this code, such definition is applicable to the same word or phrase wherever it occurs, except where a contrary intention plainly appears.

No contrary intention plainly appears in Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947, especially since the Montana Supreme Court has held that the court reporter is an officer of the court and the sums paid to him for copies are designated as "fees." State ex rel. Donovan v. Ledividge, 27 Mont. 197, 70 P. 511 (1902). Therefore, the definition as found in Section 25-215, R.C.M. 1947 would apply. The exact method of determining the number of "folios" on a certain piece of paper, is not defined, and is therefore left to the discretion of the parties involved.

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION:

1. The 7 1/2 cents per folio, provided in Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947 does apply to transcripts furnished for use on appeal to the Montana Supreme Court;
2. Charges in addition to the 7 1/2 cents per folio, provided in Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947 are not allowable;
3. The 7 1/2 cents per folio, provided in Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947, applies to each page of the original and copies, including the title pages and the index pages; and
4. The term "folio," as used in Section 93-1904, R.C.M. 1947, is defined in the same manner as the definition provided in Section 25-215, R.C.M. 1947.

OPINION NO. 86

CREDIT UNIONS - Prohibition against checking account services, share draft programs;

CHECKING ACCOUNTS - Credit unions, share draft programs prohibited.

SECTIONS 14-613, 14-676, R.C.M. 1947.

HELD: State-chartered credit unions are prohibited by Section 14-613(16), R.C.M. 1947, from offering "share draft" programs. However, the Director of the Department of Business Regulation may authorize them to do so upon written request submitted pursuant to Section 14-676, R.C.M. 1947.

10 November 1977

Kent Kleinkopf, Director
Department of Business Regulation
805 North Main
Helena, Montana 59601

Dear Mr. Kleinkopf:

You have requested my opinion on the following question:

May a state-chartered credit union offer a "share draft" program under Section 14-613(16), R.C.M. 1947?

Section 14-613 is a detailed enumeration of the general powers of a state-chartered credit union and provides in part:

A credit union may:

* * *

(16) collect, receive and disburse moneys in connection with the sale of negotiable checks, money orders and other money type instruments, and for such other purposes as may provide benefit or convenience to its members, and charge a reasonable fee for such services, but not including checking account services. [Emphasis added.]

The question is whether share draft programs fall within the above-quoted prohibition against checking account services.

A share draft is an instrument which directs a credit union to withdraw funds from a member's account and to pay those funds either to the member or to a third party designated by the member. A share draft is payable through a bank and is in operation similar to or identical with the common bank check. While there are some operational and definitional differences between checking accounts and share drafts, these are differences of form rather than substance, especially in the context of Section 14-613(16) which broadly and without elaboration prohibits "checking account services."

The Montana Credit Union Act (Section 14-601, et seq.) does not define the term "checking account services," and no usable definition was found in the banking statutes (See, e.g., Section 5-1001). Section 87A-3-104 of the Uniform Commercial Code provides:

(1) Any writing to be a negotiable instrument within this chapter must

- (a) be signed by the maker or drawer; and
- (b) contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money and no other promise, order, obligation or power given by the maker or drawer except as authorized by this chapter; and
- (c) be payable on demand or at a definite time; and
- (d) be payable to order or to bearer.

(2) A writing which complies with the requirements of this section is

* * *

- (a) a "draft" ("bill of exchange") if it is an order;

- (b) a "check" if it is a draft drawn on a bank and payable on demand;

* * *

A general definition of check has been stated as:

A check may be defined as a bill of exchange drawn on a bank and payable on demand. It is drawn against funds on deposit in a bank, and its office is well understood in all commercial circles. Checks on banks are made to take the place of actual cash, although the check itself is the means of obtaining money of the drawer from the bank for the holder of the check.

10 Am. Jur. 2d, Banks, §538. Further definition is provided as:

A check is an order drawn upon a bank purporting to be drawn upon a deposit of funds for the payment in all events of a certain sum of money to a person or his order or to bearer upon demand. The sole function of a check is to transfer money, and it is of the essence that it should be payable in money.

11 Am. Jur. 2d, Bills and Notes, §16. In Brown v. Bank of Newkirk, 291 P.2d 828 (Okla. 1955), the court defined checking as follows:

The contract entered into when the depositor opens a general checking account at a bank is usually one that is implied; the depositor delivers his money or funds to the bank in return for which the bank assumes the obligation to pay out on his demand or order a sum equal to the deposit balance.

* * *

This court has held that a check is merely an order on the bank to pay money.... [Emphasis added.]

While these definitions of "check" are all framed in reference to banks, that is not an indication that credit union share drafts are per se excluded from the generic category of checking accounts. Rather, it is only an indication that banks and only banks ordinarily offer "checking account services." This of course is no longer the case since credit unions are seeking to provide their members with a variety of services such as share draft accounts which operate with the same convenience as a checking account. It is clear that the purpose and effect of share draft programs is for all practical purposes identical to the ordinary checking account as described in the above-quoted definitions. This same conclusion was reached by the Attorney General of Washington, who held on July 7, 1977, that share drafts constituted "checking accounts" under that state's equivalent to the prohibition of Section 14-613(16).

It should be emphasized that this conclusion is based only upon consideration of a general definition of share draft accounts. It is not based upon an analysis of any specific share draft plan. Therefore, it is possible that there might be a program labeled as a "share draft," but which could be fashioned to avoid the statutory obstacle of Section 14-613(16). Such a plan is being developed in the State of Washington, for example, in the wake of the above-cited opinion from that state's attorney general.

This opinion applies only to state-chartered credit unions organized under Section 14-601 et seq. Pursuant to regulations announced at 42 Fed. Reg. No. 39, p. 11247 (February 28, 1977), it is anticipated that federally-chartered credit unions will soon be empowered to offer share draft accounts to their members. This fact greatly concerns state-chartered credit unions who fear a significant competitive loss to the federal credit unions. This situation is specifically addressed by Section 14-676, which provides:

The director [of the Department of Business Regulation] may authorize any credit union to engage in any activity in which such credit union could engage were it operating as a federal chartered credit union at the time such authority is granted. Such powers shall include but not by way of limitation, the power to do any act, and own, possess and carry as assets, property of such character including stocks, bonds or other debentures which, at the time the authority is granted, are authorized under federal laws and regulations for transactions by federal credit unions notwithstanding any restrictions elsewhere contained in the statutes of the state of Montana except that the director may not charter a credit union not having a common bond of membership as defined in section 15 [14-615] of this act. Upon receipt of a written request from any state chartered credit union, the director shall exercise such power by the issuance of a special order therefor if he deems it reasonably required to preserve and protect the welfare of such an institution and promote the general economy of this state. [Emphasis supplied].

This broad power to allow "any act...notwithstanding any restrictions elsewhere contained in the statutes" clearly encompasses the power to allow state-chartered credit union to offer share draft accounts. Therefore, if the offer of share draft accounts by federally-chartered credit unions threatens the "welfare" of state-chartered credit unions, that situation can be rectified.

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION:

State-chartered credit unions are prohibited by Section 14-613(16), R.C.M. 1947, from offering "share draft" programs.

OPINION NO. 87

COUNTY CORONERS - Impaneling jury, discretion

HELD: The coroner has the power to select jurors by any reasonable mode suitable to perform his duty to impanel a coroner's jury.

10 November 1977

John G. Winston
Silver Bow County Attorney
155 West Granite Street
Butte, Montana 59701

Dear Mr. Winston:

You have requested my opinion on the following question:

May the same persons serve on every coroner's jury, or must there be some means of randomly selecting such jurors?

You state you've observed that in the few instances coroner's inquests are held in Silver Bow County, the same jurors serve on each inquest.

Section 95-803, R.C.M. 1947, provides when an inquest is to be held "the coroner must summon a jury of not more than nine (9) persons, qualified by law to serve as jurors." Juror qualifications are specified in Section 93-1301. Section 93-1604 provides that jurors may be summoned orally by the coroner. The statutes are otherwise silent concerning the qualifications, and means of selecting, coroner's jurors.

The legislature has not provided specific rules governing coroner jury selection. In absence of legislative guidelines, the following rule applies:

[w]hen an official duty is imposed and no mode of exercise is prescribed, the one who is required to perform such duty may adopt any mode reasonably suitable to carry the duty imposed into effect.

Montana Administrative Register

State ex rel. School District No. 8 v. Lensman, 108 Mont. 118, 128, 88 P.2d 63 (1939). The manner of selecting coroner's jurors is therefore within the coroner's discretion. There is no authority to limit or to influence that exercise of discretion by imposing an arbitrary procedure.

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION:

The coroner has the power to select jurors by any reasonable mode suitable to perform his duty to empanel a coroner's jury.

OPINION NO. 89

COUNTIES - Powers to use federal revenue sharing funds to construct a medical building which will be used for public purposes;

FEDERAL AID - Powers of Counties to use federal revenue sharing funds to construct a medical building which will be used for public purposes;

MEDICAL FACILITIES - Powers of Counties to use federal revenue sharing funds to construct a medical building which will be used for public purposes.

SECTIONS - 16-1008A, 16-1037, 16-1038, 69-4507(c), 69-4512, 71-106 and 71-308, R.C.M. 1947.

HELD: Teton County may use federal revenue sharing funds and payments in lieu of taxes to construct the medical building which is described in the October 6, 1977, Resolution of the Teton County Board of County Commissioners. The medical building will be used for public purposes within the scope of powers and duties given the County Commissioners.

10 November 1977

Martin Shannon, Chairman
Bud C. Olson, Vice Chairman
Myron A. Wheeler, Member
Board of County Commissioners
Teton County
Choteau, Montana 59422

Dear Commissioners Shannon, Olson & Wheeler:

You have requested my opinion concerning the authority of Teton County to construct a medical building attached to the new Teton Medical Center Hospital. Included with your request is a copy of an October 6, 1977 Resolution, as amended on October 11, 1977, of the Teton County Board of Commissioners authorizing construction of the facility. The Resolution is lengthy and it sets forth in detail the purposes for which the facility is to be constructed, the need for such facility, and the uses to which the facility will be put. The Board proposes to use federal revenue sharing funds and payments in lieu of taxes to finance the construction.

I have previously issued an opinion concerning the construction of a medical building in Teton County. In that opinion, dated September 9, 1977 and found at 37 Official Opinions of the Attorney General, No. 61, I held that the County lacked authority to expend federal revenue sharing funds and payments in lieu of taxes to finance a medical building which would provide doctors' office and laboratory space. The County proposed to erect such building and lease it to the County's only two doctors. That opinion held that the Industrial Development Projects Act was the sole source of County power to construct facilities for lease to private persons for private purposes. Revenue bond financing is the exclusive source of financing for such projects. That opinion is limited on its facts: The building envisioned therein was a doctor's building to be used by private doctors for their private practices. Use of a building in this exclusive manner is not reasonably incident to any County powers other than the Industrial Projects Act.

Your most recent resolution makes clear that the medical building contemplated by the Commissioners will not be used solely for doctors' private purposes but will house public services and employees and ensure the supply of medical care which the County is obligated by law to provide to the indigent sick and aged. The building proposed in the Board's October 6, 1977 Resolution is a "public building" which the County is empowered to erect and maintain pursuant to Section 16-1008A, R.C.M. 1947.

Section 16-1008A, enumerates specific buildings which counties are empowered to erect. It additionally authorizes counties to erect "such other public buildings as may be necessary."

In my prior opinion I pointed out that under Section 16-1008A:

A county's power to erect a particular building depends upon whether the building is expressly authorized, such as a hospital and jail, or is incidental and necessary to some duty or power expressly mandated by statute. Arnold v. Custer County, 83 Mont. 130, 269 P. 396 (1928); 28 Opinions of the Attorney General, Nos. 13 and 42.

The County's power under Section 16-1008A to build "such other public buildings as may be necessary" must be given meaning. "Every word, phrase, clause, or sentence employed is to be considered and none shall be held meaningless if possible to give effect to it." Fletcher v. Paige, 124 Mont. 114, 119, 220 P. 2d 484 (1950). Since the legislature has expressly provided for specific county buildings in Section 16-1008A, as well as other sections, e.g., Section 16-1037, R.C.M. 1947 (nursing homes); the words "such other public buildings as may be necessary" must grant counties the power to erect buildings which are not specifically described elsewhere in the Code. The scope of that power is delimited by the word "necessary."

In the context of governmental powers, the word necessary is rarely used in the sense of indispensable or strict necessity. Ordinarily, the test of what is "necessary" is one of what is reasonable and appropriate. Thus in State v. Whitcomb, 94 Mont. 415, 428, 22 P.2d 823 (1933), the Montana Supreme Court construed the word "necessary" as used in an eminent domain statute authorizing the State Highway Commission to acquire rights of way where "necessary," as follows:

The statute requires that it be necessary to acquire a right of way; but the word "necessary" does not mean an absolute necessity of the particular location, but means reasonably requisite and proper for the accomplishment of the end in view, under the peculiar circumstances of the case. (Emphasis supplied.)

A similar test has been applied in the context of local governmental powers arising by implication from express powers.

It is well settled that a county board possesses and can exercise such powers and such powers only, as are expressly conferred * * *, or such powers as arise by necessary implication from those expressly granted * * *. (Emphasis supplied.)

Roosevelt County v. State Board of Equalization, 118 Mont. 31, 37, 162 P.2d 887 (1947); and see also State ex rel Bowler v. County Commissioners, 106 Mont. 251, 257, 76 P.2d 648 (1938). In State ex rel Bowler, supra, the Montana Supreme Court discussed the nature of county commissioner's powers:

It is true that a board of county commissioners is one of limited powers and must in every instance justify its action by reference to the provisions of the law defining or granting these powers. (Sullivan v. Big Horn County, 66 Mont. 45, 212 Pac. 1105.) Nevertheless, where there is no question of the existence of the power to do the act proposed, * * *, the board may use its own discretion in selecting the course it shall pursue. The board has the control of the county's property and the management of its business and concerns. * * * Within the scope of its powers it is supreme if the course pursued is reasonably well adopted to the accomplishment of the end proposed.
* * *

Adopting language used in State ex rel Bowler, it is my opinion that the words "such other public buildings as may be necessary," empowers counties to construct such other buildings which are "reasonably well adopted to the accomplishment" of their statutory duties and powers.

On the face of the October 6 Resolution, the proposed medical facility is reasonably and appropriately related to the discharge of specific County duties and powers. The Resolution articulates several specific County purposes which the proposed facility will serve, including the following:

1. The Board intends to contract with the County's doctors for both hospital and outpatient care and treatment of the indigent sick. Pursuant to such agreement, the County will furnish office and laboratory space to the doctors in the proposed facility at a reasonable cost to the doctors. Provision will be made for outpatient care of the indigent sick at the facility and the doctors will provide medical services for the indigent sick at the adjacent hospital. The doctors will also be permitted to conduct their own private practice at the facility.

2. The County maintains a County Nursing Home. The lessee doctors will provide care for the aged sick at the Home.
3. The proposed building will provide space and facilities for the County Health Nurse.
4. The proximity of doctors to the hospital will aid an active Emergency Medical Services program which operates in conjunction with the Teton County Ambulance Service.
5. The Teton County Public Hospital District, located wholly within Teton County, has received a federal grant from the Health Underservice of Rural Areas program. Pursuant to the program a family practitioner and nurse practitioner will provide medical care in rural areas, primarily within Teton County, thereby benefitting rural county residents, including the indigent. The program will be based in the proposed facility.

The uses and purposes to which the Commissioners propose to put the building are public ones.

Counties are obligated to provide hospitalization for the indigent sick. Section 71-106, R.C.M. 1947. The County may discharge that duty by operating a County hospital or by "otherwise provid[ing] for the same." Id. Teton County proposes to discharge its duty by agreement with the Public Hospital District. The hospital must have a staff of doctors to treat its patients. The Board proposes an arrangement for use of the new building to ensure that indigent persons needing hospitalization will receive proper medical treatment.

The County is further obligated to provide out-patient medical treatment for the indigent sick. Section 71-308, R.C.M. 1947, provides in relevant part:

Medical aid and hospitalization. (1) Medical aid and hospitalization for nonresidents within the county and county residents unable to provide such necessities for themselves are the legal and financial duty and responsibility of the board of county commissioners, except as otherwise provided in other parts of this act, payable from the county poor fund. The board of county commissioners shall make provisions for competent and skilled medical or surgical services * * *.

(2) The board, in arranging for medical care for those unable to provide it for themselves, may have the care provided by the physicians appointed by the board who shall be known as county physicians or deputy county physicians, and may fix a rate of compensation for the furnishing of the medical attendance.

The Board proposes an arrangement tying the rental of office space to doctors' agreements to provide medical out-patient care of the County's poor. It also intends to utilize the building for such care and finds that the location of the building will also promote and facilitate more efficient use of doctors' and the hospital's time in diagnosing and treating the indigent sick.

The County operates a County Nursing Home. The Home must first serve the indigent aged; residence for the non-indigent aged may be provided if space is available. Sections 16-1037 and 16-1038, R.C.M. 1947. Provision for medical care for the aged sick is a necessary incident to the operation of the Home.

Teton County also has authority to employ, and does employ, a County Health Nurse under any one of several statutory provisions. E.g. Sections 69-4507(c), 69-4512, 71-106 and 71-308, R.C.M. 1947. The new building will provide the Health Nurse with necessary space and facilities.

Finally, the County is empowered to and does operate an ambulance service. Sections 69-3601 and 69-3602, R.C.M. 1947. The Board finds that centralization of doctors' offices adjacent to the hospital will promote better emergency service through fast and efficient cooperation of doctors, the hospital and Emergency Medical Services personnel.

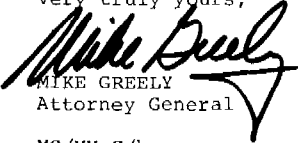

The Board's judgment that the proposed medical building is necessary to the discharge of its statutory duties and powers cannot be said to be arbitrary or a manifest abuse of discretion. See State ex rel Bowler v. Board of County Commissioners of Daniels County, supra. It is therefore my opinion that pursuant to Section 16-1008A, Teton County has the authority to build the medical facility described in the October 6 Resolution.

Since erection of the building described in the Board's Resolution is within the County's powers under Section 16-1008A, it follows that the County may use general funds, federal revenue sharing funds, or federal payments in lieu of taxes, or any combination thereof, to pay for the cost of construction. See 37 Official Opinions of the Attorney General, No. 61, page ____.

THEREFORE, IT IS MY OPINION:

Teton County may use federal revenue sharing funds and payments in lieu of taxes to construct the medical building which is described in the October 6, 1977 Resolution of the Teton County Board of County Commissioners. The medical building will be used for public purposes within the scope of powers and duties given the County Commissioners.

Very truly yours,

MIKE GREELY
